PASS NEW BILL AFTER VETO OF SUBSIDY CURB

House 27 Short of Overriding F. D. R.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—Failing by a margin of 27 votes to upset President Roosevelt's veto of legislation banning food price roll-backs thru subsidies, the house moved swiftly today to provide his administration with the means for carrying out its program while placing on his shoulders full responsibility for holding down prices and otherwise preventing inflation.

Rep. Jesse Wolcott.

Legislation extending the life of the Commodity Credit corporations until the end of the year and providing the funds which can be used for subsidy payments was passed on a voice vote shortly after the chamber voted to sustain the Presidential veto.

Gets 350 Millions.

The amount carried in the temporary CCC extension was 350 million dollars for the six months instead of the 750 millions approved by the two houses under the measure vetoed by the President, which extended the agency for the full two years.

Administration opponents, altho not trying to conceal their antipathy for the roll-back scheme, admitted unhesitatingly that passage of this measure opens the way for subsidies on agricultural commodities for the rest of the year whether congress likes it or not.

Gives Reluctant Support.

"It would be simple folly for us to incorporate another ban on roll-backs and have it vetoed over again," said Rep. Jesse Wolcott [R., Mich.], ranking minority member of the banking committee. "I support this resolution reluctantly but under the circumstances I think it is the best we can do."

Other house members also registered their final protests over the President's insistence upon his program, warning that it cannot succeed and that higher taxes will be the chief results.

"The American people will bear any expense necessary in the winning of the war," said Rep. Ralph E. Church [R., Ill.], "but they will not stand for waste and extravagance. Unless we deal with the problem courageously and promptly we are in danger of losing to burocracy at home the very freedoms for which we are fighting abroad."

Taxes to Pay For It.

"Now that the President is getting his roll-backs and subsidies, the people are going to get the taxation to pay for it," asserted Rep. Hugh D. Scott Jr. [R., Pa.].

Under the administration's plan, consumers will be charged less than the cost of production on certain designated products and the government wil make up the difference out of tax funds in payments to processors. The program is already in effect on meat and butter prices and it is expected that it will be applied to many other commodities, including coffee.

The anti-subsidy ban was written originally into legislation extending the life of the FCC for two years and increasing its lending authority by 750 millions. This was the measure vetoed today by the President, whose message to the legislators, on which he staked prestige and future control of the nation's war economy, was an angry one and filled with recriminations.

Democrats Show Relief.

Under similar circumstances last Friday both the house and senate overrode his veto of the Smith-Connally anti-strike legislation, an action regarded as the most severe setback ever handed his administration by congress.

Excited laughter and applause

NEW POST-WAR PLAN IN SENATE 'PROTECTS' U.S.

World Government Idea Rejected.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—American coöperation with other nations to prevent future aggression "by any necessary means" was proposed by two senate Republicans today as three other senators served notice they would demand a vote by mid-October on the Ball-Burton-Hill-Hatch resolution to preserve post-war peace, by force if necessary.

Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and Wallace White [R., Me.], members of a foreign relations subcommittee considering several similar proposals, introduced a resolution that would put the 78th congress on record as favoring:

"The participation by the United States in post-war coöperation between sovereign nations to prevent, by any necessary means, the recurrence of military aggression and to establish permanent peace with justice in a free world."

The resolution proposed present examination of these aims, so far as is consistent with the war program, "and their ultimate achievement by due congressional process and with faithful recognition of American responsibilities and American interests."

Significance was attached to Vandenberg's co-authorship of the proposal, since he was classed among the "noninterventionists" of the senate before Pearl Harbor.

Shies from Super-Government.

Vandenberg told reporters a great deal of work had gone into the framing of the resolution with the obvious purpose of preparing a proposed commitment that would leave this country free to act in the way it thinks best after the war, would preserve the senate's constitutional right to ratify treaties, and would not be interpreted as inviting the formation of an international super-government.

He interpreted the phrase "by any necessary means" as leaving the way open for establishment of an organization to preserve the peace—thru a world police force, economic sanctions, a world court, or an association of nations—as post-war circumstances might demand.

Shortly after Vandenberg and White had offered their resolution, Senators Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.], Harold H. Burton [R., O.], and Lister Hill [D., Ala.] served notice in the senate they intend to attempt to force action on their proposal a month after congress reconvenes from a summer recess. This resolution would urge this government to take the initiative in organizing the allied nations for immediate coöperation on military, economic, and political problems and post-war collaboration to preserve the peace, by force if necessary.

Method Is Only Issue.

Ball said he thought the time had passed when there was any controversy over the question whether the United States should or would collaborate with other governments to maintain the peace after the war. The only differences are those of methods, he added.

Declaring that if all goes well militarily the President might soon have to take steps toward "negotiating some sort of peace in Europe," Ball said that as of today Mr. Roosevelt "has not the slightest indication of the degree of American participation in peace maintenance machinery the senate might approve."

"If today he had to enter such negotiations, he would do so under a fearful handicap, operating always under the nagging fear that while he might propose or accept certain lines of action, the senate might refuse to ratify," the Minnesota senator said.

Police 'Given' Gas Snooping Power by OPA

The office of price administration late yesterday undertook to enlist state, county, and municipal police as OPA enforcers by authorizing them to question all motorists suspected of violating gasoline rationing regulations.

Raymond S. McKeough, regional OPA director, said the new order purporting to give added power to police was signed in Washington during the afternoon, and that it in effect made a motorist's refusal to produce all of his tire and gasoline records on the demand of any peace officer a violation of OPA regulations.

Report to the OPA.

McKeough said the new regulations have all the effect of a federal law. He said they force peace officers to whose attention alleged violations are brought, to report to the OPA, and to receive coupons and other OPA papers surrendered voluntarily by motorists.

Both OPA and peace officers were warned, however, that the OPA men have no authority to halt motorists. But motorists are required to show their gas books and records on demand of OPA agents.

July 4 Crackdown Stands.

McKeough said there had been no change in OPA plans to bear down on motorists in the Green Bay, Wis., area over the Independence day week-end. His office disclosed there are 350 OPA investigators in the Chicago region, covering seven states, and that about 20 are in the Green Bay area.

A spokesman also said that while no specific instructions had been received from Washington, it was understood in the Chicago office that plans to intercept motorists in the resort area had been given official blessing by OPA higherups.

War Workers' Vacation Driving.

In a prepared statement earlier in the day, McKeough said the war workers, many of whom have B or C rations and who have been asked to curtail their vacations, will be permitted, under OPA regulations, no more than 90 miles of vacation driving a month.

On the other hand, McKeough admitted, A ration book holders, few of whom are engaged in essential industry, may save their coupons and thus buy gasoline for 240 miles of vacation driving a month.

Many war workers, McKeough said, have allotments of gasoline for occupational driving. He admitted, however, that their supplemental rations are curtailed in such fashion that each must use for occupational driving each month 150 miles in gasoline represented by A book coupons.

Comments of local police officials last night follow:

John C. Prendergast, chief of Chicago uniformed police: "The federal government has United States marshals to do that work. However, if we get a request for help we'll decide what to do then."

Hugh T. McCarthy, chief of county highway police: "If the action is legal and we're called on for help I suppose we'll have to help, the same as we would do for any other governmental organization."

A JUDGE CROWS TOO SOON AND HAS HIS NEIGHBORS CACKLING!

The famous bunny that makes the rounds on Easter morn left six baby chicks at the home of Circuit Judge Robert Jerome Dunne, 800 Hutchinson street. The four Dunne children were delighted. So was the judge.

"When the chicks grow up," he mused, "we'll have wonderful fresh eggs for breakfast."

As the days rolled by, the chicks grew, and the judge kept counting the eggs he was going to eat. Recently a committee of neighbors called at the Dunne home. They were polite, talked about the weather and how early the dawn comes in June and July, and how hard it is to sleep on hot nights.

"My hens will soon be producing," said the judge, changing the subject.

"Your hens!" said the committee. "That's what we came to see you about. They wake us up at dawn. Every one of them is a rooster!"

TRAINS JAMMED IN EAST FOR 4TH; PLEAS IGNORED

New York, July 2 [Special].—In the face of repeated pleas and warnings, especially to easterners, to avoid unnecessary travel that might interfere with the war program, railroad officials today said the influx and exodus of travelers to and from New York for Independence day was the greatest in the history of Grand Central terminal, not only for a single day but for any holiday week-end.

Officials estimated travel at 30 per cent above the last July 4 week-end. Signs posted by train gates warned of standing room only on trains, but this did not deter the eager throngs with their thousands of pieces of luggage.

Judy's a Lady, but She Sleeps Out in the Park

Judy, who is a lady at all times, came to Chicago last night from her country estate. Altho accustomed to luxury, she walked in. And even more shocking to her friends will be the news that Judy had to spend part of her first night in a park—Garfield park.

Lady Judy walked because when some city boys tried to entice her into a car, she broke away from them, bashed a fender and headlight on the car. Then she started walking.

Incidentally, Judy is an elephant.

True Elephant Lady.

Lady Judy was born in India about 25 or 30 years ago in the lowlands, from where all true lady elephants come. Highland elephants are rowdies. Brought to America when a mere slip of two tons, she worked for a living in small circuses and wagon shows. Twelve years ago she became mistress of a private zoo in Nashua, N. H., where she carried children on her head. In 1934 she came to Brookfield zoo. She was the only elephant on hand when the zoo opened. Always, said Robert Bean, the associate director, Judy was a lady, even when she fell in a moat.

Yesterday Judy was sold to Lincoln park zoo for $2,500, f. o. b. Lincoln Director Floyd Young wanted her to replace Deed-a-Day, purchased by Boy Scouts in 1924, who died last July.

Mr. Young and Keepers Carl Strasser, Paul Detambi and Harvey Carlisle invited Judy to ride in a truck trailer—one used to haul switch engines. Judy refused. The city boys put a steel cable around her neck and enticed her onto the trailer with a winch. Judy broke the sides from the trailer, slid off, kicked in a fender and a headlight.

Judy Can Walk.

Promptly at 7 p. m. Judy, who hadn't walked a mile a day for the last nine years, started on her 18 mile hike with gusto.

Her entourage, afraid city lights and noises might frighten her, had stout rope handy, even a shotgun. But Judy strolled on, ignoring cars, trains, street cars, buses, kids who trotted at her feet—even an advertising car with loudspeaker which swung in behind to take advantage of the free attraction. At Des Plaines avenue and Washington boulevard, Judy stopped at Bill Higgins' filling station for a drink of water. She nodded her thanks. Early today she was safely bedded in Lincoln park zoo.

Bill Provides Exemption for Rest of Year

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—By a vote of 11 to 5 the senate military affairs committee today favorably reported the bill, introduced by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], which would delay the draft of fathers until after Jan. 1, 1944.

While no action is expected on the bill before congress adjourns for the summer, it was generally considered that the committee vote had delayed the draft of fathers until after the first of the year.

Man Power Commissioner Paul V. McNutt and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the selective service system, have announced that the draft of fathers, expected to begin Aug. 1, would be delayed until Oct. 1. Congress is expected to return early in September in time to take up the Wheeler bill before draft of dads begins.

Passage Believed Certain.

It is widely believed that the Wheeler bill will be passed because of the heavy support it received thruout the country when it was introduced. Wheeler twice was persuaded to withdraw his measure when it was attached as an amendment to other legislation because of its controversial nature.

Since that time the draft has been slowed by selective service officials, under heavy fire that the man power problem was being handled with "waste, inefficiency, and confusion" by the administration.

Wheeler's measure provides that any man, married prior to Dec. 8, 1941, who has a child under 18 years of age, and has maintained a bona fide family relationship with his family since that date, shall be exempt from the draft until Jan. 1, 1944.

3,600,000 More Needed.

The committee vote was taken as the war man power commission estimated that an additional 3,600,000 persons will have to be placed in military service and munitions industries in the next 12 months to meet the nation's labor requirements.

WMC estimated two million additional men and women will be needed in uniform by July 1, 1944, and 1,600,000 will be needed in war industries. It was said 2,300,000 persons would be drained from non-war industries and 1,300,000 persons not now employed, mostly women, would have to enter industry.

The WMC estimate would raise the army and navy to 11,300,000. This is a downward revision of estimates of over 13,000,000. Under the higher estimate the army and navy had opposed Wheeler's proposals to delay the draft of fathers.

Include Half of Population.

The WMC's planned additions during the year would bring the total number of persons in military service, industry, and agriculture to a new peak of 65,900,000, or approximately half the population 12 months hence.

The WMC divided the present military and working force and that for July, 1944, as follows:

	July, 1943	July, 1944
	[In millions]
Military forces	9.3	11.3
Munitions indus.	10.0	11.6
Other nonfarm work	32.3	30.0
Agriculture	12.0	12.0
Total employed and military	63.6	64.9
Unemployed	1.0	1.0
Total man power requirements	64.6	65.9

WMC officials said the proposed increase of 2 millions in the army and navy reflects official estimates from military chiefs and includes WACs, WAVES, and other women's services.

Of the 2 millions scheduled to go into uniform in the next year, 1½ millions will be added by Dec. 31 and the remainder in the following six months.

Altho net increase in over-all labor needs for the next year is relatively small—1,300,000, compared with an actual increase of 7,800,000 in the last 12 months—officials said the man power problem will be intensified for several reasons.

First, they said, the nation is now "scraping near the bottom of its man power barrel." Second, large scale shifts of workers from plant to plant and area to area will be required. And, third, the needed increases in employment are largely concentrated in industries located where man power shortages already exist.

Enemy Bombs U.S. Beachhead.

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, July 3 [Saturday]—(AP).—Matching successes already scored in the central Solomons, the allies have made progress on the Salamaua, New Guinea, battlefront of the Pacific offensive by a junction of inland forces with the beachhead achieved at Nassau bay, the high command announced today.

Australian jungle troops which for long have been at Mubo, south and inland from Salamaua, have fought their way to Nassau bay, 12 miles down the coast, where Americans landed Wednesday, the noon communique reported.

This juncture made a more compact front against Salamaua whose capture would afford the allies a base in the Huon gulf of northeastern New Guinea within fighter plane range of Japanese held New Britain.

Japs Bomb Beachhead.

The Japanese, who had been caught completely by surprise in the New Guinea landing, sent its air force to bomb the American beachhead.

"Elements of our ground forces moving overland from Mubo captured and consolidated the area at the mouth of the south arm of Bitoi river, effecting contact with our forces at Nassau bay," the communique said. "Ten enemy planes raided the area."

On the central Solomons front, 22 more Japanese planes were reported downed.

Pinning down Japanese planes at the base which could best serve the enemy to parry the allied blows, four engined bombers struck for the third straight day at Rabaul, New Britain. They sent 33 tons of bombs down on Vunakanau and Rapopo airdromes. Many fires and explosions resulted and five searchlights were put out of action in the night raid.

All Planes Return.

The night before, 22 tons were dropped on three Rabaul airdromes and in the first raid, timed with the opening of the Pacific offensive, 23 tons were loosed on that big air and shipping fortress.

Warding off night fighters, all our planes returned.

The air arm continued to strike widespread blows in direct support of ground actions. Mitchell medium bombers attacked Japanese installations in the vicinity of Salamaua, causing explosions and fires and silencing anti-aircraft positions.

On the ground, sharp clashes of patrols were reported at Bobdubi, a jungle outpost only five miles from the air base of Salamaua.

In the central Solomons, where the allies have captured Rendova Island and Viru harbor on New Georgia to menace the enemy air base of Munda, "The ground situation is unchanged," the communique said.

Allies Lose 8 Planes.

"Our fighters intercepted a group of enemy planes over Rendova Island, shot down 14 fighters and eight dive bombers. We lost eight planes, but three pilots are safe.

"At Bairoko anchorage north of Munda, medium bombers with a fighter escort attacked and sank an enemy cargo vessel of about 1,500 tons."

In the Arafura sea, between Australia and New Guinea, mention was made of an allied convoy.

A two-engined bomber on escort patrol with the convoy shot down one of two Japanese float planes. Other enemy aircraft attempting to attack were reported driven off by the fighter cover.

Yanks Bomb Munda.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The navy said today American dive bombers assaulted Japanese defense positions in the Munda area of the central Solomons, as the twin pronged offensive in the Solomons and in the New Guinea area continued.

Early yesterday afternoon, the communique said, Dauntless [Douglas] dive bombers "attacked Japanese defensive positions at Lambeti plantation, Munda, New Georgia Island." Later "a formation of Avenger [Grumman TBF] torpedo bombers and Dauntless dive bombers attacked Japanese defensive positions and camp sections at Vila, Kolobangara Island."

Lambeti plantation, which has been attacked by American flyers on previous occasions, was described by a naval spokesman as a native village about three to five miles east of Munda air field. Vila, which is several miles to the northwest of Munda, is one of the key positions in the Munda area—a port village as well as a defensive base.

Down 123 Planes.

SOUTH PACIFIC HDQ., July 2 (AP).—Adm. William F. Halsey's headquarters announced today that 123 Japanese planes were shot down over the New Georgia Islands on Wednesday and Thursday against American losses of 25 planes and 15 pilots.

A total of 101 enemy planes were knocked out of the sky on Wednesday, the day our forces landed in the central Solomons, and 17 American planes were destroyed but seven of their pilots were saved.

The next day the Japanese lost an additional 22 aircraft. American losses in the continuing air battle were eight planes, the pilots of three of which landed safely.

On the first day of the invasion, the enemy divided his attacks between ship and land targets. Land positions only were raided yesterday.

Only One Ship Sunk.

The navy transport McCawley, which sank without loss of a man after an aerial attack on the first day of the Rendova landings, was the only American ship lost in the operation, headquarters announced.

Land action by the Americans on Rendova was reported today to have consisted mainly of mopping up operations.

The Americans were said so far to have encountered nothing stronger than patrols.

The entire American operation was described officially as "successful and proceeding according to plan."

The Americans were said to have made as nearly perfect landings as could be hoped for at several points on Rendova. The island is separated from the Japanese air base at Munda on New Georgia proper by about seven miles of water. Munda was shelled yesterday.

Japs Admit Setback.

LONDON, July 3 [Saturday]—(AP).—The German controled Vichy radio quoted a spokesman at Japanese far eastern headquarters early today as saying that allied forces had gained "initial successes" in the South Pacific fighting, but that a major naval battle was expected soon.

The broadcast dispatch, recorded by Reuters [British] news agency, quoted the spokesman as saying the allies had "superiority in men and material" in the area.

AXIS MINIMIZES LOSSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Axis broadcasts, perhaps intended to cushion an announcement of the loss of further southwest Pacific territory by the Japanese, sought today to minimize the importance of the United States offensive in the New Guinea-Solomons area.

A Japanese communique, broadcast by the Tokio radio, claimed that Japanese forces had sunk an additional two American cruisers, three destroyers, and three transports in the Rendova Island area. The broadcast, recorded by NBC, also said one American destroyer was damaged and three severely damaged.

MORE SHIPS AND PLANES ON WAY TO PACIFIC: KNOX

San Francisco, Cal., July 2 (AP).—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox said today "much more" in ships, planes, and submarines "is now on the way to the Pacific" to intensify the battle against the Japanese.

"We are exerting a major effort in the Pacific, and this effort will be increased and intensified as time goes on," he said in an address at a chamber of commerce luncheon.

"It is certainly true there have been occasions when we have lacked the men and the material that we felt we needed. There were times in the past when we simply did not have available the men, the ships, and the planes that we wanted to send to the Pacific area. But the day of shortages is nearing an end."

The navy secretary, here on a tour of west coast war plants and military installations, said that during June the navy accepted combat planes at the rate of approximately 20,000 a year. This figure, he said, may be expected to go still higher in the next six months.

ADMITS U. S. AID FAR SURPASSES AUSTRALIA HELP

CANBERRA, Australia, July 2 (AP).—Premier John Curtin today said Australia is receiving lend-lease benefits from the United States two or three times greater than Australia is able to give, but each country is contributing its utmost to the allied cause.

He added that there was no adequate measuring stick for each country's contribution and that it would be contrary to the whole spirit of lend-lease that money value comparisons be made.

Reveal British Troops in Iran Moved to Tunisia

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—The first authentic intimation that at least some of Britain's army in Iran had moved into Tunisia, 2,500 miles across the sands of the middle east, was given today in a letter published by the Daily Telegraph. The letter described a move of the Royal Fusiliers, a London battalion, and was accompanied by an editor's note that "this is the first public reference to the journey which has been permitted."

BRITISH IRKED BY DEAN INGE'S STAND ON RAIDS

'You'll Be Sorry,' He Says of Bombings.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 2.—Dr. William R. Inge, former dean of St. Paul's cathedral, London, today stirred the ire of those who are clamoring for still more intensive bombing of the axis. He warned the British public it would be "very sorry" after the war for the destruction wrought in Cologne, Lubeck, Naples, Genoa, and other German and Italian cities.

His predictions were contained in a two column article on "Hatred" in the Church of England newspaper.

It drew sharp condemnation from the London Star which editorially identified the dean with "some of our public men," who, it said, "are joining Goebbels at the wailing wall." The British people, the Star contended, "already have much over which to sorrow, and their tears have been caused by the vandals infesting the beautiful cities Inge enumerates."

Recalls 50,000 Dead.

The Star recalled that nearly 50,000 Britishers died in air raids and added: "We sorrow, too, over our bomb blasted treasures at Exeter, Norwich, York, and Canterbury and the gems with which Sir Christopher Wren endowed London. Our list of beauty smashed and defiled is longer than the enemy's. If Inge feels deeply about our own country's wounds, he does not say so."

"If the bombing of German and Italian towns is a military necessity, I suppose there is no more to be said. But when I think of the beautiful cities of those two countries and the friendly welcome we had there; when I think of the ruined cathedrals of Lubeck and Mainz, of the church of St. Gereon in Cologne, of the house of the painter Durer, of the beautiful patrician mansions in Genoa, Naples, and Palermo, I believe when the war is over, we shall be very sorry for what we have done."

"Hatred Too Costly."

European civilization, he insisted, "is one and indivisible" and "when one member suffers, all the members suffer with it." Asserting "hatred is too expensive a luxury for statesmen," Dean Inge said, "We must bear one another's burdens, moral as well as physical, and whenever possible, must try to overcome evil with good."

Referring to Inge's statement that if bombing is a military necessity, there is no more to be said, the Star concluded, "Then why talk as tho the R. A. F. invented night bombing and delights in indiscriminate slaughter and havoc as did those who tried to lay England to waste?"

GIRAUD ON WAY TO U. S., ALGIERS STORY INDICATES

ALGIERS, July 2 (AP).—Gen. Henri Giraud, just prior to his departure for Washington, reorganized his "private cabinet," it was announced officially today.

[The wording of this announcement indicated Gen. Giraud was already en route to the United States.]

Brig. Gen. Rene Chambe, his former minister of information, was appointed chief of the military cabinet, replacing Col. Francois de Linares, "who was called to other duties." Guillaume George-Picot was appointed chief of the civilian cabinet.

Chambe, a veteran of the French air force since 1914, escaped from his homeland to join Giraud last spring. Picot, 44 year old career diplomat, served in posts at Moscow, Chungking, and Washington, coming from the United States after the allied landings to become Giraud's assistant secretary for foreign relations.

Block Strait

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, July 2 (AP).—The Strait of Levkas, off the west coast of Greece, was left blocked today, thus forcing axis coastwise shipping to skirt the island and expose itself to allied submarines and war planes after an R. A. F. attack had caused an enemy transport to capsize at the entrance.

This was accomplished yesterday by planes of the middle east command while, across the Mediterranean, United States airmen bagged four more axis planes and British coastal command planes shot up two axis schooners and left them sinking. This followed an attack Wednesday night by the R. A. F. on Cagliari, main Sardinian port.

The Italian communique, broadcast from Rome, reported Palermo and Catania, Sicily, had been raided again last night. United States planes attacked the Greek coast "near Athens" today, a Berlin broadcast said.

CHICAGOAN AND 33 OTHERS GIVEN PURPLE HEARTS

New York, July 2 (AP).—Pvt. Anibal Irizarry of the Bronx was awarded the distinguished service cross today for bravery in silencing single handed an enemy machine gun nest in North Africa, and 33 other men were awarded Purple Hearts at ceremonies at Halloran General hospital, Staten Island.

Col. Ralph G. Devoe, commandant of the army hospital, made the awards.

Others who received the Purple Heart included Pvt. Banoden T. Olsen of 1836 North Springfield street, Chicago; Staff Sergt. Cleo Roberts of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Corp. Joseph Hrvatin of Salem, O.

CHINESE PUT JAP YANGTZE BATTLE LOSSES AT 55,870

CHUNGKING, China, July 2 (AP).—The Japanese lost a total of 55,870 men in heavy fighting along the upper Yangtze river between May 4 and June 30, a Chinese army spokesman declared today.

The spokesman said the Chinese had taken only 48 prisoners in the Yangtze battle, but had captured considerable war material.

At the same time he reported a fresh outbreak of action near Hangchow, Japanese occupied capital of Chekiang province about 100 miles southwest of Shanghai. Chinese guerrillas, the spokesman said, captured the town of Tama, about 20 miles northeast of Hangchow.

CATROUX GOES TO SYRIA.

DESTROY 17,960 AXIS PLANES IN 45 MOS. OF WAR

U. S., British Losses Set at 9,850.

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—United States and British air forces and allied anti-aircraft units destroyed a known total of 17,960 German, Italian and Japanese airplanes from the start of the war to the end of June [45 months], a compilation from official communiques disclosed tonight.

Thousands more axis planes were destroyed by the Russians, an additional 985 by the royal navy, and others by United States navy guns and planes in the first month of the Pacific war which were not included in the total, and by the French air force before the collapse of France. Accurate records of these tolls are not available.

Known United States and British losses are 9,850 planes, but this does not include United States losses in the Pacific and in Burma.

CHICAGO ACE, 24, WINS MAJORITY, NEW DECORATION

More military honors have been won by George V. Williams, one of Chicago's most noted fighter pilots overseas, according to a letter received yesterday by his wife, Kitty, and his aunt, Mrs. C. E. Howard, both of 4700 Kenwood avenue.

He has been promoted from captain to major. He was 24 years old June 6 last and is believed to be one of the youngest majors in the air force. In addition he has received a supplemental order to the distinguished flying cross.

Maj. Williams' decorations now include the distinguished flying cross, the supplemental order, two special citations, the airman's medal, three oak leaf clusters, and the silver star. Referring to them he modestly wrote, "It only proves that any jerk can get a chestful of medals provided he has a chest." Maj. Williams fought in Africa, helped bomb Pantelleria, and commanded what was known as the "hottest" allied fighter squadron in Africa.

OFFICER IN WAC QUITS; BECOMES MAJOR IN ARMY!

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, July 2—(AP).—Lt. Margaret Janeway was discharged from the WAC yesterday and became a major in the army medical corps—The first woman to become an army doctor in the North African Theater and the second in the entire United States Army.

Her transfer gratified a long ambition. She had practiced extensively in New York City at the Lenox Hill and St. Luke's Hospitals.

Maj. Janeway's grandfather, Col. John H. Janeway, was an army surgeon in the Civil war and she always wanted to follow his career.

Naturalized Italian Acts to Test Rule's Validity.

New York, July 2 (AP).—Dr. Zeffrino Aversa, Philadelphia, Pa., physician and naturalized Italian veteran of World War I., contested in federal court today the validity of an executive order under which Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the eastern defense command area, excluded him from that area.

Dr. Aversa's action was taken thru his attorney, Arthur Garfield Hays.

[Hays is national director of the American Civil Liberties union.]

Seek to Speed Case.

United States Atty. Howard F. Corcoran announced that the government would enter an immediate appearance in federal court in behalf of Gen. Drum in an effort to expedite a determination in the matter.

Corcoran said that Dr. Aversa had been ordered to leave the military area by last June 13 and added that his failure to comply subjected him to criminal prosecution.

Corcoran said Drum's executive order was issued in accordance with President Roosevelt's executive order No. 9066. He added:

"The executive order authorizes the exclusion procedure in order to combat possible subversive activities by persons within the area . . ."

Reports Army Inquiry.

The federal attorney said that before the order was issued an investigation was conducted and the evidence reviewed by the army and the federal attorney.

He declared that "Dr. Aversa was given a hearing before an army exclusion board at which he had full opportunity to make any statements he cared to make and to produce any and all evidence he thought relative."

KAISER DENIES 4 LIBERTY SHIPS CRACK UP AT SEA

Portland, Ore., July 2 (AP).—Henry J. Kaiser demanded tonight that Rep. James E. Van Zandt [R., Pa.] publicly retract a charge that four Liberty freighters built by Kaiser's Oregon Shipbuilding corporation here have cracked up at sea. The shipbuilder said not one ship was lost in this manner.

Van Zandt, member of a congressional subcommittee investigating ship construction in maritime commission yards, made the charge at a hearing yesterday.

"I can take it so far as personal criticism is concerned," Kaiser said. "But I cannot take it when a supposedly informed member of congress walks into this city of ships and in effect tells our 90,000 workers here they are building ships which go down at sea—which are not safe to travel on and not doing the war job. That is a libel. The other two congressmen sitting with him [Van Zandt] disavowed any connection with the charges when the facts were laid before them by Edgar Kaiser. But Mr. Van Zandt endeavored to avoid any outright admission of error."

Edgar J. Kaiser, general manager of three of his father's shipyards in the Portland area, denied at the hearing that any of Oregon Shipbuilding's craft had been lost thru structural failure.

ADMIRALS MEET ON MARTINIQUE'S NEW DEAL TODAY

Britain Shows Interest on Eve of Parley.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—A new deal on Martinique, long a trouble-spot in the Caribbean, seemed imminent tonight as the navy announced Vice Adm. John H. Hoover would talk with Adm. Georges Robert, French high commissioner, about the latter's offer to arrange terms for a "change of French authority" in the island colony Robert administers.

The conference will be held tomorrow in Martinique, Adm. Hoover announced from his 10th naval district headquarters, according to a dispatch from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

French Leaders Clear Way.

Britain's interest in a clarification of the Martinique tangle was indicated when Ambassador Halifax called on Secretary of State Cordell Hull to day to discuss the situation. This was in line with the Anglo-American coöperation already evidenced in the North African situation arising out of rivalry between Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud.

Both De Gaullists and Giraudists headquarters here previously had indicated the choice of a successor for Robert—should he withdraw to make room for a regime willing to collaborate with the allies—would be left to the new French committee of national liberation in Algiers.

A Martinique broadcast on Wednesday night, announcing Robert had asked the United States to send an envoy to "fix terms for a change of French authority," was the first indication he might be willing to let a pro-ally French regime take over.

What Hoover Will Do.

The navy announcement indicated, however, that Hoover will merely talk with Robert, find out what he has in mind and what the situation is, and report back on that. He is not going in compliance with Robert's request for an envoy to negotiate the change of authority. It is expected that it will be several days before any change occurs.

Martinique is expected to remain under a strictly French administration.

BRITISH RAIDERS BLAST TARGETS IN 3 COUNTRIES

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—Royal air force bombers and fighters attacked enemy rail supply and communications targets in France and the Netherlands and Belgium today.

The air ministry news service said R. A. F. Typhoons hit an oil storage tank near Ijmuiden, Holland, starting a fire. Boston bombers attacked rail tracks, engine sheds, and rail junctions at Ghent and Courtrai, Belgium, and at Lille, France.

Survive Sinkings

Three sailors who survived the sinking of their ships after being wounded in action and two marines who were wounded on Guadalcanal yesterday received Purple Heart awards in the United States naval hospital at the Great Lakes naval training station.

James J. Jobe, 1012 North State street, and Lester Miller of Clarksville, Mich., were wounded when the aircraft carrier Wasp was sunk last Sept. 15. Alex J. Czajkowski, South Bend, Ind., was wounded when the U. S. S. Alchiba was torpedoed.

Pvt. Edward A. Swanson, 556 Forsythe avenue, Calumet City, was wounded by shrapnel on Guadalcanal last Nov. 3, and Pvt. Dwight A. Myer, 1828 Hood avenue, was hit by rifle fire when advancing in enemy territory last Jan 22. Award of the medals was made by Capt. W. E. Eaton, commander of the hospital.

BERLIN REPORTS NAZI RETREAT IN SMOLENSK AREA

LONDON, July 3 [Saturday] (AP).—The German radio acknowledged last night that Nazi troops had "fallen back to strongly fortified new positions" near Dorogobuzh, on the Moscow front about 50 miles northeast of Smolensk—an area where the German high command earlier had reported repeated soviet attacks had been repelled.

The flareup of fighting in this critical sector was not specifically mentioned in the Russian midnight communique recorded here by the soviet monitor. It said, however, soviet infantry occupied German trenches in one sector of the "western front," the Russian term for the Moscow front. Six hundred Germans were reported killed before the Russians returned to their lines with prisoners.

Fighting at the south end of the front also was reported by the Germans, who claimed to have repulsed soviet troops which had made "a landing near Novorossisk," the Nazis' last foothold in the Caucasus.

U. S. AIR OFFICER APPOINTED CHIEF OF PANTELLERIA

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, July 2 (AP).—Brig. Gen. A. C. Strickland, veteran United States army airman, has been appointed garrison commander and military governor of Pantelleria, the Italian island which surrendered June 11 under the allied aerial offensive, it was announced today.

R. A. F. Wing Commander J. D. Bisdee occupies a similar post at Lampedusa, which capitulated the day after Pantelleria fell.

The things we hold dear . . . the things symbolized by the flag we salute so fervently . . . these are the things that make our country great. QUIZ THOUSANDS IN GALVIN CASE WITHOUT AVAIL

Courtney Discloses Vast Dragnet for Killers.

Lie detector tests have been given to more than 300 men and several thousand persons have been questioned in the relentless drive to solve the murder of Mrs. Lillian Galvin and her maid, Miss Edna Sibilski, State's Atty. Courtney disclosed yesterday.

Mrs. Galvin, wife of Paul V. Galvin, wealthy radio manufacturer, and Miss Sibilski were shot to death in the Galvins' Evanston home last Oct. 22. Since that day, 10 detectives from the state's attorney's office, directed by Capt. Daniel Gilbert and Lt. Tom Kelly, have devoted all their time to the case.

Chief of Police Carl Ekman of Evanston has had three teams of detectives at work constantly. In addition, an insurance company, which posted a $15,000 reward for capture of the slayer, has kept a crew of sleuths working.

Clews Followed Over Nation.

The file on the case has grown to enormous proportions. Clews have been followed as far as New England. Everybody associated with the Galvins, however remotely, has been interviewed. Charts have been made listing every person in the vicinity of the Galvin home, every person employed by merchants making regular deliveries in the neighborhood, even employes of the Galvin factory.

In spite of the manhunt, probably the most extensive in Chicago history, detectives assigned to the case admitted they were as far from a solution of the mysterious crime as on the day it was committed. Every clew has led into a blind alley; every person to whom suspicion has pointed has been cleared by investigation.

State's Atty. Courtney has forbidden his men to relax, and he requires Capt. Gilbert to report daily on what is being done.

"Hot" Loot Kept Hidden.

Police are convinced of one thing: Whoever the killer was, he has not yet reaped any financial profit from the crime, altho he carried away with him jewelry valued at $28,000 and furs valued at $3,350. Descriptions of all the loot have been distributed so widely that, as one policeman said, "it is the hottest merchandise in the United States."

Not one item of the stolen goods has appeared in the jewelry or fur markets, disappointing the police who hoped the killer might try to sell some of his loot.

Several circumstances of the crime have continued to puzzle the police. Jewelry bandits rarely shoot, and they usually carry small caliber weapons. The killer used a .45 caliber pistol.

Mrs. Galvin had been robbed of her jewelry once before, and was under instructions from her husband never to resist a robber. There was no sign that she did resist, and she was shot in the back. Miss Sibilski was shot in the chest. Both women were beaten on the head, apparently with the killer's pistol.

Murder Carefully Planned.

That the crime was carefully planned was indicated by the fact that it was committed on a day of the week when Miss Sibilski usually was absent, leaving Mrs. Galvin alone in the house. The maid had arranged, however, to change her day off in order to serve as a bridesmaid at her sister's wedding.

Police worked for weeks on the theory that the intruder recognized one of the women and killed them to avoid identification. But interviews with everybody connected, even most remotely, with the Galvin and Sibilski families disclosed no one who could be linked with the murders.

"Crimes always seem mysterious until they're solved," said one policeman on the case. "When they're solved, they're simple. That's the way this case will turn out."

A Re-Declaration of Independence

WE, the undersigned, citizens of our respective States and of the United States, bound together by an unalterable determination to fight this war to a victorious conclusion, do make this declaration.

ON July 4, 1776 our fathers met in Philadelphia and declared America's independence.

As sovereigns they erected in each colony a republican government of limited powers, reserving to themselves their natural and inalienable rights.

They fought an exhausting war and made good their declaration.

Then, in order to form a more perfect union, they adopted a Constitution to secure the blessings of liberty to themselves and their posterity.

Under that Constitution the people of this country have enjoyed more freedom and greater opportunities and a higher general level of well-being than men have gained under any other system of society.

THE principles of liberty and free government thus established are now being violated and destroyed by public servants whom we have entrusted with high national office, and by their appointees.

They have erected a multitude of new offices and have sent among us a swarm of officers and federal employees who harass the people and eat out their substance.

They exercise legislative powers so that today many of the laws controlling our business and domestic lives are made, interpreted and enforced by bureaucrats who are neither known nor responsible to the people they govern.

They have gained power over the public purse so that billions of dollars of the people's money have been wastefully expended for purposes unauthorized by, and unknown to, the people's representatives.

The courts have been rendered subservient to the Executive and have become subordinate agencies of that branch of government, instead of being the impartial tribunals to which we rightfully look for protection against executive or legislative tyranny.

The press is harassed, its freedom threatened, and the radio controlled.

The wage-earner is being forced into associations not of his own choosing.

The farmer is being deprived of his right to manage his land and dispose of his crops.

The employer is being deprived of authority so to manage his business as to provide goods and services to the extent necessary for the armed forces and the civilian population.

The autonomy of our respective States, guaranteed by the Tenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution, has been curtailed by Federal authority without warrant of law, so that State officials are no longer able to protect our domestic interests.

Thus, the form of government which our fathers founded to insure liberty to the individual is being changed into one in which, under the guise of social reform and on the pretext of the needs of war, freedom is being concentrated in the executive as the symbol of the State.

AS sovereign citizens of our respective States and of the United States, we demand of all of our elective officials, both State and Federal, the resumption and exercise of their powers in accordance with our constitutional system.

We demand the re-establishment of the legislative, judicial and executive as separate and coordinate branches of government equal in dignity and power.

We demand that the Bills of Rights in our respective State constitutions and the Bill of Rights in the Federal Constitution be scrupulously observed.

We demand that all our foreign policies, political and economic, be related definitely to our American needs and ideals, and with the objective of protecting and perpetuating the form of government and economic policies which have made our country great.

We demand that our foreign policies, whether political or economic, shall not be permitted to destroy or impair either our form of government or our standard of living.

A PROPER respect for the future of mankind makes it fitting, this July 4, 1943, that we reexamine our present state and re-dedicate ourselves with a new devotion, not only in word but in deed, to the basic principles, held by our forebears, which have too long been forgotten or ignored.

Therefore, we pledge ourselves to organize Committees of Correspondence to advance these, our faiths, throughout the country. And we call on all persons of like mind and faith, to join with us.

Believing that absolute arbitrary power over the lives, liberty and property of free men exists nowhere in a republic, not even in the largest majority, and that the maintenance of our free institutions and the perpetuity of the union depend upon the preservation of the rights of local self-government, unimpaired to all the States, we have hereto set our names.

This statement of principles was adopted at a recent special meeting of the board of directors of the National Economic Council, Inc., in Chicago.

ASK AMERICANS TO REDECLARE INDEPENDENCE

Group Assails Curbs on Production.

In 1772-'73, when the fires of independence were rising in the American colonies, standing committees were appointed to consult with each other and to take joint action in emergency. They were called committees of correspondence.

New committees of correspondence are being formed as a result of the emergency of 1943. They are sponsored by the National Economic council, which made public yesterday a statement of beliefs called "A Re-Declaration of Independence."

The statement called upon Americans to rededicate themselves to the basic principles held by their forebears and demanded that all elective officials exercise their powers according to the Constitution, under which "the people of this country have enjoyed more freedom and greater opportunities and a higher general level of wellbeing than men have gained under any other system of government."

Appeal for Signatures.

Merwin K. Hart is president of the National Economic council, which has headquarters in New York and a Chicago office at 231 South La Salle street. The council's board of directors, which recently met here, drafted the re-declaration of independence and directed that it be distributed to all parts of the country for signing.

On motion of George N. Peek, who headed the agricultural adjustment administration in the early years of the Roosevelt administration and was foreign trade adviser to the President in 1933-'34, the board recommended the following measures:

1. That production control be abandoned.
2. That the responsible authorities coördinate and announce the needs of various commodities in the order of their importance.
3. That the government announce minimum prices it will pay for its requirements and guarantee for the balance of the crop of various commodities, up to the end of the marketing season following the end of the war.
4. That the farmer be supplied with an adequate number of men and a sufficient supply of machinery.

Favor Limiting Tax Power.

Another resolution, adopted by the board, committed the organization to work for amendment of the 16th amendment to the Constitution and of other laws that now give congress the power to tax incomes, estates and gifts "beyond a reasonable amount."

TWO DAY CLEANING SCHEDULE FORECAST BY DYEING PLANTS

A man may be able to send his suit to the cleaners next week and expect to get it back in two days, Frank Fisher, president of the Dry Cleaning and Dyeing Plant Owners' association, said last night. The service has taken as long as three weeks during the spring rush in some plants, he said.

The labor supply in all plants is at a minimum, according to Fisher, but some will return to comparatively normal schedules next week because business has leveled off. On June 11, dry cleaners agreed to eliminate 12 types of services, and many have reduced their delivery routes.

Laundry owners reported a continuing labor shortage, and a committee is considering additional elimination of services. John T. Toomey, secretary of the Chicago Laundry Owners' association, said most of the delivery and finishing services which the war man power commission last week asked the laundry industry to eliminate were discarded in Chicago long ago.

PROFESSOR BAN THREAT TO PRICE CONTROL: BROWN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—Prentiss M. Brown, price administrator, today objected to restrictions in the pending OPA appropriation bill which would force him to discharge OPA's numerous professors and economists and would prevent the agency from requiring grade labeling and standardization of goods.

In a letter to senate leaders, Brown also asserted that the proposed 155 million dollar OPA appropriation for the next fiscal year, which is 35 millions more than for the year just ended, is insufficient.

Fears Price Control Doom.

The restrictions and the proposed appropriation are contained in a bill, reported out yesterday by senate and house conferees, which Brown declared would "literally destroy price control." The conferees' action is subject to ratification by both house and senate.

A provision which would require price officials to have had previous business experience in the field in which they work for OPA, Brown said, would require immediate dismissal of a large part of the existing price personnel. The section was approved by the conferees in an effort to force long haired theorists out of OPA and obtain the services of practical business men.

"Price control deals with thousands and thousands of industries," Brown said. "No price official in a supervisory capacity can conceivably have had actual experience in each particular field of business to which his decisions relate."

Sees Threat to Ceilings.

He contended that a section of the bill which would prohibit the use of funds for ordering standardization of goods would force OPA to abandon its present price ceilings on meats, eggs, poultry, milk, butter, and many other goods, because the ceilings now are based on standardized grades.

Brown contended that the proposed appropriation would hamper OPA's enforcement program because it would not permit expanding the present staff of 2,600 investigators.

DENY MINISTER GAS TILL OCT. 1 OVER LAKE TRIP

Hartford, Conn., July 2 [Special].—Despite his explanation that he had used gasoline accumulated thru sparing use of A ration coupons, the Rev. Fletcher D. Parker, pastor of Immanuel Congregational church here, today was deprived of his clerical C coupons and two A books—until Oct. 1—for driving 140 miles to his Lake Sunapee, N. H., summer home.

Richard J. Steele, who sat as hearing commissioner, rejected the recommendation of J. Stephan Knight, office of price administration attorney, that gas coupons be revoked for the duration of the war.

The clergyman denounced what he called "the confusion, caprice, and even tyranny which is upsetting our entire national life."

JILTED SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER SUES EVANGELIST

Kansas City, Mo., July 2 (AP).—The Rev. George Griffith, 39 years old, pastor of the Northeast Gospel Tabernacle, was named defendant in a $10,000 breach of promise suit filed today by Miss Lucy Adams, 21, member of the church's choir and teacher in its Sunday school.

Miss Adams said she had bought her trousseau in expectation of a June wedding, but was informed by the evangelist June 24 that he had decided not to go thru with the marriage.

She said the courtship started on Oct. 9 when they went to dinner together.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Ann Loeber Harrington.

Suit for divorce, charging cruelty and asking only attorneys' fees, was filed yesterday by Mrs. Ann Loeber Harrington of Lake Forest, against Gordon Ware Harrington of Boston, in Lake county Circuit court. Mrs. Harrington is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Loeber, 380 Chiltern drive, Lake Forest. Her father is a Chicago real estate dealer and former president of the Chicago Real Estate board. Harrington is the son of Dr. C. W. Harrington, well known physician of Boston. They were married June 21, 1941.

In her petition, filed by Atty. William R. Behanna of Waukegan, Mrs. Harrington charged her husband became cruel and abusive, exhibited an ungovernable temper towards her and used abusive language, shortly after their marriage.

She charged he struck her, marking her face, on three specific occasions—Aug. 21, 1941, May 8, 1942, and May 18, 1942—and that his behavior was such as to cause her constant anguish. There are no children.

OPA TO GO THRU WITH WISCONSIN MOTORIST DRIVE

Green Bay, Wis., July 2 [Special].—Climaxing nearly a week of confusion and controversy, John C. Reinhart, director of the office of price administration here, announced tonight his projected Fourth of July week-end checkup of motorists suspected of gasoline rationing violations "would be held as originally planned."

He declared, however, that the drive would not be conducted in Green Bay, where police have refused to aid in what have been described as "Gestapo snooping methods." He would not say where in his district of 23 northeastern Wisconsin counties the check would be made.

Reinhart also contended the methods that would be used to obtain information from motorists was "confidential," but insisted it would be done "legally."

It had been suggested OPA agents could question motorists whose cars had been halted at traffic lights or otherwise were stopped and that they could note license numbers of out of state cars and report to home rationing boards.

Rome Tells Sinking of 23 Swedish Ships in 6 Months

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—The Rome radio, quoting dispatches from Stockholm, today said 23 Swedish merchant ships totaling 69,000 tons had been sunk during the first six months of 1943 with a loss of 156 men.

JUDGE HOLDS OPA INSULTS COURTS IN SPEED CASES

Calls Follow-Up Penalty Double Jeopardy.

Austin, Minn., July 2 [Special].—Municipal Judge Clifford Enger charged today that the office of price administration is insulting the courts and is placing citizens in double jeopardy when it revokes gasoline rations of a motorist convicted of traffic violations.

Declaring he "did not intend to give up any part of this court's jurisdiction to any government bureau," the judge refused to rule in the cases of two motorists arrested for exceeding the 35 mile an hour speed limit.

Judge Enger, who recently threw out eight speeding complaints because the state limit was still 60 miles, said that if he sentenced the two defendants the OPA probably would take action to revoke their gasoline rations, which, he declared, would be "duplicity of punishment."

OPA Aids to Appear.

Therefore, he postponed the cases and invited OPA representatives to present arguments at the next hearing, so that any penalty justified could be imposed by the court, without need for the OPA further to penalize the defendants.

"Action of the OPA in supplementing court imposed penalties is a very insulting gesture," Judge Enger said.

"The court cannot hide from the truth that if a penalty is imposed by the court, a supplemental punitive measure by the OPA must react in a discord on the defendant's sense of double jeopardy."

Brings Speed Issue to Head.

Judge Enger's recent action in refusing to sentence the eight motorists brought to a head the issue of whether the national war time 35 mile an hour speed limit is legal in Minnesota.

"I am not opposed," he said, "to a 35 mile limit as a war measure, but I do feel I cannot sentence a man for violation of a law that does not exist."

Gov. Edward J. Thye subsequently issued a proclamation fixing a 35 mile speed as Minnesota's legal limit.

NAZIS IN DITHER; THIS IS 'DER TAG' NOW, AFTER ALL!

LONDON, July 3 [Saturday]—(AP).—German propaganda resumed this mornings its predictions that an allied invasion of the continent would begin today. The Nazi controled Paris radio broadcast it was so sure the blow was coming it had sent reporters to the French coast.

"It is no longer a question of days," the station declared this morning. "It is a matter of a few hours and perhaps only a few minutes."

This was a turnabout from yesterday. At that time Paris had abandoned its "July 3" refrain, saying, however, that heavy fighting would come "while the trees are still green."

500 CHICAGOANS GET IN GROOVE AT NEW BRITISH CLUB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 2.—Five hundred Chicago fighting members of the recently former Chicto club [Chicagoans in the European Theater of Operations] attended a dance tonight at the new Columbia Red Cross club. The Flying Yanks, an 8th United States air force orchestra, played.

Members of the organization adopted the "Windy City Challenger," a Flying Fortress, and Pat Hastnet, an American Red Cross worker.

Lt. Col. Harry J. Dooley and Col. Norman A. Ryan, deputy chief of transport in the European theater, organizers of the club, took part. First Lieutenants John H. Perkins, 7644 South Sangamon street, and Charles H. Otis, 3230 Fulton street, and Staff Sgt. John E. Breen, 7934 South Lowe avenue, all of Chicago, were among the members of the crew of the Windy City Challenger who were present.

LYE THROWN IN FACE.

John Byers, 22 years old, a Negro, 705 Oakwood boulevard, was in a serious condition in County hospital last night as a result of lye having been thrown into his face. Police started a search for his wife, Frances, 28.

PASS NEW BILL AFTER VETO OF SUBSIDY CURB

House Vote to Override Is 27 Short.

burst from the Democratic side when the result of the balloting on the question of sustaining the veto was announced. It was strong indication that the margin by which Mr. Roosevelt escaped a second congressional repudiation of his policies within a week, tho it was 27 votes, had been too close for the comfort of his stalwarts during the breathless three-quarters of an hour the balloting was in progress.

The vote came within two hours after the veto message was received on Capitol Hill. There were 228 members, a clear majority of the total house membership, supporting the motion to override while 154 members voted to uphold the President's action. A total of 255, the constitutional two-thirds, was required, however, in order to override the veto and send it to the senate for action there.

Reflection of Concern.

The passage of the anti-subsidy ban had been the reply of a rebellious congress to the administration's refusal to allow increased agricultural prices or to create a centralized control of the food situation, it was also a reflection of the growing concern thru the nation over the crisis in food production and distribution which earlier this week led to the resignation of Chester C. Davis as war food administrator.

In his message Mr. Roosevelt termed the original FCC bill "an inflation bill, a high cost of living bill, a food shortage bill."

The President reaffirmed his thesis that [1] subsidies are necessary to prevent runaway prices and [2] blame for any failure of the anti-inflation program must fall upon congress if the bill became law.

Reiterates Inflation Theme.

Again and again he reiterated his theme, painting a picture of the dangers of inflation as black as the type in which the message was printed. He charged that the measure virtually nullified the price control act of last October and rebuked congress sharply for trying, as he put it, to tie the hands of the administration in its attempt to prevent inflation. Mr. Roosevelt also criticized the legislators for writing a measure which he asserted is not understandable and is open to a number of interpretations.

Mr. Roosevelt said it is easy to assume that the high earnings of some worker in war plants are enjoyed by all but this assumption overlooks the millions of wage earners and other workers whose incomes have remained low with their living standards being "cruelly and inequitably slashed" by rising living costs.

Into this argument he injected the figures of mothers of service men dependent upon their "scant $37 per month" and widows supported by insurance proceeds and old age pensioners, asserting that the bill ignores them too.

Asks Temporary Measure.

Mr. Roosevelt said the executive branch cannot accept responsibility for "holding the line" against increased wages and prices unless congress gives it the power to prevent higher living costs. He urged passage of a joint resolution continuing the life of the FCC temporarily with added lending authority pending the drafting of permanent legislation.

It was in response to this recommendation that the house acted after the veto had been upheld. Confessing that they could see no other recourse, house leaders said frankly that they had given Mr. Roosevelt all the authority he has requested to intensify price controls, adding:

"It's his baby now. He wanted it. We registered our protests but his veto was sustained. If he fails, the people will know where to put the blame."

CHICAGO WATER NOT DANGEROUS, RECORDS REVEAL

Pollution of Chicago's drinking water has not approached the danger point this year and has not been as great as during the first six months of 1942, records in the office of Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, revealed yesterday.

The average coliform bacteria count during the first 27 days of June was 47, compared with 215.7 in June last year. The highest in June was 220, compared with 2,400 in the same month last year. For the six month period, the average this year was 11.9, compared with 89.6 last year.

The coliform count is a method of measuring the amount of human and animal waste in the water before chlorine is added to purify it. The United States Health service has fixed an average monthly maximum count of 50 as safe water.

No 'Cultural Objects' to Bomb in U. S., Axis Told

New York, July 2 [Special].—The Nazi DNB agency today quoted the newspaper Corriere Della Sera of Milan as saying that bombing reprisals against the United States were "impossible" because of a lack of "cultural" targets. "It could hardly be called reprisal for these misdeeds [bombing] in Europe if, for instance, the enormous Statue of Liberty were destroyed as retaliation for the destruction of 'The Creation,' by Donatello," it said.

U.S. EXPENDITURE TOPS 78 BILLION IN FISCAL YEAR

Outlay Under F. D. R. Exceeds 196 Billion.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—The treasury reported today that the government spent $78,178,885,240 for prosecutin, the war and maintaining regular government establishments during the fiscal year which ended Wednesday.

This all-time high of governmental spending—the largest amount spent by any one government in a single year in the history of the world—is more than was spent to operate the United States in its first 130 years. From 1789 to 1919 federal expenditures totaled approximately 76 billion 800 million dollars.

The record outlay for the fiscal year made President Roosevelt the greatest spender in all history. Mr. Roosevelt has spent more than 196 billion in 10 years and 4 months.

Tops All 30 Predecessors.

This total is more than one and a half times what his 30 predecessors in the Presidency spent during 144 years. The first 30 Presidents spent $117,231,331,000.

Mr. Roosevelt also has an impressive record as a tax collector. In a little more than 10 years he collected more than 74½ billion dollars. His 30 predecessors collected approximately 91 billion.

The expenditure in the fiscal year just closed sent the public debt to $140,796,033,375, as compared with $76,990,704,746 a year ago.

The treasury reported that 92 per cent of the spending, or $72,108,862,204, went for war purposes. This was almost three times the war expenditure of a year ago, which was $26,011,065,089.

Receipts Exceed 22 Billion.

Receipts fo. the fiscal year just closed totaled $22,281,642,709, or $1,167,000,000 less than budget estimates. The treasury estimated this resulted from the failure of taxpayers to make payment in full on March 15, in expectation of some form of pay as you go taxes.

Revenue collections were $12,799,061,621 a year ago. The increase of 74 per cent in the fiscal year just closed resulted from increased bond sales and higher taxes.

The net deficit for the fiscal year was $55,900,705,921. This was more than twice the deficit of a year ago, which was $19,692,245,776.

General expenditures for purposes other than war totaled $5,595,218,000—a decrease of 391 million dollars, as compared with a year ago, according to the treasury.

The close of the last fiscal year brought the unbroken string of Mr. Roosevelt's budget deficits to 11.

SENTENCE KRUPA TO 1 TO 6 YEARS ON DOPE CHARGE

San Francisco, Cal., July 2 (AP).—Gene Krupa, the "hot licks" drummer and band leader, today was sentenced to one to six years in prison on conviction of a charge that he induced a minor to transport narcotics.

Judge Thomas M. Foley directed that the prison term should run concurrently with the present 90 day jail sentence Krupa is serving for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Krupa was convicted of permitting his valet, John Pateakos, 20, to possess marijuana and of inducing him to transport the narcotic. Pateakos has disappeared and the FBI is seeking him on draft charges.

In passing sentence Judge Foley declared: "I hope this case brings sharply to the attention of the youth of America the vicious effect of the use of marijuana."

ALLIES WILL JOIN U. S. FORCES MARKING JULY 4 IN BRITAIN

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—The allies will join American soldiers in Great Britain in celebrating the Fourth of July not only as the American Independence day but also as the occasion for marking interdependence among the nations.

Since the holiday falls on Sunday, religious rites will have an important place in the celebrations, most of which will be held then so as not to interfere with army routine.

On Monday, an American flag will be raised by a United States army color guard atop the Reuters building in Fleet street. A choir of American soldiers will broadcast hymns to allied forces in North Africa. Three international broadcasts are planned and Lt. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commanding United States forces in the European theater, will speak during the army hour.

CITY'S POST-WAR ECONOMIC BODY HAS 1ST SESSION

The city post-war economic advisory council appointed by Mayor Kelly last week held its first meeting yesterday in the Chicago club. The mayor was host to the 10 members who appeared. Two were absent.

Mayor Kelly said the council must expect to face many controversial questions, but that it should be courageous and not yield to pressure from individual groups. "You're on your own responsibility now, and I want you to stay that way," said the mayor.

The council will meet again next Thursday. At that time the chairman and other officers may be chosen. Probably the main job of the council will be to maintain employment for returning fighters as well as those who had remained on the home front.

JAPS OBTAINED PLANS OF WRA, WITNESS SAYS

Tells Dies Group About 'Confidential' Leak.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—Tooru Kanazawa, an American of Japanese parentage and a private in the United States army, told the Dies committee today that the war relocation authority passed confidential documents concerning its plans to the Japanese American Citizens' league in this country.

Tooru Kanazawa. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Testifying before the house committee investigating un-American activities, Kanazawa said that he, as an officer of the league, had contacted Dillon S. Myer, director of WRA, from whom he obtained "confidential" releases of the agency's plans for dealing with the Japanese in the west.

Kanazawa's testimony was backed up by Mrs. Kanazawa, a Caucasian born in Kentucky, who also appeared before the committee today. She said that she had told her husband, "It is not a good idea for WRA to be releasing confidential information to the Japanese American Citizens league."

Calls It "Amazing."

Referring to Kanazawa's testimony, Rep. Karl E. Mundt [R., S. D.], a member of the committee, said, "I consider this an amazing procedure and the most unusual evidence to come before this committee."

Offering it as testimony supporting Kanazawa's statements that the league was maintaining close relations with WRA, Robert Stripling, committee investigator, read into the record excerpts from a report which he said were written by Mike Masaoka, national secretary of the league, to its headquarters in Salt Lake City, dated Sept. 19, 1942.

"Myer [WRA director] put this up to me pointedly," Stripling read from Masaoka's report. "He said that he and his staff deal with us on the same basis of confidence and mutual trust as they do among themselves. Up to now I have been permitted to sit down and discuss every major policy before it was finally passed on. . . . WRA desires to continue this fine relationship and will continue to do so as long as we sincerely try to coöperate with them on the improvement of conditions.

Afraid of Congress.

"He is afraid that certain guys in congress would jump down their collective throats if they could only imagine a part of the part which we play in forming WRA policy. They are to be held in strictest confidence and not announced to any one. . . . He has given us directives and instructions of his department. They are merely to serve as a hint to us of their policy—nothing more. All are most confidential and we are lucky to get them ourselves, so please be careful of their use."

Kanazawa said that he had also been a member of the Japanese American Committee for Democracy and of the Young American Writers, both having headquarters in New York. He had been secretary of the Committee for Democracy, he said, and that at one time its advisory committee had included Pearl Buck and Albert Einstein.

Kanazawa said he did not believe the Japanese Citizens league "to be Communist in character."

FRIENDS HONOR RETIRING CHIEF OF IMMIGRATION

Approximately 150 friends and associates last night paid tribute to Fred Schlotfeldt, director of immigration and naturalization in the Chicago district, at a testimonial dinner in the Swedish club. Schlotfeldt is retiring after more than 45 years of service. Speakers included Joseph E. Ragen, Stateville penitentiary warden who formerly was chief investigator for Schlotfeldt; Charles Formaloe, clerk of Kane county Circuit court at Geneva; and L. E. Wilmott, clerk of Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan.

JONES AFFIRMS DESIRE FOR QUIZ ON CABINET ROW

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The feud between Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones was touched on informally today at a house rules committee hearing and brought reiteration from Jones that he would "welcome" a congressional investigation.

Wallace this week publicly accused the Reconstruction Finance corporation [RFC], which is under Jones' jurisdiction, of obstructing the acquisition of war materials by the board of economic warfare [BEW], headed by Wallace.

Such charges, Jones promptly retorted, were "dastardly" and untrue, and attributed to Wallace "malice and misstatements."

Jones, before the committee to testify on the necessity of an investigation of United States aid in developing the Canadian Shipshaw power and aluminum project, was asked by Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] how he felt about an inquiry into "the charges and countercharges" between him and the Vice President.

"I have said on two occasions," Jones replied, "that I welcome such an investigation, and that is my statement to this committee."

ARMY TEACHES SAILORS ABOUT CHEMICAL WAR

The army's chemical warfare section invaded the Great Lakes naval training station last night to teach 10,000 sailors, naval officers, civilian employes and their families how to fight fire and gas during an air raid.

The stage used by Col. Joseph D. Sears and 45 officers and enlisted specialists of the section was a miniature village set up on Constitution field. As planes from the Glenview base swooped down at the target and dropped flares and imaginary bombs, the specialists added realism by exploding incendiary bombs inside the buildings of the village.

All the latest approved methods of control of fire bombs, the safest way to handle explosive bombs, and means of combating gas were demonstrated. The specialists wound up the show with a demonstration of the army's flame throwers.

COUNT 24 HURT AS DENVER BUS FALLS IN RIVER

Denver, Colo., July 2 (AP).—A National Trailways bus carrying 31 passengers plunged into the Platte river in the southern part of Denver today and came to rest on its side in 15 inches of water. Denver general hospital reported at least 24 passengers were taken there. Four were seriously injured.

C. A. Hawkins, assistant fire chief, said several babies were rescued from the 22,000 pound vehicle.

Hawkins said the driver, Edwin W. Roach, 27 years old, Denver, told him the vehicle went out of control when he attempted to rearrange some articles.

URGES NAMING HOOVER TO END FOOD MUDDLING

Sen. Davis Calls Him Best Man for Job.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—Sen. James J. Davis [R., Pa.] called upon the Roosevelt administration today to end its muddling of the nation's food program by placing it in the hands of one man. And the man for the job, he said, is former President Herbert Hoover.

Sen. J. J. Davis.

Sen. Davis termed the administrative food machinery "cumbersome, wasteful, dilatory, inefficient, and confused."

The Pennsylvania senator asked for "a coherent and clearly defined setup" for the whole food program, including production, rationing, and marketing.

Recommends Hoover.

"There are a number of capable and experienced men," he said, "who could bring order out of the chaos which now surrounds this entire food program.

"Probably the most outstanding man for this particular job is former President Herbert Hoover.

"It is a widely recognized fact that Mr. Hoover commands a broad knowledge of the food production problems not only of this country but the rest of the world," Sen. Davis continued. "The experience which he has achieved both as food administrator during the last war and as a public servant for a great number of years eminently qualifies him for this all-important position."

Points to Cabinet Friction.

Sen. Davis said that the dispute between Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, shows the need for simplification and consolidation of administrative functions. Chester Davis' resignation, Sen. Davis went on, illustrates the administration's failure to grant authority commensurate with responsibility.

Chester Davis complained when he resigned that he had been given insufficient authority for the task he had been assigned.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—The senate bowed to the house today on the demand that Robert Morss Lovett, William E. Dodd Jr. and Goodwin B. Watson be cut off the federal pay roll when it voted 48 to 32 to adopt a senate-house conference recommendation that the three employes, accused of subversive activities, be dismissed Nov. 15 unless they are reappointed by President Roosevelt with senate approval.

Lovett, a former University of Chicago professor, is government secretary of the Virgin Islands under Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. Dodd, a son of the late ambassador to Germany, is an employe of the federal communications commission, as is Watson.

The vote was on approval of the 143 million dollar urgent deficiency bill, which includes the President's 89 million dollar emergency fund and the salaries of many government employes.

FORMER TRIBUNE EMPLOYE NOW IS NAZI PRISONER

Sgt. Victor S. Wojtas, 26 years old, 824 North Oakley boulevard, is a prisoner of war in Germany, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wojtas, were notified yesterday. Sgt. Wojtas formerly was employed in the rotogravure department of THE TRIBUNE.

Sgt. V. S. Wojtas.

Warren B. Mayes.

Sgt. Wojtas enlisted Oct. 2, 1939 and received his infantry training at Fort Bragg, N. C. He was reported as missing in North Africa several months ago and recently was listed as a prisoner of the Italians. Yesterday's information was that he was in Stalag 3B [prisoner of war camp designation] in Germany.

Pilot Officer Warren B. Mayes, 22 years old, of the Royal Canadian air force, has been missing since the June 29 raid over Cologne, Germany, according to a telegram from Canadian authorities received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Mayes, 1438 South 11th avenue, Maywood. Mayes enlisted in the Canadian force on Oct. 1, 1940 and went overseas six months ago, his parents said.

BROWN CLEARS MAXON OF RATION FRAUD CHARGE

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown today cleared his information deputy, Lou R. Maxon of Detroit, Mich., of charges that he had obtained a large number of food ration points improperly. The charges had been made by R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers' union.

Brown said in a statement that "a full investigation" into rations for a lodge owned by Maxon, Inc., advertising agency headed by Lou Maxon, showed that the Maxon firm actually was issued an excessive number of points but that this was due to "a clerical error made by the ration board." The error, he said, was failure to deduct from the ration needs of the camp an amount equivalent to the rationed foods already held by the firm. Brown said that the company had returned the disputed points.

EX-GOV. PHILLIPS BRANDS BRIBERY CHARGE A SMEAR

Says Action Followed His Switch to G. O. P.

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 2 (AP).—Former Gov. Leon C. Phillips today blamed political enemies and his recent switch to the Republican party for charges of conspiracy and bribery brought against him.

The ex-governor and his pardon and parole officer, Bob Fitzgerald, were accused in informations filed by County Atty. George Miskovsky with accepting $500 each in 1942 for a parole for Dr. J. W. Eisiminger, Oklahoma City osteopath, who was serving a life term for murder by abortion.

Both pleaded innocent and were released on $3,000 bonds.

Charge Smear Attempt.

"I'm glad to have the charges brought out in public so I can read them and answer them," said the red haired Phillips, whose term as governor ended in January.

He added that the accusations were an effort to "smear" his name and recalled that the prosecutor was a leader of the anti-Phillips Democratic bloc in the 1941 legislative session.

Always a bitter intra-party critic of the New Deal, Phillips announced last month he was changing his affiliation to the Republican party.

This moved his political enemies, Phillips said, to tell some of his friends that "Phillips may become a Republican, but when the Republicans get him there will be plenty of dirt along with him."

Parole Is Explained.

He defended his action in paroling Eisiminger as harmonious with his policy of turning over to other penitentiaries multiple offenders in Oklahoma's state prison in order to reduce state expenses.

"I didn't free Eisiminger," said Phillips. "If I had intended that, a pardon would have been in order. The parole I issued simply transferred him from the state to the federal prison for about 16 years."

On his release from McAlester state prison, Eisiminger was taken to Leavenworth, Kas., to serve a term for perjury.

URGE ONE FOOD BOSS TO SOLVE PRESENT CRISIS

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—Saying that a disastrous food situation now confronts "the country and the war effort," the house agriculture committee today asked quick consideration of a measure to put all food problems under one man. It submitted a report to the house saying:

"We are convinced that the chief reason for this food crisis is the confusion and chaos resulting from the fact that a multiplicity of agencies are attempting to deal with food production and distribution."

The committee measure would take from the office of price administration the powers for pricing and rationing food and place them in the hands of a war food administrator.

"They're waiting for the gal that comes on the 6:00 to 9:00 shift. She gives them each a bowl of Wheaties too!"

Note to "breakfast widows": the technique illustrated above is also recommended for harnessing harassed husbands and helping them help themselves by eating the better breakfasts they need these busy days. Whole wheat, good to eat — that's Wheaties, an excellent dish for men, women, boys and girls with work to do.

"Wheaties" and "Breakfast of Champions" are registered trade marks of General Mills, Inc.

NAPOLEON GOOD AT PROPAGANDA; ALL USE IT NOW

Everybody Aims at Other Fellow's Morale.

BY COL. CONRAD H. LANZA.

[Regular contributor to the Field Artillery Journal and recognized as an authority on military matters.]

Napoleon never used the word propaganda, but he was an adept in practicing it. One of his rules was to magnify his own forces in order to terrify his enemies. And he regularly belittled the strength of the enemy in order to encourage his own troops and his taxpayers to believe victory was just around the corner.

In these days the word propaganda is freely used. Propaganda has become an art. Rules have been stabilized and are followed by all parties. But no one has improved on Napoleon's advice to continuously represent sure success in the near future for one's own forces, and the inevitable defeat for the enemy.

It Goes by Radio Now.

Every day, the American radio beams to Europe accounts of the war, with appropriate comments as to our invincibility. Daily the axis radios assure any one who will listen that it can't be beaten. Daily the Japanese radio tells the immense number of orientals in Asia that the new order is there to stay. It goes on day and night; much of it in a truly interesting and able manner.

Some propaganda relates to military affairs. The axis has been broadcasting accounts about the vast system of fortifications prepared along the coast of Europe to repel invasions. Correspondents have been permitted to visit some of these defenses, and photographs have been distributed. This is intended to discourage an invasion, by representing its almost certain failure and the appalling losses to be expected.

The photographs may be genuine. But they do not prove that the types of fortifications shown are to be found everywhere along the hundreds of miles of coast open to invasion. The correspondents visited only a small section.

Numbers Go Up.

Until recently the axis garrison in Crete has been reported as about two divisions. Reports from Ankara now say there are 10 German divisions there behind extraordinarily strong defenses. Photographs showing beaches obstructed by concrete walls studded with great iron spikes have been issued. The garrison in the near-by Isle of Rhodes, heretofore supposed to be about one Italian division, has become five divisions. Probably exaggerations.

Reports from apparently neutral travelers "just returned," state the German forces in Italy are not being increased—that Mussolini has been begging for German troops which he cannot get. On almost the same day, other "reliable" travelers state that strong German forces are already in the Italian islands. Contradictory reports may be enemy originated to create confusion.

Russia has for long been insisting on it "inexhaustible" reserves. In its communique of June 21, the invincibility of its army and the approaching defeat of Germany is described at considerable length. Unfortunately a paragraph at the end casts doubt on this otherwise comforting prediction, for this says that unless a second front is opened in Europe, victory is impossible.

China Does It, Too.

For six years China has recounted an unbroken series of victories over the Japanese. She still is defeating them—according to Chinese communiques. If all the "victories" had been as represented, it would be impossible to explain how the Japanese have managed to stay there.

Propaganda departments know Napoleon's rule. Each country engaged in the war is telling the biggest story it can get away with and each knows the other side is doing the same thing.

When ground troops are in contact with the enemy, the strength of the other side is determined from "identifications." These are prisoners, captured usually in raids conducted expressly for that purpose. From uniforms, papers found, and statements made it is ascertained to what divisions the prisoners belong. If this information is obtained along the entire front, adding up all the divisions thus identified gives the enemy's total strength very closely. This is just now possible only in Russia.

Doesn't Work Elsewhere.

This procedure cannot be practiced in Norway, France, Italy, and other countries where there is no contact. Reports from spies may be out of date by the time they are received. Secret agents radio information. There is the possibility this may be a disguised enemy message, or that the agent has been misled. It is not easy to check the enemy's strength in these cases.

Certainly the axis has done a large amount of work against invasions, but probably not as much as it has pretended. It has been following Napoleon's good old rule to magnify its own strength to scare off possible attackers, and so far there has been no attack.

The axis moves troops around frequently. When there is no ground contact it is hard to keep track of such changes. If a German division is reported as having gone to Crete, it does not necessarily follow that the garrison has been increased. It may have just changed. But our own intelligence service is not always sure.

So the game goes along. Readers should not allow themselves to be misled by reports of the enemy's great strength. He wouldn't say anything about where he was weak, and he isn't likely to be strong everywhere. It is just part of the game.

STICKELL DINES —AND SUCH FOOD! AT LADY ASTOR'S

Farm Boy Amazed by Cliveden.

(Lt. John H. Stickell was a Gilson, Ill., farmer until joining the R. C. A. F. 30 months ago. He made 48 bombing raids and, grounded, transferred to the U. S. navy. This is the seventh article of the series.)

BY LT. JOHN H. STICKELL.

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Lady Astor gets around. And when she doesn't, people get around to Cliveden, her country home.

Two years after she moved in, royalty was week-ending there. Just before this war, Cliveden was the rendezvous of so many powerful people that some folks who visited there were called "the Cliveden set."

The lady herself is a jolly soul. And very, very democratic. One day last fall she dined with Mrs. Roosevelt. The next day she invited me out to spend the day.

Wins Poet's Praise.

It all came about when a little poetic looking man began visiting our R. A. F. station. He was Sir Robert Nichols, a poet of considerable renown. He was planning to write a book on the R. A. F., and he took a shine to me. I blush when I think of the letter he wrote home to Mom and Father. In it he said things like:

"Your son is one of the very finest Americans it has been my pleasure to meet—and I have met many hundreds. But it isn't only a pleasure, it is an honor, for he is one of the stoutest hearted of a group of captains of aircraft on this green and pleasant land. Believe me, dear lady, when a young American volunteers for us and serves in our ranks we do appreciate the nobility of character that prompts so magnanimous an action."

When Mom read it she said, "He writes right prettily, doesn't he?"

Nichols had a nephew who was the husband of Lady Astor. Funny, I never heard any one refer to him except as Lady Astor's husband. I checked up and found he was the great-great-grandson of John Jacob Astor, one of America's first really rich men, and his father had given up American citizenship and taken his share of the Astor fortune to England with him just before the turn of the century, later being made a viscount. Lady Astor's husband publishes a newspaper, the London Times.

He's in "Beerage."

The lady, of course, is America's contribution to parliament—the first woman to sit in the house of commons. Her husband was elected to parliament in 1910. When his father died the lady's husband got the title, making him, his wife said, a member of the "beerage," thus ineligible for commons. So the wife ran for the office, or stood for it, as they say in England.

Lady Astor, who speaks with a queer mixture of Virginia drawl and Oxford slang, always has done a lot of talking.

Born to one of the richest families in Virginia, she was one of five girls known as the languorous Langhornes, probably because one of the sisters married Charles Dana Gibson, the most popular artist of the '90s, who used the sisters as models in creating his Gibson girl pictures. I understand the Gibson girls were as popular in their day as the Petty girls are today.

Since she was an American, Nichols tried to get me to go to her place, Cliveden. For a while I thought I could get out of it.

It's No "Cottage."

But at last Lady Astor herself wrote me a note asking if I wouldn't come and spend a day, either at Cliveden or Plymouth, where the Astors have a seaside cottage. Don't take that "cottage" literally, however. Any more than you could call Cliveden a house.

The next time I had a leave coming, I wrote so to Lady Astor. She said she would have her son, Sir William, meet me at the station near the estate. Sir William is also in parliament. He's about 35 and his mother is very proud of him.

I took an early morning train from our station into London—about 60 miles—and then another one to Taplow, the village nearest Cliveden. Sir William, who a few years earlier had been known as the Hon. Bill, was on the same train, but we didn't meet until we reached Taplow, since he didn't know me and I didn't know him.

Takes His Breath Away.

The ride to Cliveden was beautiful. The country is rolling and green, about like that around my home, except it is more heavily wooded. Occasionally we would go past hayfields with five and six men making hay with hand rakes.

Cliveden took my breath away. I understand the original Cliveden burned down. The present structure was built about 50 years ago. Architects say it's pure Victorian and one of the most beautiful homes in the world. It's rather square, but stately and grand, with wide lawns running down to the Thames river and heavy woods on both sides. A parish chapel is near by. Neatly trimmed hedges—big and little—trace patterns over the lawns.

Some of the world's biggest parties have been given at Cliveden. It was here that "Rule Britannia" was first played. Before the Astors bought it, it was the home of the duke of Westminster.

"Here's where we get some good food for a change," I said to myself. Cabbage, potatoes, Brussels sprouts, and bread—I'd had my fill. We had been eating those morning, noon, and night, with only few additions.

Hunts with Landed Gentry.

Sir William said he planned to take me hunting. In England the landed gentry hunt only on their own lands, so the hunting is pretty good. I don't know where the unlanded people hunt. He gave me a gun which he said was a .310 bore, but I knew he meant .310 gauge. Then he rounded up some 15 butlers and sent them, dressed in old clothes, thru the woods, beating the brush with sticks.

"What are they for?" I asked.

"They'll flush the birds for us," Sir William said.

I've done quite a bit of hunting back in Illinois and thought myself a pretty good shot. But having those beaters out in front flustered me so badly I didn't hit a thing all morning. Sir William hit everything he shot at.

At noon Lady Astor, Sir William, a lord something or other, and I sat down in the great dining room at Cliveden. The silver was heavy. I was ready for a feast.

Wears Old Black Clothes.

Lady Astor is a smallish woman, about the height of Mom but thinner, more peaked looking, and wiry. She wore black. She almost always wears black since her election to parliament. Her excuse was she wanted to impress the men members that she thought parliament was a place of business, altho she sometimes thought it was a nursery with 600 children.

Her clothes were worn. That made her fashionable. In England, now, it isn't fashionable to wear new clothes.

The lady had dined with Mrs. Roosevelt the day before and her sharp, witty tongue was busy with Mrs. Roosevelt and Russia. She didn't like Russia. She had always claimed the Socialists wanted to run the British empire when they couldn't even run a tripe shop.

Servants Dressed Up.

The servants, cleaned up from beating the bush and decked out in true style just as English servants are dressed in the movies, brought in the food.

"A treat today," Lady Astor said. "We are going to have baked apples."

And what did the lady, queen of Cliveden, member of parliament, reigning hostess of Americans abroad, serve with baked apples?

You guessed it. Cabbage, potatoes, Brussels sprouts, and bread!

RED CROSS ASKS BLOOD DONATION FOR THE FOURTH

Ralph Baier, director of the Chicago chapter blood bank of the American Red Cross, urged yesterday that Chicagoans celebrate Independence day by promising to contribute a pint of blood to be used to save the life of an American soldier. He said the blood bank would be closed on July 4 and 5.

Baier's appeal came as the result of a slump in donations. He announced they had fallen from 550 to 400 per day average in the fixed unit. No drop has been reported in the mobile units, collections from which are added to the main unit at 5 North Wabash avenue to ascertain the total. Baier said Chicago's quota was 5,000 pints of blood each week.

"The boys at the front don't have vacations," he commented. "It's better to donate blood to a living soldier than to pay tribute to one when he is dead."

WONDER ENGINE DRIVES PLANES AT DIZZY SPEED

Cutout Model Displayed in Tribune Tower.

The entrance to the army ordnance-Chicago Tribune war show is in Nathan Hale court between Tribune Tower and W-G-N. Visitors should start the tour there. The show is open daily from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. There is no no admission charge.

BY FRANK STURDY.

In a glass case a few feet square in the lobby of Tribune Tower is an engine typifying one of the most brilliant mechanical achievements of modern times.

Without it, or one of its sister types, flight at the speeds known now would not be possible. Not too large to be got into a space the size of the interior of a small automobile, it will produce as much power as 12 automobile engines, and weighs only about as much as two.

Pound for pound, precious stones will cost more money, but from the viewpoint of the airmen, the lightweight, high horsepower aircraft engine is the prettier gem. The one displayed in the Tribune building is part of the ordnance department's war show, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE.

Working Parts Exposed.

The engine is a cutaway model, all its working parts exposed so that its beauty of workmanship and method of operation may be understood even by one without any knowledge of how an aircraft engine works.

This engine stands for something peculiarly American, too, in that it was manufactured in a war plant on Chicago's northwest side, by automobile engineers and production experts with no experience of aircraft engine building until they were called upon to scrap automobile dies and turn out power plants for bombing planes. It's a Buick-built 14 cylinder, twin row radial, air cooled Pratt & Whitney engine of 1,200 horsepower.

The cylinders are arranged in a circle around the crankshaft, like the numbers on a clock, seven in the front row and seven in the rear. Thus the term "twin row." Each cylinder develops nearly 90 horsepower at top speed, more than most automobile engines.

Face Tough Problems.

Aircraft engine designers are faced with peculiarly tough problems. Needing great horsepower, they are limited in weight specifications, so every piece of metal in the engine is the finest and strongest obtainable at the lightest weight capable of withstanding operating stresses.

The Twin Wasp weighs 1,474 pounds. That's 1.2 pounds for each horsepower. Automobile engines weigh from six to eight pounds for each horsepower.

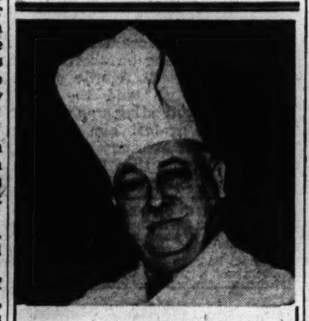
Magnesium and aluminium are used extensively for important components of the engine, at important savings in pounds.

Fuel is metered to the cylinders thru an injection type carburetor, differing from the ordinary carburetor in that the fuel is pumped into the manifold pipes leading to the cylinders rather than drawn thru by suction as in the standard type.

Power Raised for Take-off.

A single stage, engine driven supercharger packs the fuel and air charge into the combustion chamber to raise its power for a brief period for airplane take-off, and improve the output as the plane rises into thin air where, starved for oxygen, its power decreases.

Most engines made in the Buick plant go into Consolidated B-24 bombers. Each plane carries four power plants, and when installed in the wings each is hooked to a second super-charger, of turbo type, driven by the engine's own exhaust gases.



Independence Day And Me

Some people say I am independent and proud about my Cafe de Paris; and perhaps so, for I have dined Kings and Queens and devoted my lifetime to good cooking.

And why not be independent? Enrico Caruso said, "If the song comes from Caruse it is the best." And everyone agreed.

Should I be bashful? . . . No. If the food comes from my kitchen it is the best and who will disagree?

The world is full of my satisfied diners. Come to my Cafe de Paris and taste what my lifetime as a Restaurateur has produced.

2,000 NAZI WAR CAPTIVES REACH INTERNEE CAMPS

Omaha, Neb., July 2 (AP).—Headquarters of the 7th service command announced today that approximately 2,000 German prisoners of war have arrived at internment camps at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.; Camp Carson, Colo., and Camp Phillips, Kas.

Italian prisoners of war at the three camps have been moved to other camps in the 7th service command to make room for the Germans. Army headquarters said this was in line with the policy not to mix Italian and German prisoners.

NAVY REVEALS 15 CASUALTIES; ONE ILLINOISAN

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The navy today announced 15 casualties, including four dead and 11 missing. This brings to 27,006 the total of the navy, marine corps, and coast guard casualties reported since Dec. 7, 1941. The grand total includes 8,158 dead, 4,733 wounded, 10,522 missing, and 3,593 prisoners. The list included Frederick Leon Price, of Waynesville, Ill., missing. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Leo Price.

CIVILIANS RATE FREE FOOD AND SHOW FOR ONCE

But Men in Uniform Take Club Over Today.

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

Civilians had a taste of what it is like to be a service man in Chicago last evening. They heard $100,000 worth of entertainment and consumed thousands of pounds of refreshments free. It was the preview opening of Chicago's "country club" for service men which stretches along 12 acres of shore in Lincoln park.

The guests were 7,500 donors of gifts to Chicago's Service Men's centers in the loop thruout the year. They came in droves, in chauffeur driven limousines, and on foot, meat packers who have contributed thousands of pounds of meat, and little gray haired women who had baked numerous cakes for the "boys." One and all alike, the civilians presented tickets for admission, while boys in white and khaki strolled in with a smile.

Thousands See Shows.

The verandas, shaded by red, white, and blue awnings, were jammed with men and women standing on the railings and crowded next to the screens for a glimpse of the stellar entertainment which began at 7 p. m. and ran continuously until 11 p. m. Inside the open air brick pavilion thousands sat packed side by side and witnessed the entire stage shows from the Chicago and Oriental theaters and the Chez Paree night club.

Long lines of civilians and service men edged the counters of the canteen heaped high with a gigantic smorgasbord spread provided by the Svithiod Swedish club of Chicago and other Swedish organizations. Thruout the evening they consumed 1,046 pounds of meat, 550 pounds of potatoes, 280 cases of pop, and 10,000 bars of ice cream.

Eating in one corner with the gusto of any service man were Maj. Gen. H. H. Aurand, commanding officer of the sixth service command; Lt. R. R. Snapp, head of the special service branch; Maj. Wayne King, aid to Gen. Aurand; Capt. H. R. Harris, service school office at Great Lakes, and Capt. William L. Thomas of the marine corps who represented Lt. Col. Chester L. Fordney. Mayor Kelly was their host and Mrs. Kelly their waitress.

"Better Than at Home."

"Gee, they like their grub as much as we do," commented Pvt. Crawford C. King of Lambert, Miss., radio man in the air force.

Gathered in groups, soldiers and sailors talked about what they would do today when the club is officially theirs for the summer. They debated the merits of the beach and free swimming suits, the miniature golf course, the table games, the fishing and, of course, the dancing with pretty Service Men's Center girls each evening.

President Signs War Bill Appropriating 71 Billion

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The $71,500,000,000 war department bill was signed into law today by President Roosevelt. It gives the department three times as much money to spend toward victory in the next 12 months as the entire cost of the first World war to the nation. More than $50,000,000,000 is provided in the measure for army aviation, including purchase of 99,740 planes.

MOVE TO MARCH ON WASHINGTON BEFORE NEGROES

Conference Votes Today on Proposal.

Negro leaders of the United States who are attending a national conference in Chicago will vote this morning on a proposal to make a march on Washington, which speakers yesterday charged was the fountainhead of racial intolerance in this country, and press their demands of racial equality upon President Roosevelt.

A. Philip Randolph, director of the March on Washington movement which sponsored the conference, said delegates also would act on other proposals to form nonpartisan political blocs and one providing for Negroes to negotiate with white business men to end discrimination differences. As an alternative should the negotiations fail the Negroes will resort to court action in an effort to end "Jim Crow" practices, he said.

Norman Thomas Speaks.

A crowd of 1,400 persons attended a session last night in the Metropolitan Community church, 4100 South Park way, where speakers included Norman Thomas, Socialist leader. Thomas urged the Negroes to define the desire of association with other races as the first step in obtaining equality.

Vincent Baker, leader of a New York Negro youth movement, assailed Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and Secretary of War Henry Stimson as doing "an effective job for the Nazis" by discriminating against Negroes in the military branches.

Native colonies in Africa should be given autonomy now instead of being "returned to their masters after the war," Dr. Lawrence D. Reddick, a Negro, curator of Negro literature at the New York public library and a history lecturer at New York City college, said yesterday afternoon.

Capable, Curator Contends.

There are men among the natives who are educated and capable of conducting free governments, he said.

Dr. Louis Wirth, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, said "a great gap exists between American aspiration and realization" and declared that the guarantees of civil rights should be enforced.

The problems of the natives of the Caribbean Islands were surveyed by Dr. Eric Williams, Negro associate professor of social and political science at Howard university, Washington, D. C.

ASSOCIATES HAIL DR. HEKTOEN AT INSTITUTE RITES

Dr. Ludvig Hektoen, noted for his researches in medical science, celebrated his 80th birthday yesterday by ackowledging the honors paid him by his associates at the dedication of the Hektoen Institute of Medical Research, 629 South Wood street. A plaque saluting Dr. Hektoen's achievements was unveiled at the institute, which is devoted to laboratory study of diseases.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the board of Cook county commissioners, paid tribute to Dr. Hektoen's studies in the interest of public health, citing his discovery of tests for scarlet fever.

Others who praised Dr. Hektoen, who is head of the National Cancer institute, were Dr. E. C. Rosenow, research director for Mayo institute, and Dr. Karl A. Meyer, medical supervisor of county institutions.

PROPOSAL ASKS USE OF STREETS AS PLAYGROUNDS

Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st] yesterday was named chairman of a city council subcommittee to investigate the feasibility of barricading a number of Chicago streets at certain hours to provide summer playgrounds for children. The proposal was made during a meeting of the council's committee on traffic and public safety, in which Ald. George D. Kells [28th], chaiman, reported the following statistics on automobile accidents for the first five months of 1943: Accidents, 4,623, a decline of 2,421 from the corresponding 1942 period; injuries, 5,644, a decline of 2,864, and fatalities, 141, a decline of 68.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

P. T. C. asks: "Will there be a special period this year for mailing Christmas packages to men overseas?"

ANSWER: Yes. The war department has designated the period of Sept. 15 to Oct. 15 as the period for sending Christmas packages to army personnel serving overseas. Restrictions on mailing packages overseas will be relaxed during this period, and it will not be necessary to present a request from the soldier in order to have the package accepted as is the rule at present.

The navy department sets the period for packages for naval personnel as from Sept. 15 thru Oct. 31, and for the navy [including marines and coast guardsmen] the term "overseas" means only those men receiving mail thru a Fleet postoffice via either San Francisco, New York, or Seattle.

Christmas packages should be clearly and prominently marked "Christmas parcel" and shall not exceed five pounds in weight or 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined [about the size of an ordinary shoe box]. Only one parcel will be accepted in any one week from the same sender for the same addressee. Parcels may not include any weapons, perishables, intoxicants, poisons, or inflammable articles, such as matches or lighter fluid. Clothing and food should not be sent except on special request. If you are puzzled about what to send, send for our "Gift list" and mailing instructions, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

J. W. B. asks: "Can you tell me what paragraph 9 [b] or army regulations 605-10 says? I am a lawyer with four years' practice before entering service. Can you tell me where I might fit?"

ANSWER: The paragraph you mention gives instructions on how to apply for a commission. See the sergeant major for help in applying. You might try for the division of post-war military government in the provost marshal general's office or the officer candidate school of the judge advocate or for a place in the adjutant general's office.

LEAGUE BLAMES DETROIT RIOT ON OVERCROWDING

Proposes Program to Better Relations.

New York, July 2 [Special].—The National Urban league, after investigating the Detroit race riots, issued a report today placing blame for the rioting on poor and inadequate housing for a rapidly growing Negro population, discrimination in employment, and a feeling among Negroes they have been "entirely neglected by the white community and by much of the Negro leadership."

The report outlined measures calculated to curb influences that tend toward lawlessness and racial conflict and proposed a long term program "of social betterment for Negroes and education of both Negroes and whites in the fundamentals of good citizenship."

Blames Population Pressure.

Discussing underlying causes of the Detroit rioting, the report said "pressure of population due to the influx of new workers, black and white, may be considered the first contributing cause." In 1910, there were 5,741 Negroes in the city; in 1920, there were 40,838, and in 1930, there were 120,066, with the 1940 census reporting 149,120, a number that has increased materially in the last two years, the report said.

Declaring there was a feeling in Detroit that police had shown racial discrimination in arresting 1,200 Negroes and only 200 whites, the report urged that the full strength of the police department and courts should be marshaled to preserve order and respect for the laws and that "public officials lacking in courage and willingness to discharge their responsibilities should be removed."

Favors Retaining Troops.

Troops should be retained in the city at least 90 days and conferences should be held with publishers and editors of the daily papers with regard to policies on reporting news about Negroes, the report recommended. It added that "efforts to increase housing facilities for Negro and white war workers should be vigorously pushed."

"Facilities for recreational and wholesome leisure time activities must be extended and wholesome interracial recreational contacts should be encouraged," the report said.

The long term program proposed that education in race and human relations should be developed in the city, as "hatreds and animosities which have been known to exist for so long cannot be eradicated in a short time." The public schools, the report said, should make a greater effort to teach proper attitudes on race as the Chicago schools are doing.

Youth Guilty of Pushing Boy, 11, Off 175 Ft. Cliff

Golden, Colo., July 2 (AP).—William Eugene Wymer, 16 years old, was convicted of first degree murder tonight in the death of Milo Flindt, 11, one of two boys who plunged to their deaths off sheer Castle rock near Golden April 4. The jury's verdict carries a mandatory life imprisonment sentence. The bodies of Flindt and Donald Mattas, 8, were found 175 feet below the summit of the cliff.

SWEARS NITTI WAS TREASURER OF MOVIE UNION

Witness Says He Planned to Pass Job to Nephew.

Another link in the Nitti-Ricca-Campagna gangster control of the Chicago movie operators' union was disclosed yesterday in a divorce hearing before Judge John J. Lupe in Superior court. The case was that of Frank Dolendi, 25 years old, 3851 Jackson boulevard, a motion picture operator and a nephew of the late Frank Nitti. Dolendi is suing his wife, Dorothy, 26, on a charge of cruelty.

Federal prosecutors in New York have charged that the Chicago motion picture operators' union was under complete control of Nitti gangsters, who extorted thousands of dollars every week thru a permit system under which several hundred operators paid in approximately $10 a week each for the privilege of working. It was charged that many of these operators granted permits by the gangsters also split their weekly pay of $80 upward with the hoodlums.

Gang Chiefs Under Indictment.

Paul [The Waiter] Ricca and Louis [Little New York] Campagna, who until Nitti's recent indictment and suicide shared top gangster control with him, are under indictment in New York for an alleged part in a 2 million dollar shakedown of the movie industry in which George E. Browne, former international head of the operators, Willie Bioff, and Nick Circella are serving prison sentences.

Questioned in the divorce hearing about a safety deposit box rented jointly by her husband and herself, Mrs. Dolendi testified Nitti had said he was treasurer of the movie operators' union and that he planned to make Dolendi treasurer in his place.

Dolendi asked admission to the joint safety deposit box on the ground that his mother, Susan Dolendi, uses it also, and is not a party to the divorce proceedings. The court yesterday dissolved an injunction, obtained by Mrs. Dolendi denying her husband a key to the safety box. Asked what the box contained, Dolendi said he kept some papers there.

"What papers?" Judge Lupe inquired, and Dolendi replied: "I keep some papers for the union there; I was treasurer of the union."

Story Denied by Union Heads.

Outside of court, Mrs. Dolendi showed a newspaper photograph of herself and Dolendi at Nitti's funeral. She said Nitti had felt his days were numbered and that was why he planned to make Dolendi treasurer of the operators' union in his place. Neither Dolendi nor Nitti, however, was treasurer of record. Union officials denied that either Nitti or Dolendi handled their funds.

Dolendi is represented by Atty. Abraham Teitelbaum, formerly Alphonse Capone's counsel. Mrs. Dolendi testified she was tricked into going to Teitelbaum's office to sign papers which she thought were counter-charges but later discovered to be a stipulation she would not contest Dolendi's action.

WM. E. CLOW SR. LEAVES $411,470 GROSS ESTATE

William E. Clow Sr., 900 North Green Bay road, Lake Forest, who died last Sept. 14 at the age of 81, left a gross estate of $411,470, which by debts and expenses of administration, was reduced to a net of $250,552, according to a state inheritance tax return filed yesterday with Jay B. Morse, clerk of Lake county, by Kent S. Clow, one of the administrators.

The federal estate tax on the gross estate was shown as $73,359 and the 1942 income tax as $57,198. The state inheritance tax was estimated at $3,411. These were part of the debts and expenses of administration.

Mr. Clow, who was chairman of James B. Clow & Sons, divided his estate among his widow, Margaret; his sons, William E. Jr. and Kent S., and his daughter, Mrs. Martha Douglas, all of Lake Forest. Mrs. Clow receives $45,975 and the sons and daughters each $58,459.

PURDUE WILLED $1,000,000 SHARE OF ROSS ESTATE

Lafayette, Ind., July 2.—David E. Ross, Purdue university board president and benefactor, left $1,000,000 in trust out of his $1,564,000 estate to the Purdue Research Foundation, it was revealed late today in his will, probated in the Tippecanoe county Circuit court. President Edward C. Elliott of the university and Allison E. Stuart, attorney and member of the board of trustees, are named as executors.

Ross, who died Monday at the age of 71, laid the foundation of his fortune when he invented an automobile steering gear 35 years ago and with two uncles, William and D. L. Ross, established the Ross Gear and Tool company in Lafayette. During his lifetime his gifts to Purdue, his alma mater, approximated a million dollars.

Summer Sweetie

SYLVIA SLADE.

Breaking a tradition of many years, the Daily Maroon, student newspaper at the University of Chicago, yesterday named a "summer sweetheart" of the university summer school. Formerly the Maroon named a beauty queen soon after the opening of the school year in the fall.

The girl honored this summer is blue eyed, blonde Sylvia Slade, 17 years old, a freshman from Washington, Conn. She will be assisted by her maids of honor, Mary Clementz, 18, of 7527 Wentworth avenue, Chicago; Caroline Rose, 22, of Saskatoon, Sask., Canada; Barbara Francisco, 18, of Highland Park, and Bette Davison, 17, of Baltimore, Md.

The girls were crowned at a university dance held last night at Ida Noyes hall on the university campus.

JURORS CONVICT PHYSICIAN OF ABORTION DEATH

Gross Held Guilty of Manslaughter.

Dr. Henry Gross, whom the state's attorney's office depicted as a dual medical personality, was penalized for one of those rôles last night. He was convicted as an abortionist.

The conviction was voted by a jury of eight women and four men in the Criminal court on a charge of manslaughter by abortion. He now faces a sentence of 1 to 14 years, but under the new parole reform laws, the trial judge, Rudolph F. Desort, may fix minimum and maximum sentences within that bracket. The jury was out 2½ hours.

Dual Personality Charged.

Dr. Gross was found guilty of causing the death of Mrs. Lavern Perez, 22 years old, in her home at 5029 Chicago avenue last Jan. 28. During the trial Assistant State's Atty. Gordon Nash sought to portray him as a dual personality.

According to the prosecutor, Dr. Gross, now 56 years old, carried on a legitimate, regular practice in offices at 843 Belmont avenue, but also operated an abortion office under the name of "Dr. Willits" at 530 North Clark street. At one time a Dr. Ira Willits maintained an office there; he is now dead.

Chief witness against the physician was Mrs. Olga Perez, mother-in-law of the young victim. She charged that Dr. Gross performed the illegal operation in his Clark street office, adding that her daughter-in-law paid a $60 fee to the office attendant, a woman now being sought.

Woman Tells of Threats.

On the day of her daughter-in-law's death, Mrs. Perez testified, Dr. Gross appeared at her home, and threatened her and her son, William, with a gun. He was disarmed, but pleaded for the gun so he could kill himself, she said.

Dr. Gross' defense was that he had treated the young Mrs. Perez for a cold just before her death. He denied performing an abortion. Dr. Gross lives at 828 Agatite avenue. Prosecutor Nash said the grand jury was investigating another abortion charge against him involving the death last February of Dorothy Webber, 20, who then lived on Altgeld street, Elmwood Park.

PLACED ON PROBATION.

Arthur Langhorst, 30 years old, Palatine, a sprayer in a war plant, was placed on probation for a year yesterday by Judge Victor A. Kula in Municipal auto court on a charge of tampering with an automobile.

CLOSE CARROZZO ESTATE; VALUE DROPS $273,165

The estate of Michael Carrozzo, for years boss of the street cleaners in Chicago, was closed yesterday when Judge Robert S. Baker of the La Porte county Superior court in Michigan City, Ind., approved the final report on the estate filed by Carrozzo's widow, Julie. Carrozzo died Aug. 4, 1940.

The report showed that the personal property was originally valued at $306,206 but now only $33,041 is left. The great reduction was attributed to settlement of an income tax claim for $205,000, payment of nearly $47,000 in federal inheritance and estate taxes, and other expenses, including a $20,000 fee to the law firm of Gottlieb & Schwartz of Chicago.

In addition to the net residue of $33,041, the estate also includes Carrozzo's sumptuous home at Long Lake, Ind., valued at $35,000, and a $120,000 sale interest in his Superior farms at Hobart, Ind. The $120,000 is to be paid to Mrs. Carrozzo and her children, Michael, 15, and Carole, 10, at the rate of $10,000 a year. The children receive two-thirds and Mrs. Carrozzo one-third of the estate.

GEORGE A. TRUDE, ATTORNEY AND EX-JUDGE, DIES

Services for George A. Trude, Chicago attorney and former judge of the Superior court, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the chapel at 7659 Jeffery avenue. Atty. Trude died yesterday in Jackson Park hospital. He was 77 years old and lived at 8338 Maryland avenue.

Mr. Trude served as city attorney from 1892 to 1895 and was judge of the Superior court from 1897 to 1898. He was admitted to law practice in 1888 and at the time of his death was a member of the law firm of Trude and Kahane.

He leaves his widow, Annie; a son, Sidney, and nephew, Judge Daniel P. Trude of the Circuit court. Several years ago Mr. Trude was named trustee of the $30,000 estate left to Pet, a Spitz dog, by the dog's mistress, Miss Margaret McDermott. The dog has been cared for at the Trude home.

POLICE AID ASKED IN SEWER DEATH OF PLANT GUARD

Police were asked yesterday to aid in the investigation of the mysterious death of Joseph M. Jackson, 53 years old, a Burns detective agency guard at a south side war plant.

Jackson disappeared from his post early Tuesday while on duty at the General Spring-Bumper division of the Houdaille-Hershey corporation, 1455 West 38th street. His body was found early Thursday evening in the No. 3 unit of the sanitary district's sewage disposal plant in Stickney.

As an inquest was opened yesterday in Berwyn, several unusual circumstances were disclosed to Deputy Coroner George Mrazek. The disclosures caused him to continue the hearing until July 9 and enlist the aid of police.

Discoveries by Milkman.

Theron Beckwith, 526 West 79th street, another guard, testified that he and Jackson were "doubling up" on shifts to enable them to get a day off. Jackson worked at the main entrance during his first shift but transferred, at his own request, to a rear gate for the midnight to 8 a. m. shift.

After several unsuccessful attempts to communicate with Jackson by telephone during the early hours of Tuesday morning, Beckwith said, a milkman reported these two facts: that Jackson was missing and that an electrically operated gate near Jackson's tower was open.

A search, Beckwith said, revealed no trace of Jackson. Nearby, however, was an excavation under the fence where city laborers had been working. The covers of two shafts leading to the giant sewer were in their place, Beckwith said. He was unable to say how Jackson could have entered or fallen into the sewer. The sewage plant is about six miles from the place of Jackson's employment.

Bruises on Body.

Dr. Julian Dawson, coroner's physician, termed Jackson's death asphyxiation due to drowning. His examination revealed further, however, that Jackson suffered compound fractures of the left foot and ankle and contusions on his head, right knee, left ankle, and foot.

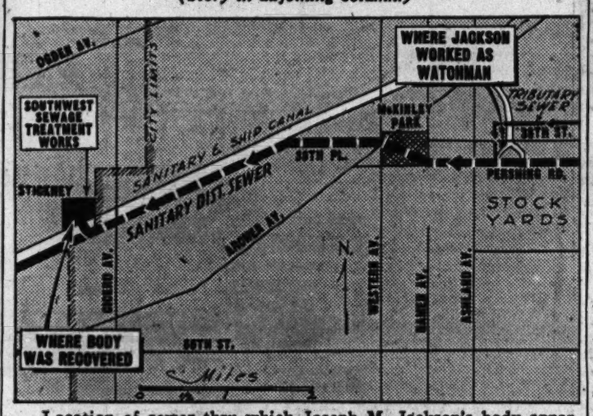
Mrs. Fay Jackson, the widow, 7528 Calumet avenue, was not present at the inquest. However, two relatives, Thomas Woods, 7609 Perry avenue, a brother-in-law, and John Vanneman, a son-in-law, said they were mystified as to Jackson's death.

REPORTS THIRD BREAK-IN.

Martin Epstees yesterday reported to police that for the third successive Thursday night burglars broke into his second hand clothing store at 3609 Cottage Grove avenue and this time took clothing valued at $200.

Press Inquiry Into Guard's Death

(Story in adjoining column.)



Location of sewer thru which Joseph M. Jackson's body apparently was carried from his place of employment at war plant near the stockyards to sewage treatment works six miles away in Stickney.

TWO GAMBLING RAIDS NET ONE WOMAN, 6 MEN

The police, acting on reports that handbooks had reopened thruout the city, raided yesterday two alleged nerve centers that serve outlying bookies with information. The raids were made by detectives under Capt. Michael Naughton of Commissioner Allman's office and Capt. Thomas Duffy of Central station.

The place raided by the commissioner's men was on the second floor at 445 North La Salle street, where six men and a woman were seized along with records. Fifteen telephones were found.

Capt. Duffy's raid was on the fourth floor at 538 South Dearborn street. Capt. Duffy said that place was used for a telephone headquarters to serve handbooks. A switchboard and 17 hidden telephones were found in three rooms among crates and boxes. The police found the place deserted.

AUTOMOBILE IS STOLEN.

Oswald Malczok, 24 years old, 2606 West 15th place, a cripple, reported to police yesterday that his automobile was stolen from in front of his house about 1 o'clock in the morning.

DISMISSES SUIT TO UPSET ZONING IN RIVER FOREST

Circuit Judge Benjamin P. Epstein yesterday dismissed the 2½ year old suit of John Cummings Lindop to change the zoning of the northwest corner of Bonnie Brae and Lake streets in River Forest. In the heart of the Oak Park-River Forest business district, but directly across from a square block of forest preserve, the property was zoned for apartments.

When the suit was filed on Dec. 30, 1940, it was reported a department store would be built on the property if Lindop won an injunction against enforcement of the village zoning ordinance. Within a block of the site are stores operated by Wieboldt and Marshall Field & Co. Goldblatt Brothers was said to be planning a store in the shopping area.

QUIZ PRISONER ABOUT STRIKE KILLING IN 1939

James O'Connor, 43 years old, described by police as business agent for the Taxicab Drivers' union, was questioned by stock yards police yesterday for questioning in connection with violence during a strike of truck drivers and helpers at the Wieboldt stores four years ago.

The violence included the unsolved murder of James Lawrence, a truck helper, on April 12, 1939, and a gun attack four hours later on three nonunion workers, who escaped injury.

Capt. William Doyle, who arrested O'Connor Thursday night, said O'Connor was questioned specifically about the attack on the three men. He also was asked about the Lawrence slaying. O'Connor denied any knowledge of violence, insisting he was only a clerk.

SLAYER OF RIVAL UNION ORGANIZER WINS PROBATION

Pleads Guilty to Charge of Manslaughter.

Charles Cain, former organizer for the United Automobile Workers of America, a CIO union, walked out of Judge Rudolph Desort's Criminal court room yesterday after he had been placed on three years' probation for the slaying six years ago of a rival organizer for the same union.

Charles Cain.

Cain shot and fatally wounded John White, 36 years old, during a meeting in union headquarters at 5948 Grand avenue on Oct. 19, 1937. Cain fled after the shooting. Before his death, White at first refused to name his slayer, but finally told police, "Charles Cain shot me. I don't know why he did it. I was always his friend."

White Shot Three Times.

Police at the time attributed the killing to internal union activities. They learned the two men had been drinking and had returned to the union hall when Cain went to a washroom, came out with a gun, walked up to White and shot him three times.

Cain remained a fugitive until last April, when he was arrested in New York. He waived extradition and was returned here and yesterday was placed on trial. The former union organizer told police he didn't remember what happened at the time of the slaying, as he had been drinking.

On his agreement to plead guilty to a charge of manslaughter, the state's attorney's office waived the murder charge against him. [Probation can be granted in a manslaughter case.] Most of the evidence was stipulated, altho several witnesses said the slaying climaxed a drinking party.

Recommends Jail Term.

Cain's attorney, Jacob Shamberg, pleaded for probation. He said the former union organizer had been serving in the merchant marine until his ship was torpedoed, and that Cain was ready to rejoin the service. When Judge Desort said he would place Cain on probation Assistant's State's Atty. Julius Sherwin objected and said he thought the defendant should serve six months in the county jail.

Judge Desort overruled Sherwin's plea and granted the probation with the stipulation that Cain rejoin the merchant marine. The judge said he believed Cain would be more useful in the service than in jail.

Forest Preserve Pools Attract 5,000 Swimmers

Approximately 5,000 persons made use of swimming facilities at three forest preserve pools yesterday, said Bruce Benson, superintendent of the pools. He said low attendance on Thursday, the opening day, was caused by cool weather. The three parks are: Emmett Whealan swimming pool at Milwaukee and Devon avenues, Cermak pool at 7600 Ogden avenue, and Green Lake pool at 159th street and Torrence avenue. All pools are open daily and attended by lifeguards from 1 to 9 p. m. thruout the summer, Benson said.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. R. F. Mack, 1234 South Cuyler avenue, Berwyn.

THE QUESTION.
Have you ever done a favor that wasn't appreciated?

WHERE ASKED.
Sheridan road and Touhy avenue.

THE ANSWERS.

George E. Moskovitz, student, 5428 Ellis avenue—My mother was giving a party, and I had heard her say she wished the silverware was polished. I thought I'd surprise her. After I had scoured every piece, I discovered I had been using a rust removing cream. My mother didn't appreciate that.

Nancy Palmer, student, 1321 Monroe street, Evanston—My brother's desk is always a temptation to me. I want to start house cleaning. He never has thanked me. The last time, I mixed up some important papers that he had been sorting for weeks.

Frieda Henning, telephone operator, 4329 Hermitage avenue—While four of us were waiting to board a bus I thought I'd run in and buy an ice cream cone for each. Two of the girls didn't wait when the bus came along. My mother and I felt foolish as we boarded the next bus with two cones each.

Marie Schuttler, telephone operator, 1149 North Lawler avenue—All the girls were troubled with bad sunburns. When we went out for our second coat of tan, I coated them with olive oil mixed with mercurochrome. Then our skin blistered and blotched. No one appreciated that.

Jack Deuchler, student, 502 Lee street, Evanston—Before my mother left for downtown she said she should have watered the plants in the house. I told her I'd do the job. It seemed there was no end to the amount they would absorb. My mother found streams of muddy water all over her carpets.

FLAGS TO DECK STATE STREET ON JULY FOURTH

More than 500 flags will make State street the nation's preëminent avenue of flags over the July Fourth holiday, it was promised yesterday by the State Street council. Every light standard will have four American flags, and many stores are offering special displays of the national emblem.

Most downtown stores, about 200 in all, will be closed tomorrow and all day Monday, according to David Mayer Jr., chairman of a special committee of the council. Department stores and most specialty shops, usually open from noon to 9 p. m. on Monday, will switch their Monday hours to Tuesday.

HUGHES FAVORS CAUCUS BEFORE PARTY PRIMARY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., July 2.—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, only Democrat left holding a major state office, today suggested that his party hold a pre-primary convention to make up its 1944 state ticket.

His move was interpreted here as intended to open the door for him to the governorship race without closing any doors leading to other state offices including his present one. Hughes tends to be cautious in his political maneuvers.

The state convention envisaged by Hughes would be held in Springfield, if his suggestion is followed. It would be a departure from the custom of party leaders meeting in a small room to agree on the organization slate.

Altho a Chicagoan, Hughes' tieups resulting from more than 10 years as secretary of state are largely w downstaters. In recent years he h not been regarded as close to Mayo Edward J. Kelly.

"The Spanish Lady" . . . By Maurice Walsh

Copyright: 1943: by Maurice Walsh

SYNOPSIS: Diego Usted, thinking he has only a few months to live, comes from his commando duties to the Scottish Highlands to visit his Uncle Hamish and his Aunt Ellen McLeod. Hamish is Gen. Harper's head forester. Diego has a run-in with the general on first sight, but he makes friends with the general's young Spanish wife, Ann. When Diego goes to the Harper home to apologize to Gen. Harper he meets the general's brother, Maj. Arthur, and his children, Henrietta and Charles. Henrietta tells Diego that every one hates the general but loves Ann. When Henrietta flirts with Diego he kisses her. She tells him she may some day marry Larry, Ellen's son. Then Ellen spots the orange lipstick on Diego's handkerchief and guesses about the kiss. He confesses. Wally, the postman, brings news that Larry is coming home on furlough.

INSTALMENT XII.

CHANGES.

"Ewan is coming tomorrow morning, Peter," Henrietta told him. "Dirty work at the crossroads. My old uncle wants Ewan to break the entail and clear all the Harpens out of the Glen."

"Ewan won't like that—he's a good Glen man himself even if he is the solicitor for the general."

"We might cut the old devil's throat first." She said that as if she meant it.

"We might—we might," agreed Peter Ross, the station agent.

A long whistle came shrilling up the line, and not so far away, round a curve, a white spurt of steam feathered up into the air.

"Here she comes! The carriages will be at the front," said Peter.

As the coaches slipped ahead, a dark young man was leaning out of a window, his glance passing by Diego to where a tall slip of a girl was moving down towards the guard's van. Before the train stopped the young man leaped down, dragged a duffle bag on to the platform, and came striding towards Diego. He was in the uniform of the royal air force, and it fitted him like a glove. He was slightly above middle height, slenderly built, but of perfect proportions. He moved from the hips, and with that roll of shoulder that hillmen or seamen have, and the way he carried his hands showed a restrained inner virility.

"You are Lt. Larry McLeod?"

He nodded, and concentrated dark and serious eyes on Diego.

"Seven pillars o' wisdom! I know who you are, too." His eyes crinkled. "You are Jimmy Usted, aren't you?"

"I am, Larry."

"Give me hold of your hand then." Their hands met. "That's fine, cousin! How are they all up by?"

"Well—very well. Your letter came not the hour ago. Uncle Hamish was on the hill, and your mother, my aunt, is making her very high tea. I am here eight days."

"A pleasant surprise. Say, Jimmy, there's a long-legged she-male away down there with Peter Ross?"

"O! some modern patrician," Diego said inspiredly. He was not going to spoil any surprise there might be.

"Just so! She has a feature or two. I must shake a paw with Peader." He hooked Diego around by the arm and the two went down the platform side by side.

Henrietta saw them coming and walked to meet them. She was no longer hoyden. She was a tall young gentlewoman, and prouder than Lucifer. Her hair lay down in shining folds; her head was thrown back and she looked along her straight nose thru hooded insolent golden eyes. And Diego noted for the first time that her makeup was different. She had not used any rouge, and the powder she must have used did not show. Her mouth was no longer orange but defined delicately in a color just one shade brighter than natural.

She stopped in front of them, and her voice was weary with the mere necessity of being polite for a moment.

"Mr. Laurence McLeod, I presume? How do you do?"

Larry McLeod yielded her his hand in a helpless sort of way. And having got his hand, she jerked him forward, clasped him firmly about the shoulders, and kissed him on the mouth. She leaned her head back and looked at him, rubber her forefinger along his lips and examined it, and spoke to Diego over his shoulders.

"You will note, senor, that my new war paint sticks in its own place." She shoved Larry away. "Do your back hairs tingle, Mr. McLeod?"

"What!" said Mr. McLeod.

The three went down the platform to where Peter Ross and the guard were still altercating.

"To think of Hett Harper taking me like a new born babe!" Larry turned a serious face to his cousin. "'Some modern patrician,' and there was the way paved for my downfall. Fair enough. War is now declared." He felt his mouth. "No girl, sister or not, can shove my front teeth down my neck."

"O, Larr! if you could only have seen yourself! But pax-pax! I said it first. Pax for the day."

"O, very well—just for today, Rip."

They went up the Glen, Larry in the back seat. He had dumped his duffle bag in there and followed it. He leaned forward, his head over the back rest, and one hand softly lifting thru the girl's fine hair.

"Stop tickling Larr!" But she did not shake her head away.

"Nice hirsute ornament!" He sniffed at it. "You've taken to washing and bath salts. Could you see your way to becoming a fair-to-middling Roman—a Catholic, I mean? My parents wouldn't want me to wed a heretic."

The girl threw her head back against his hand. "I've a good mind to take you on the hop, mister, but I'll play fair. Tomorrow evening you are coming to dinner with the Don here. You'll fall for Ann, all right. Wait till you see her. I tried to get my hooks into the Don, but he fell for her even before he kissed me."

"Once only." Diego turned to Larry. "I had to—against her will."

"You beast! And I trying out fast colors," said Hett.

"You will not kiss her again?" Larry lifted a curious eyebrow.

"I will not kiss her again. I have found out in the words of my aunt that she is nice."

"O!" said Henrietta, and leaned forward over the wheel to hide the flush.

"Mind you," said Larry in a rich brogue, "that is one quare reason for not kissing a purty nice girl."

"Blast ye both!" said Hett.

"Good sister, do I gather that you did not appreciate your aunt-out-of-Spain for more reasons than mere feminine egotism?"

"Use language, wouldn't you? You're wrong. I could cut her throat most days, but she can get me, too—any time she wants to. She is game. She is—she is—what is she, Spanish man?"

"Debonair."

"Good! Sometimes she has to let off steam. And the old owl laps it up—loves to have her in a tear that hurts her. After that she apologizes to the owl and expresses her gratitude for what he did for her over the border. But she does not love him. Can you explain her to us, grandson of Spain?"

"It is not difficult to understand her," said Diego. "She is simple. She is a Basque, and she would be the mother of sons. Give her five or ten children—"

"Suppose she fell in love, Don—with Charles or my father or with you?"

"The Basque have a high moral sense."

Larry laughed. "I guess I'll stay plain brother till day after tomorrow. Hello! There's Wally, the Post, giving us a wave. Pull up, Hett?"

"No. Our mother is waiting. You wave back."

They came honking to the gate of Loch Beg Bothy. Aunt Ellen sailed down the path, and her son vaulted the car door.

"You are coming in?" Diego asked.

"Not now. Bring Larry up tomorrow evening. Ann will ring."

The car moved off. Diego picked up the bag and went thru the wicket gate. Aunt Ellen was holding her son by the shoulders and running her eyes over him.

"You've grown half an inch, but you're tall enough, I have the tay drawn. Hamish will be late on the hill."

"Say, old 'umman, what have you been doing to Hett?"

WAR PLANT SHUTDOWNS.

Lt. Gen. Somervell of the army service forces, writing in an industrial trade magazine, says that the army ground forces are so short of some types of equipment that weapons that should be used in training are being shipped abroad for combat use. The shortage is affecting the morale of troops seriously, he asserts, and will not be fully remedied until some time next year.

Gen. Somervell implies that the shortage is the fault of the war production board. He says that the combined chiefs of staff laid out a program of military production for 1943 to cost 92 billion dollars, but the WPB insisted that the nation could not carry so heavy a load, and the program was cut to 75 billions. The priorities given ships and aircraft have imposed a disproportionate share of the cut on supplies for the army ground forces.

His argument would be more convincing if it had not been made public on the day of the announcement that another war plant, built at a cost of tens of millions of dollars by the government, is to be shut down. The standard excuse of "ever changing requirements of the armed forces" was offered. The plant was a TNT works which had been in operation only nine months.

In some instances this excuse may have validity, altho the question remains whether the planners of our armament program should not have been able to foresee the "ever changing requirements." When we go in for mass production, a plant making machines cannot easily be converted to other use if there is an overproduction of the machine that it is tooled to make. An intended shift from ground to aerial warfare thus might explain the shutdown of a tank plant.

But no matter what kind of war we fight, we fight it with high explosives. We shoot them from guns, drop them in bombs, and launch them in torpedoes. Better explosives may be found than TNT, but manufacturing methods will not vary so greatly that plants cannot be converted. If we are shutting down such a plant, the fair assumption is that we built too many of them.

We recently had occasion to comment upon the admirable coöperation of the ordnance corps with industry in improving weapons, simplifying and speeding up manufacturing methods, and saving critical materials. Unfortunately the savings in this field, large as they are, can be more than wiped out if the planners at the top persist in building hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of war plants which are shut down almost as soon as they are finished.

The administration pretends to be greatly exercised over the danger of inflation. Inflation is not caused by rising prices. Those are merely its symptoms. Their cause is the expansion of purchasing power thru government spending. Unneeded war plants and unchecked production of unneeded munitions are a far more important threat of inflation than anything the farm bloc in congress can think up.

PREVENTION OF RIOTS.

A number of persons injured in the Detroit riots have since died. In all, more than 30 persons were killed and the toll may not yet be complete.

A number of investigations have been undertaken with a view to punishing the guilty and preventing a recurrence of the madness. We may hope that something of value will come from these inquiries. We know that the findings of the governor's commission that studied the race riots in Chicago and East St. Louis nearly a generation ago have helped promote better race relations in Illinois.

Detroit will make a mistake, however, if it does nothing more than investigate and prosecute. The rioters got out of hand because Detroit lacked enough police and enough good police to break up the gangs before they started their work of murder and destruction. Once a mob is formed and on the march the problem of preventing it from doing damage is made immensely more difficult. The time to quell a riot is before it begins.

The mayor of Detroit has said that he wants the soldiers to remain within ready call. He can hardly be blamed for that, but he and his community should realize that it is the duty of the local police to keep order in the city. Unless Detroit wishes to come under permanent martial law, directed from Washington, the people of the city had better find out what is wrong with its police force and correct it.

We said when the riot was quelled that we hoped the wholesale blood letting had served to relax the growing tension all over the country. Perhaps that hope will be realized, but neither in Detroit nor anywhere else can the police afford to relax their vigilance.

DRUNKARD'S PROMISE.

The legislature foolishly granted the Cook county board permission to pay its debts by borrowing money on a bond issue, and the passage of the bill was greeted by the commissioners with grandiose promises to follow the paths of financial sanity hereafter. As much faith can be placed in that pledge as in the pledge of a dipsomaniac, and particularly of a dipsomaniac who already has his eye on a nice, big jug of whisky.

The pledge of future economies was given by the same members of the board who put it in the financial hole, by voting budgets based on estimates of revenue which every one of them who can count above 10 knew were as phony as one of Wendell Willkie's speeches. Furthermore, even if the commissioners' intentions are good, they can't do anything about keeping the county in solvent financial condition. They are not their own political masters, and it takes only a snarl from a ward committeeman or a whisper from the direction of the Morrison hotel to make them vote to spend money that they know they haven't got and won't get.

The county's wretched financial condition admittedly required some remedies by the legislature. Some of the bills it passed, increasing county revenues or shifting expenses to other local governments better able to bear them, were justified. The authority to issue bonds was unjustifiable and violated the first principles of public and private finance.

More than 3 million dollars of the 8 million dollars in bond authorization will go to pay a judgment obtained by the city of Chicago for costs of cases tried in the Municipal court, yet the legislature in authorizing this payoff failed to correct this unjustifiable charge by the city against the county. The city will go right on billing these costs and from time to time reducing them to judgment if they are not paid, and the Municipal court costs alone will amount to more than any possible savings to be made by clearing up unpaid bills with the remainder of the bond issue.

The bonds were authorized without a referendum, for the very good reason that the citizens of Cook county, who will have to pay the taxes to retire them, would never approve them if a referendum were held.

BILLS TO ENCOURAGE INCOMPETENCE.

The legislature, in that bemused condition which it never seems to be able to avoid on the last day of a session, passed two bills which make hash of civil service in Illinois by forbidding the setting of any educational requirement as a prerequisite to appointment to state office or to a civil service examination for such a position. The bills make it legally possible to put a sewer laborer in the post of a sanitary engineer.

Educational requirements, particularly requirements of specialized professional training, offer the most practicable way of assuring the competence of public employes. The actual civil service examinations cannot take their place, because it is impossible to make such an examination as comprehensive a test of knowledge and training as is imposed by the institutions that grant professional degrees.

The bills were put over by the oratorical enthusiasm of Sen. Wallace Thompson, a first termer from Galesburg, whose argument was that they were necessary to assure jobs for returning veterans of the present war. Hundreds of thousands of soldiers and sailors have interrupted their education to go into uniform, and Sen. Thompson argued that if the barriers are not removed they will find themselves ineligible to take examinations for certain civil service jobs when they return to civilian life. That is an unsound argument. It would be no kindness to a returned veteran to place him in a job for which he was not qualified and it would certainly be a great disservice to the people of Illinois, who would pay for his service.

We will have a great debt to discharge to the veterans of this war, but that can best be discharged by helping them to complete their education, not by giving them jobs that they are not trained to fill. Sen. Thompson did not explain why, if the bills are designed to aid veterans, they should be made effective immediately, when there are almost no veterans about to take advantage of them. The bills are screwball legislation and they should not be allowed to get on the statute books.

THREE CABLES FROM LONDON.

LONDON, June 30 (AP).—Brig. Gen. H. P. Croft, parliamentary undersecretary of state for war, today told the house of lords that Bernard Paget, commander of the home forces, had directed the removal of all defense obstructions that can be dispensed with. Among those being removed are anti-tank ditches, barbed wire barriers, and road obstructions.

Meanwhile, in opening a civil defense debate in commons, Ellen Wilkinson, parliamentary undersecretary of the home office, announced a sharp reduction in Britain's air raid defense forces.

Balancing the German threats of reprisals for the bombing of vital Nazi industries, Miss Wilkinson reported the civil defense establishment had been cut a third.

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—A large number of American and Canadian troops has crossed the Atlantic during May and June without loss, it was reliably reported today. One unofficial British military observer said they came in strength which "has exceeded the highest hopes." Virtually no ships have been lost in the North Atlantic during the two months, according to the best reports.

LONDON, July 1.—Reports of whippings for offenses arising from political disturbances show that in three districts in India's province of Sindh 800 such penalties have been inflicted in the last three months.

This was stated in the house of commons today by Samuel S. Silverman, Laborite, who asked India Secretary L. S. Amery whether he would publish full records of the last year's whipping penalties in British India.

POOR JOBS FOR BOYS.

[Richmond News Leader.]

If you are interested in a boy who says he is changing jobs to "get more money," try to ascertain the nature of the work he is quitting and of the work he expects to do. Unless the boy has other persons desperately dependent on him, the guiding consideration ought not to be what the new position pays, but what it teaches and what it promises for the future. Does the high wage simply cover a temporary job in which a boy will learn nothing? When the war is over, will the boy be able to continue profitably at the job? If he is going to be called next year to enter the army, will he meantime have laid the foundation of an apprenticeship in a trade or will he simply have learned to do some work for which there is to be no demand in peace time? Of course, it is hard to make an inexperienced boy see the importance of his decision when he knows he will go into the army next autumn or next year, but if he can get a chance now to start at a trade, instead of a mere job, he can come from the war and start at something which will yield him a decent living as long as he can work. It is not the starting pay that counts; it is the continuing pay.

BUROCRACY AT WORK.

[Indianapolis News.]

Six weeks ago the News published in these columns a few critical notes about the federal government's wastefulness in permitting 750 metal wheelbarrows to rust away in a south side yard—750 wheelbarrows which had been used by the defunct WPA and which were frozen in every market. Two weeks later—a month ago today, in fact—the News attacked federal burocrats who were insisting on the satisfaction of red tape formulas before they would permit the release of those barrows for sale.

Indianapolis gardeners are now learning the anger-provoking intricacies of federal red tape. Those 750 metal wheelbarrows — worth almost $5,000 at rock bottom wholesale prices—are still rotting away while federal burocrats refuse to sell them to gardeners on the spot, but insist on bids being submitted in Chicago.

This is not an isolated case. It just happens to have come close to home this time. This is the sort of thing which has been driving American business men frantic for years.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the gibes fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS ENDS A WEEK.

3d July—Came thru the cold wave in good shape by carrying and wearing a topcoat in San Francisco style, and saw many of my friends shivering in their tropical weaves. Of course they greeted me enviously, and asked if I didn't know it was summer, as if dressing to the weather were against the rules.

In the cool, invigorating breezes discovered it was hard to remember how hot I had been last week, altho at the time my discomfort seemed unforgettable. No doubt the human mind is arranged so as to forget physical distress quickly, and perhaps that is the reason why war has not yet been banished from this planet.

Went to a ceremony at which my old clubfellow, Jens Jensen, the landscape architect, was awarded a gold medal, which he has richly deserved, for much of the beauty of our public parks is due to him. The open air and communion with nature in which his life has been spent have kept him hale and hearty, and unbent by the years that have piled upon his shoulders to the number of 82. One of the speakers testified that upon festive occasions in his home he dances the Virginia reel with the wildness of the dancing Indians in John McCutcheon's drawing, "Indian Summer."

This medal presentation was held before a goodly company of nature lovers and horticulturists in the garden court of the Art institute, a sunken retreat where peace dwells beside a fountain. Not many people go there, and I thought, "What a place for a summer beer garden, with band music!" Did not breathe this idea, however, for fear of profaning the sacred precincts.

Now for the Fourth of July, hoping the anniversary of our liberties will bring a great victory to our arms in some quarter of the world.

"FIRST GENTLEMAN."

"First gentleman of Chicago," Woollcott called him,
A title that John McCutcheon richly deserves;
Associate of the high and the mighty always,
His generous, kindly bearing never unnerves
Accessible, pleasant, he greeted me years ago;
I had an assignment to get his whole life story,
And lo! he had mine, before I could even know!
And then he told me, as one addressing an equal,
His hunting adventures in Africa with T. R.,
Mentioned the days when he was a lad at Manila,
Told of his many meanderings afar;
Told of Sam Insull's asking him what it meant;
Asked if there were any more ways he could help me,
Leaving no doubt of his honest and earnest intent;
Learned of my secret ambition to write good stories;
Said he'd be glad, if I wanted, to read my tale—
A feeble attempt, so limping and incoherent—

Letter to a Puppy's Owner.

If he cries at night, and he will, and you can't stand it any longer, which you can't, and you can't shut him up, which is impossible, just take him to bed with you. You will, anyway.

If you wake up in the morning and find the satin binder chewed off your best blanket, which you might, think nothing of it. It's more fun!

I told you he'd go to sleep as soon as you snuggled him in bed with you. O, ho . . . the laugh's on you; once you do it he'll never sleep any place else.

But suppose he's an unusual dog, and does sleep in his box, and doesn't cry at night. Better beware! Don't be surprised to find the heel chewed off of your shoe, the cuff chewed off your pants, or even a hole in the middle of the rug. And don't think you're dreaming if you notice the dresser standing on all three instead of the usual four. After all, he's got to sharpen his teeth. It's all in preparation for your protection.

You're worn out, you're exasperated, you're up at dawn and a couple of times during the night. You want to kill him . . . you can't . . . you love him . . . and he's so cute! Don't tell me raising a dog ain't work.

Well, it won't last long. He'll settle down as soon as he finds out he's boss and is sure if he hollers long enough he'll get his own way. After all, that's his only way of talking to you.

The moral of the story is: don't try to sleep for the first six weeks; don't try to work or shave; don't even try to live. The dog is mad about you. He loves you. He can't bear to let you out of his sight.

The sooner you give up trying to act like a normal human being the sooner your dog will settle down. Now you're both on the same level, the dog never cries, and everybody's happy!

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS.

(A Brookfield Ballad.)

Drive out on Ogden avenue
Until an arrow on a sign
Points the way to nature's shrine;
Then when the road forks, go the way
That other traffic seems to stray,
Right thru the town, and as you pass
You'll see fine homes and lovely grass;
And up one street and down the next,
Note how each byway intersects.
(If you still want to see the zoo,
Just ask some one, the way I do!)

NATURAL AIDS TO HEALTH.

WHILE thousands of individuals journey to mineral springs in search of health, the wonder is that more do not avail themselves of the opportunity. The Romans gave the world public baths which were constructed, as a rule, in the vicinity of artesian wells, or wherever water bubbled from the earth.

Older New Englanders can recall the water cure in Brattleboro, Vt., which was the mecca of thousands of invalids. Other localities became popular, only to decline at the hands of promoters. There remain, however, numerous notable centers of physical restoration.

Many of us have become so accustomed to taking things out of a bottle that we have forgotten the benefits of physiotherapy — water, sunlight, exercise, massage, electricity, etc. The employment of these forces prolongs the life of the blood channels, thus sparing the heart and kidneys. Half the deaths which occur in the later decades can be ascribed to the wearing out of the circulatory apparatus. While we cannot defeat time, we can maintain efficiency by saving our arteries.

Another great destroyer of comfort and activity is arthritis. And, here again, spas offer real aid. A bath in naturally carbonated water will have the effect of slowing the pulse rate and reducing the pound within the vessels. In many instances, a consistently lower pressure will follow. This may be because more blood reaches the skin and the extremities.

Now, all this has a marked influence upon metabolism. Dormant cells are reawakened and elimination is stimulated. In consequence, muscles become more pliable and joints more flexible. It is not an uncommon experience to find one seriously crippled with arthritis able to move hitherto rigid "hinges" after a few weeks of heat and massage. A day or two will not accomplish much. Persistence is demanded.

But, you say, "I cannot go away or visit some distant spot." The advantage of leaving home lies in rest and freedom from household and business cares. Furthermore, attention is focused sharply upon the main objective — daily treatments which may be organized on an orderly program.

But much can be done in the home tub. Chemicals can be obtained which will impregnate the water with carbon dioxide. Even without this material, a regular schedule of immersion, with the temperature of the fluid so adjusted that exhaustion will not come, will prove valuable in getting rid of toxins which have proved stubbornly resistant.

With the warmer season at hand, we may well recall the utility of sunbaths, which increase the stores of vitamin D within the body. But a coat of tan must be accumulated slowly. The first exposure may be but a few seconds. Gradually, the interval is lengthened until several minutes [front and back] may be sustained without the risk of a burn. Marked redness of the epidermis which persists for more than five hours points to an overdose.

While no fountain of youth exists anywhere, we can look to nature's agents as preservers of well being. Use them wisely, particularly in chronic disorders, and we will long delay the onset of incapacity.

LEAK AND FATIGUE.

REPLY.

Not unless the heart muscle has become so weak that circulation is inadequate. Look for some other cause, such as anemia, insufficient rest, or poor nutrition.

COMPLICATIONS.

REPLY.

Resistance is lowered, the bronchi are inflamed, and the stage is set for the infection.

INDIVIDUAL INITIATIVE IN WASHINGTON

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

BUROCRAT ON BUROCRACY.

Chicago, June 30.—"All this, I want to emphasize, is burocracy at its worst; it is utterly inexcusable in a nation at war." This agonized bleat did not emanate from a Roosevelt hater or from one of the filthy rich, but from Henry Wallace, Vice President of the United States and a famous exponent of government by departmental edict and decree.

PRAISE FROM MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 25.—Your paper is deserving of special commendation for the fine work you have done in reducing sulphite waste in your paper mill to the useful product of alcohol. Pollution of our streams and rivers is one of the most dastardly of civilization's crimes. Your example in this forward step towards cleaning up such pollution is a tremendous advance and we hope it will serve as an example to be followed by other paper mills.

You are, also, to be complimented upon the fine newspaper you are publishing and the excellent editorial page. Altho our community needs it very badly, there is no independent, outspoken press in Minnesota. You are carrying a fight for millions of Americans in all parts of the United States, whereas, in Minnesota there is no large newspaper with the courage to expose the doings of the burocrats and the plans of the subversive elements for making over our American republic.

PAUL CLEMENT.

"NOT FOR PUBLICATION."

Watervliet, Mich., June 29.—Recently I wrote you a personal letter criticizing the highway enforcement squads of the OPA who check cars for gas rationing violations. Also, I voiced, probably, too candid remarks regarding same.

My letter to you was personal and with no thought of publication. It would be hard to realize my amazement when a friend called my attention to this letter published under Voice of the People in Monday's TRIBUNE.

KENNETH BOWYER.

(Mr. Bowyer's letter was addressed simply to the editor of The Tribune. It is the practice of all newspapers that print letters from their readers to consider letters so addressed as submitted for publication in the absence of any indication to the contrary.)

MINOR WAGE EARNERS.

Chicago, June 24.—There are a large number of boys and girls now employed who no doubt will be allowed an exemption of $12 a week in income tax deductions, being classed as single persons.

However, as they are minors the fathers or mothers will receive exemption under the classification as dependents. If this duplication of exemptions is not rectified promptly Dad will have a rude awakening when he files his final return on March 15. DADDY.

SHE LOVES IT.

Chicago, June 30.—Born and raised in Chicago, I never care to leave it. Why? The weather, for one reason. Sunday—97 degrees of heat. Off to the beach. Tuesday—temperature down to 50. Where's that fur collared coat?

No one with a sense of humor could fail to find a zest for living in a spot where the weather man was given to playing such tricks. A. E. M.

FOR A PUNIC PEACE.

Sacramento, Cal., June 25.—Berlin's Wilhelmstrasse has housed a succession of foreign secretaries, not one of whom ever quite fathomed American philosophy. If there had not been, back in 1848, a series of European revolutions, it might have been different. These were suppressed bloodily. Many of those who could escape came here, became American citizens. These usually were not only deep thinkers, and men of action, they also were fathers of many. [The writer's own 48er grandfather had 46 grandchildren.] Such as he understood democracy.

In China, before World War I., such German officers would blurt out: "You come from, not Amer-ika, but Dollar-ika. You, like the English, are mere shopkeepers. That is why you never dared take Mexico, with matchless natural wealth. That is why you abandoned Cuba, richer than Java. You have no officer caste. But why even shopkeepers gave up what you called the 'unjust part' of Boxer indemnity when you had the gold in your paws . . . that is utterly beyond us!"

It was such folk that, in 1914, formed the Kaiser gang that today make the Nazi-gang. Is it not time we awaken to the danger of a soft peace? We thus lost World War I. How do we know our democracy could survive a World War III.? C. M. GOETHE.

THE WORST SHORTAGE.

Peoria, Ill., June 25.—We hear a lot of chattering from Washington about the man power shortage but not a word about the brain power shortage in that city. F. F. KNEER.

PINBALL RACKET.

Chicago, June 28.—The pinball game racketeers are taking the city over in regular Jesse James style. They are putting pinball games right into the windows of the hamburger stands, taverns, drug stores, and cigar stores. These lawbreakers are out to snatch the lunch money from schoolboys in their teens.

Mayor Kelly certainly cannot be aware of what these mobsters are doing, as he fathered and approved the ordinance forbidding these devices in Chicago. What has become of our police captains, who are being paid taxpayers' money to enforce the laws? Most, if not all, of these machines are operated by a greedy mob of gangsters who are not paying Uncle Sam his federal licenses required on these gaming devices. J. W. S.

LABOR DRAFT.

Chicago, June 28.—In my opinion the factor which caused congress to override the President's veto of the anti-strike bill was the President's alternative proposal that he be given power to draft men up to 65 years of age. He said that it would apply to strikers only, but congress was not fooled. Many people believe the President is opposed to a labor draft, but this is not true. The draft of labor has long been the apple of his eye and only widespread opposition to it has stayed his hand. He tried to use the coal strike to slip it over, but thanks to an alert congress his desire for more absolute power has been checked.

FISHING LICENSE.

Chicago, July 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—While fishing from the breakwater south of the Montrose avenue beach, I was informed by the park police that I must have a fishing license and was instructed to procure one before I went fishing again. Altho the police took names and wrote out tickets for others fishing near me, they did not issue one for me when I stated that I was under the impression that Lake Michigan was "navigable" water and as such was not subject to the laws of the state of Illinois. I was told that I was incorrect, that for the past five years an Illinois fishing license has been necessary to fish legally from the Illinois shore of Lake Michigan. Will you, therefore, answer the following questions:

1. Must I procure an Illinois fishing license to fish from the Illinois shores of Lake Michigan?
2. Would the restrictions on the number of fish hooks on a line, as well as other types of equipment, apply?
3. In the event that I go fishing again without an Illinois license, what steps shall I take in case I should desire to take the case to the courts? E. B.

1. Yes. 2. Yes. 3. Comply with the instructions that you have received.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WANTS DIVORCE.

Chicago, July 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have been married 16 years but [1] never carried my husband's name and [2] never lived with him. Can I get a divorce? 3. He is now in prison. I am not able to pay an attorney's fee so can you tell me [4] where to go for help. I know where my husband is. 5. Do I have to let him know my intention? T. D.

1 and 2. These facts would not be enough to justify divorce or annulment.

3. If he has been convicted of a felony, this would be a ground for divorce.

4. Where it appears, after investigation and recommendation by a social agency, that a divorce is necessary for the proper protection of the family and the client is able to pay an attorney, the legal aid bureau of the United Charities, 330 South Wells street, Chicago, sometimes furnishes assistance, but there is no other agency thru which one can avoid paying an attorney's fees. The mere fact that you have legal grounds and that the payment will involve some sacrifice for you will not suffice.

5. Yes.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

"AUTOMATIC" DIVORCE.

Chicago, June 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Is there such a thing as an "automatic" divorce? A. J.

Not in Illinois.

Test Your Horse Sense

By George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 6.

1. People who have difficulty seeing at night are urged to consume foods that are rich in Vitamin A Vitamin B Vitamin C Vitamin D
2. About what fraction of the air we breathe is oxygen?
   1/5 ⅓ ⅙ ⅜
3. Which one of these substances is not inflammable?
   Benzine Naphtha Carbon Tetrachloride Gasoline
4. Which one of these words is inappropriate in this general grouping?
   Ivory Woodbury Palmolive Topaz
5. The bathing season is on, so practice the following method for learning how to hold your breath several minutes. Without preliminary deep breathing, draw one full breath and hold it. You should average 30 seconds. Then rest a while and after 12 deep breaths taken in rapid succession, hold the 13th breath. You should reach 60 seconds before being forced to get a fresh breath. Now rest again for a few minutes. Then breathe 12 times in rapid succession, but hold the 13th deep breath. Also pinch your nostrils shut and keep your lips tightly compressed, so you have a closed air system. After 30 seconds, begin to belch and swallow; belch and swallow, but always with your closed air system. Thus, you can readily attain 1½ minutes.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

Holiday Week-End Will Offer Variety of Events in Society

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE stay-at-homes will have no complaints of a lack of entertainment over this long Fourth of July week-end, for the full program of events planned for the gay, informal holiday ranges from family gatherings to dinner-dances at the various clubs.

At the family farm in Wadsworth, members of the large Dennehy clan will be gathering tomorrow for a picnic that has become a Fourth of July tradition of years' standing, anticipated alike by the children and their elders. On hand for the celebration will be Maj. and Mrs. Thomas C. Dennehy, the Charles Dennehys, the John I. Dennehys, the Hempstead Washburnes, the Charles F. Clarkes, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Galitzine, and the Ralph N. Ishams and their various children, and Miss Leontine and Miss Lillian Inderrieden.

This summer Maj. and Mrs. Dennehy have rented their Lake Forest home to Mrs. Phelps Hoyt. Maj. Dennehy is stationed at the quartermaster depot on the south side, so he is able to spend week-ends with his family on their farm between Grays lake and Mundelein.

Dinner-Dance Included in Onwentsia Program.

Since the Shoreacre club's golf course has been taken over by Great Lakes, its members are sharing the facilities of the Onwentsia and will be in on the festivities planned for this week-end at the latter club. Tonight there will be a dinner-dance, with the Kent Clows' party for Miss Lucia Winston among the private gatherings. Monday members will compete for the honor of having their name inscribed on the John Hamline cup. Another golf event will be the match for the governors' cup of Shoreacres.

Tonight's formal party at the Knollwood club will be resplendent with gold braid, for the dinner-dance has been planned as a special navy celebration. The Chicago Yacht club's Independence day dinner-dance will be given on Monday at the Belmont harbor clubhouse.

Since so many young men are at home on leave from army and navy posts, the South Shore Country club has planned two dances over the week-end. Tonight the Independence day ball will draw a large quota of evening gowns and uniforms. Monday night's party will be an informal buffet dinner, with dancing out of doors if the weather permits.

Lake Geneva Club Will Hold Lobster Luncheon.

The Chicago colony at Lake Geneva will be turning out tomorrow for the annual lobster and crabmeat luncheon at the Lake Geneva club, which has given the party every year since 1898. The Big Foot Country club at the other end of the lake will touch off its festivities with a dinner-dance tonight.

Tonight's and tomorrow afternoon's concerts at Ravinia Park and the races this afternoon and Monday at Washington Park provide other pleasant holiday fare. Today's event at Washington Park, which is host this summer to the races usually held at Arlington, will be the rich Lassie stakes, and Monday's will be the Stars and Stripes. Among those expected to have entries are Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan, Warren Wright, William du Pont, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Capt. Louis Lee Haggin II., Mrs. Esther du Pont Weir, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Col. Cornelius V. Whitney, and Cleaveland Putnam.

The Saddle and Cycle, which originally had planned a nautical party for tonight, has postponed it until July 10, when lobsters will be imported from Maine for a shore dinner.

Most of the clubs are foregoing their traditional fireworks displays because of the war, but many of the children's parties will be given as usual. Ponies, clowns, and swimming and running races will be part of the Sunset Ridge Country club's party at 2:30 p. m. on Monday.

Mrs. Hooper and Her Daughters in Virginia.

Mrs. Henry Hooper and her two daughters, Alice and Anne, left on Wednesday for Virginia Hot Springs, where they have taken a house. They were accompanied by Mrs. Horatio B. Hackett, who will remain for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Rawleigh are rejoicing because their son, Lt. Rawleigh Jr., has landed in this country after serving in the Tunisian campaign in Africa. They have not seen him yet but have talked to him by telephone. Lt. Rawleigh is hoping to join his wife, the former Florence Booker, soon in Louisville, Ky. At present Mrs. Rawleigh is at the family's farm near Delavan, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ballard Moore have gone to their summer home in Hot Springs, Va. During their absence Mrs. Moore left her collection of plants in the care of Mrs. John V. Farrell III.

Miss Joan Mitchell has joined the art colony at Saugatuck, Mich., to study painting for three weeks. The younger daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Herbert Mitchell is on this year's debutante list, altho she probably will not have a formal party.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zendt have moved from the Seneca hotel to the house which they have occupied for the last 30 summers in Wilmette.

Taking Part in Sub-Debutante Gayety

Miss Joyce Cummings and her fellow sub-debutantes will be having one of their gayest whirls of the summer this week-end because of the two day holiday. The elder daughter of Lt. and Mrs. Dexter Cummings will be returning to the Ethel Walker school in the fall. Lt. Cummings, who is stationed with the navy in Washington, D. C., will be returning to Lake Forest later this summer to spend his leave with his family. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Tribune Adopts Simplified Plan for Presenting Ration News

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

THE TRIBUNE today uses a new method of presenting point value and price information to the housewives of Chicagoland.

This method is the result of information obtained by THE TRIBUNE among grocers, butchers, and housewives. The new form will present the news more succinctly and will be easier for the housewives to assimilate than the long lists, formerly published at the request of the office of price administration.

Newspapers today are faced with a drastic paper shortage and at the same time are asked to print more and more war news, announcements of casualties, and information concerning war drives and army and navy recruiting programs. The new system of presenting OPA changes will somewhat alleviate the paper shortage and at the same time, as disclosed by the survey, will be of greater value to the housewife.

The frequent changes in price and point values have caused the women shoppers of Chicagoland to depend upon the word of grocers and butchers, rather than maintaining a complicated kitchen bookkeeping system, the survey proved.

With the introduction of the rationing system, housewives at first clipped the point value lists published in the newspapers and pasted them in convenient locations in their kitchens. As the points continued to vary from month to month and price changes grew more numerous, women found themselves faced not only with the task of balancing their budgets and their meals but also with a complicated rationing system.

The majority of grocers and butchers thruout the city have come to their aid by marking the point value and price on each item on the shelves and in the cases. In addition, the markets have placed in prominent locations their price ceiling lists for shoppers to consult. It has become no longer necessary for the housewife to do this from her own lists, the survey determined.

"We have between 800 and 1,000 women customers a day and, in all the time since rationing began, I have seen only two women with OPA newspaper lists in their hands," John Butikoser, manager of a chain grocery market at 559 East 79th street, said yesterday. "Few women even consult the lists we have posted in the store. Most of them go by the points on the cans."

Joseph Holly, manager of a meat market at 3356 Bryn Mawr avenue, said he believed none of his customers carried the lists while shopping. "They have all the junk they can carry now without hauling those around," he explained. "It seems to me that our customers are pretty well informed and those that aren't consult our lists. We have no trouble at all."

Housewives were in agreement with the grocers and butchers. Typical of the statements taken from women in all parts of the city was that of Mrs. Margaret Lovell, 4337 North Kimball avenue. "All I pay attention to is when the stamps are due and expire," she said. "I never look at the price ceiling lists. As far as prices and points are concerned, I just take my grocer's and butcher's word for them."

"Women today have to be bookkeepers as well as housewives if they keep track of all the OPA changes," Mrs. Albert A. McKeighan, 661 Illinois road, Wilmette, maintained. "I don't have time myself. Besides, I don't think there is much use to it since the markets publicize the lists. I buy what I can get, pay what they tell me, and that's about all anybody can do."

The consensus was the same thruout Chicago. It was also disclosed that housewives prefer to read a news story rather than a list of figures.

Now read the story of the changes.

Point and Price Changes

Higher point values for all cuts of beef, sharp increases in the coupon values of canned fish and some canned vegetables and fruits, and a 5 to 7 cent per pound reduction in butter prices from a month ago will prevail in all retail stores in the Chicago metropolitan area starting tomorrow.

Chicago prices of 1,500 items covered by a new list that includes meats, processed foods, fats, and some soaps will be extended to all of Cook, Du Page and Lake counties in Illinois and to Lake county, Ind. Previous lists carried different prices for suburban areas.

The OPA said the present meat supply situation was responsible for the decision to increase beef point values another point per pound [in a few instances two points] and predicted a new low in beef supplies available for civilian use in July. The most popular cuts of beef will be valued at 9 to 13 points per pound, with hamburger up one point to seven.

Michael F. Mulcahey, OPA director for the Chicago area, said that altho the new point and price tables were scheduled to remain in effect until Aug. 1, any appreciable lessening in the supply of beef might bring changes sooner.

The OPA failed to reduce point values on any pork cuts except low valued plates. Stockyards receipts of live hogs have been so large recently that the war food administration only this week asked farmers to hold back shipments because the market was glutted.

The OPA also increased the value of four cuts of veal and four of lamb and mutton by one or two red points. Chops and steaks got higher ratings. The new range for veal cuts will be 3 to 12 points, and for lamb and mutton, 1 to 10 points.

Retailers for the first time were given tables combining point values with dollars and cents ceilings, and were warned to post both in clear view in their stores.

Prices of all types of foods for the most part were not changed, but there were point reductions of one red point per pound in margarine and for lard and in cheeses classed in groups 2 and 3.

Following are the more important changes:

Meats.

BEEF—Eleven to 13 points per pound for all steaks, except 9 points for chuck or shoulder. Roasts, 8 to 12 points. Stews, 6 to 8 points. Hamburger, 7 points. No price changes.

VEAL—Steaks and chops, 6 to 12 points. Roasts, 5 to 8 points. Stews, 3 to 6 points. No price changes.

LAMB AND MUTTON—Steaks and chops, 7 to 10 points. Roasts, 4 to 7 points. Stews and other cuts, 1 to 6 points, the latter for patties. No change in prices.

PORK—Steaks and chops, fresh and cured, 6 to 10 points. Roasts, fresh and cured, 5 to 10 points, the latter for boneless ham slices. Other cuts, 1 to 4 points. No price changes, except slight reductions in boneless and fatted hams and cuts.

BACON—No point or price changes.

VARIETY MEATS—Unchanged in price and point values.

Canned Fish.

Salmon, sardines, bonito, mackerel, shrimp, tuna, and yellowtail—All increased 4 points per pound to 12 points. Oysters, up 2 points to 5. No price changes.

Catsup and Chili Sauce.

Approximately 50 per cent increase in point values. Increases range from 10 to 15 points for popular 10-14 ounce sizes to 29 to 46 points for No. 3 restaurant size containers. Prices unchanged.

Butter.

Point value unchanged at 8 per pound, prices reduced 5 to 7 cents a pound from a month ago. New prices range from 48 to 51 cents a pound for 93 score [highest grade] to 46½ to 49 cents for 89 score, depending on size of store and method of packaging. All quarter pound packages now 12 or 12½ cents.

Cheeses.

All prices unchanged. Cheddar varieties unchanged in point value, but decreases for creamed, neufchatel, creamed cottage, Swiss, brick munster, and most other rationed cheeses.

Milk—Unrationed.

Milk was made an exception to the flat price schedule for the entire area because of basic price differences in various milk producing regions, Mulcahy said. Standard milk and buttermilk prices were made equal thruout the area at 14½ cents for quarts and 27 cents for half gallons; dealers are permitted to charge 4 cents more per gallon in Lake county, Indiana, but can collect 1 cent per pint less than in the rest of the area. Smart Colors Introduced in New Hosiery

BY REA SEEGER.

Smart new hosiery has arrived, just in time for the busy summer shopper sleuthing for something different. The newest is spun rayon in ice cream colors. These stockings provide a delectable colored accent for cool white or summer shades of footgear.

Three flattering shades are featured, including pink and pistachio green, all super sheer to assure cool comfort as well as cooling color. The mesh is thin ribbed, to create the illusion of slenderness for particular shoppers who have shuddered over too thick weaves. The stockings have been designed and dyed expressly for spectator sports costumes but the colors also will blend with white or pastel cotton daytime dresses and suits.

See the ink black silk mesh stockings if you would have a shopping thrill. Every inch is of silk. It's worth the price alone just to feel this lovely silk. These are the rather wicked looking mesh weaves to wear for dress parade with your best and smartest black crepes and hot weather sheers or your precious high heel sandals. Of course they're going out fast, so if you crave all-silks trot downtown as soon as possible.

Also you'll see the newest summer "peds," those tricky foot slippers of a jerseylike material. Designed for the gals who hesitate to slide their bare feet into the clammy interiors of any footwear, these peds gained instant popularity. The three new summer colors—scarlet, green, and blue—will be welcomed gleefully. They're good looking enough to wear around the house as slippers, for the colors are stunning.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Reel of Pasadena, Cal., formerly of Hinsdale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Midshipman Charles Dixon Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton of St. Joseph, Mo. Miss Reel, a senior at Stanford university, is attending the summer school at Northwestern university. Her fiancé attended Culver Military academy and the University of Missouri and was graduated in March from Stanford. He is attending the naval reserve midshipmen's school at Northwestern.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. McCreadie of Lake Shore drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Marie Amy, to Richard D. Snow Jr., second class petty officer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Snow of Spencer, Mass. Miss McCreadie attended Knox college and Wright Junior college. Her fiancé is stationed overseas.

Miss Thompson to Be Bride in Florida Today

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Thompson of the Drake are in Jacksonville, Fla., today for the marriage of their daughter, Phyllis, to Lt. Robert Bruce Smythe, U. S. N. R. The wedding will take place at 4:30 p. m. in the naval air station chapel, with a reception following at the Florida Yacht club. Unfortunately, few friends of the Thompson family will be present, but the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Celia Kelly Smythe of New Orleans, La., and some relatives and friends of the Smythe family who live in New Orleans and Mexico City will be there.

Miss Kathryn Register of Jacksonville will be Miss Thompson's maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Martha Williamson of Cleveland, O., and Miss Alys Faurot, who made the trip south from Chicago at the same time that Mr. Thompson did. Dr. W. S. Tucker of New Orleans will be best man. Lt. Smythe and his bride will live in a little house at Mayport Beach near the air station, where he is stationed with the navy dental corps, after a 10 day trip to Sea Island, Ga.

The chapel of the Holy Name cathedral will be the scene at noon today of the marriage of Miss Katharine Gilman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Gilman of East Bellevue place, to Capt. James M. Tucker of the army medical corps, son of Mrs. Francis J. Tucker of Philadelphia. Msgr. Joseph Morrison will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception in the Gilman home.

Here from Philadelphia for the wedding are William Mueller, who will be his brother-in-law's best man, and Mrs. Mueller, and another sister, Miss Pamela Tucker. Mrs. William Felton will be matron of honor. Capt. Tucker and his bride will spend his week's leave driving to his army post, Camp Phillips, Kas.

In St. Luke's church, River Forest, Miss Eleanor Marie Lawlor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Lawlor of Hollis, Long Island, and Lt. [j. g.] Edward T. McDonnell of Chicago will be married at 10 a. m. today. Mrs. Joseph Barry Yost of Westport, Conn., will attend the bride, and Lt. McDonnell's best man will be his brother, John. John Lawlor will give his sister in marriage. A reception will follow at the Butterfield Country club in Hinsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. McDonnell are here from Moline, Ill., for their son's wedding. The bride is a graduate of the Packard school in New York. Lt. McDonnell attended the University of Iowa. For the last year he has shared bachelor quarters with a group of naval officers living in the Merrill Shepard house at 81 East Elm street.

Two weddings which took place yesterday in the Highland Park Presbyterian church were of unusual interest because the two bridegrooms, Lt. Kenneth Moody Jones and Ensign William Macfarlane Jones, served as best man for each other. Lt. Jones and Miss Elizabeth Anne Johnson, daughter of the Reginald C. Johnsons of Highland Park, were married at 4 p. m. The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Jean Wampler to Ensign Jones took place at 8:30 p. m. The two officers are not related, altho they are lifelong friends and attended Dartmouth college together.

Lt. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Jones of Highland Park, and his bride will go to Boca Raton, Fla., where he is training with the army air forces.

Following the marriage of Miss Wampler and Ensign Jones, a reception was given at the Exmoor club by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cloud Wampler of Syracuse, N. Y., formerly of Highland Park. Ensign Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Jones of Highland Park, and his bride will be at home on the south side of Chicago.

The marriage of Miss Lois Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johann S. Ackerman of Lake Shore drive, to Corp. Morton Sumner Postelnek of the army, son of Mrs. Peter Postelnek of Farwell avenue, will take place at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Joseph Bond Memorial chapel of the University of Chicago. After the ceremony a reception will be given in Swift hall. The bride attended the Milwaukee Downer college and now is in her senior year at the University of Chicago. Corp. Postelnek, who is a graduate of the latter school, is stationed at Warrenton, Va.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

Hollywood Drammer League.

Hollywood, Cal., July 2.—Every one in Hollywood not in a studio is a repressed actor. It is a remarkable characteristic of the town. Go into a drug store and the counter girl serves you coffee with the manner grand. She wears false eyelashes and that pancake makeup that hides all, and has the throaty elocution of her high school drama class. Get on a bus and the man in front of you, an elderly man with exquisite mustaches, is greeting the driver with the "Ah! Good morning!" of a Shakespearean cavalier. The hamburger man performs extraordinary convolutions as he flips a hamburger, and the salesgirl wears a Veronica Lake pout and slinkiness. You end up convinced there isn't an honest movement or emotion in the town.

This extends to unusual fields, even those of the quick and the dead. Several years ago the cemeteries here went in for drama in a big way. They advertised with full pages and neon signs, each outdoing the other in telling a dying world the glories of its superior dirt. Only one held aloof. This was one billed as Beautiful Hollywood cemetery, which houses the relics of Rudolph Valentino, among others. At last it, too, succumbed, and came out with mammoth advertisments saying of itself: "The cemetery which does not advertise."

Even a fire cannot be extinguished honestly. Some time ago fire broke out in the Melrose Grotto grill and bar, a tavern across the way from the Paramount studios. It was not a big fire, and the fire department soon had it under control, but at the last minute some one realized that that great hero of screened catastrophe, Gary Cooper, was working at the studio that day. Officials raced to find Mr. Cooper and soon, clad in fireman's attire and helmet and wielding a hose, that gallant was climbing over the smoking ruins while cameras turned.

A beautiful example of Hollywood's amateur acting came the other dawn when Ciro's, a night club where the movie elite are wont to gather, caught on fire under fairly mysterious circumstances. Fire first started at 4 a. m., after the customers had gone and the money had been hauled away. At 6 a. m. it started again in two spots, and a great crowd gathered, for this was better than any spectacle in the Hollywood bowl, and near-wit flowed like water.

Some one commented on the smoke, and his neighbor retorted, in a shout that carried thru the crowd, that a little smoke wouldn't hurt Ciro's bourbon. Every one applauded this. Then a soldier said it probably was his fault. "I told the bartender just tonight when he charged me a buck for a rotten drink that I hoped the filthy place burned to the ground," he moaned. The crowd roared again.

Then the firemen took over the entertainment field. Occasionally they would turn off the nozzles of their hoses, lean back against a wall, and exchange witticisms with the crowd. This was thought charming. Finally one fireman called down to a buddie, "Got a cigaret, chum?" Chum didn't, but, turning his hose off, he went inside the burning club and retrieved a new pack of cigarets. Emerging, he tossed this up to the fireman, but the fireman missed and the cigarets fell on a ledge. The fireman on the roof eyed the pack cagily and then turned off his hose. Smiling broadly at the crowd, he did a little two-step out along the ledge and retrieved the pack. He stood there and opened them, removed a cigaret, lighted it, and then, with a gallant bow to his audience, sauntered back to his hose. The crowd applauded magnificently. This was a fire in true Hollywood manner. Gary Cooper couldn't have done better.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

A volunteer war job without a great deal of glamor but involving a vital service is that of a Red Cross dietitian's aid. Hundreds of such aids are urgently needed by hospitals, and the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, thru its canteen corps, is undertaking to train and place them.

The only basic requirement is the 20 hour Red Cross course in nutrition. Volunteers who have had this instruction then are allocated to Chicago hospitals, where they take the dietitian's aid course, consisting of 25 hours of discussion and demonstration and 15 hours of supervised practice in diet kitchens.

Red Cross dietitian's aids already are assisting in 14 of the city's hospitals. Their duties consist of preparing special meals and other nourishment for patients, under the experienced eye of staff dietitians, and serving the trays.

Mrs. George R. Nichols Jr., heading the drive to recruit the aids, is interviewing applicants daily at the canteen headquarters, third floor, 529 South Wabash avenue. Assisting Mrs. Nichols is Mrs. Abraham Selz. Mrs. Henriques Crawford is general chairman of the Red Cross canteen corps, assisted by Miss Margaret Conover. Mrs. James A. Cathcart is head of all Red Cross volunteers.

The American Women's Voluntary services gave a luncheon in the Bismarck hotel yesterday in tribute to the WAC, to recruiting officers of which the AWVS has made accessible its membership files. The special guest was Third Officer Elsa Barber, whose home is in the Union of South Africa and who came from the Virgin Islands recently to join the women's army corps. Her talk at the luncheon outlined the vital role of the WAC in the war. First Officer Edith Davis of the 6th service command also spoke.

AWVS members present included Mrs. Lawrence Nelson Jr., head of the AWVS in the Chicago metropolitan area; Mrs. William Wolf, public relations; Mrs. Robert Cavenaugh, Illinois vice chairman; Mrs. Eve Barber, office manager of Chicago AWVS; Mrs. Duane Watts, publicity, and Mrs. James Bremner, ways and means.

Seven more women yesterday became members of the WEEDS [Women's Emergency Engineering Drafting society] upon completing a 10 weeks' course at the Illinois Institute of Technology. As a climax to their full time, tuition free course, the class held brief graduation exercises following a breakfast at Carson Pirie Scott & Co. Prof. John I. Yellott, director of war training at Illinois Tech, addressed the group and presented certificates.

Those women who completed training and who will go directly into jobs in a field urgently needing more engineering drafting aids are Agnes Bencsics, Myra Fatiguant, Florence Lemon, Dorothy Levitt, all of Chicago; Betty Knight of Kenilworth, Norma Laxo of Riverside, and Myrtle Schroeder of Wheaton.

Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, chairman of the women's executive committee, state office of public instruction, disclosed yesterday that a survey conducted in the last few months shows 15,697 more women war workers are needed in 151 establishments of all types in the Chicago area. These establishments now employ 174,845 persons, of whom 73,173 are women, Mrs. Zinser said.

The report of the survey, in which a large number of Chicago women business executives participated, shows that the need for more women employees is divided among plants in total war work, plants engaged in both civilian and war production, and establishments vital to civilian economy. The salary range for women job holders ranges from 40 cents to $1.22 an hour.

To expedite the committee's plan to encourage employable but unemployed girls and women, Mrs. Zinser said that she would consult immediately with the OCD toward working out a plan to reach community women's groups and other organizations in making direct contacts with these women.

President Signs Bill to Change WAAC to WAC

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The United States army acquired some 65,000 ready made members today, all of them women, when President Roosevelt signed a measure transforming the WAAC from an auxiliary unit into the WAC, or women's army corps.

Signing of army enlistment papers is all that remains to make each former WAAC a member of the real army. Because WAAC members volunteered for auxiliary service, the bill provides they are free to refuse enlistment in the army and could have automatic discharge.

"The great majority of our women are eager to enlist as soon as they can obtain blanks," said 2d Officer Faith Conklin, commanding the 50th WAAC post headquarters company.

The new legislation makes WAC members eligible for service life insurance, death and disability benefits, franking privileges, and flying and overseas pay. Provision is made for dependency allowances when proof of dependency is shown. The current enlistment age range of 20 to 45 is expanded to 50 years.

In addition, the President is empowered to raise the present authorized corps strength of 150,000 whenever he deems it necessary.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., July 2.—Joan Crawford, after 18 years at Metro, is moving her makeup box over to Warners, where she has a six year contract. In the past, with signing a contract as important as this, you'd have had pictures of Joan, Jack Warner, and biggies standing around smiling at each other. Now Joan couldn't even get to the studio. She's without nurse, maid, or any help, and when she told that to Jack Warner, he said, "All right, honey, get yourself set. Come over after the Fourth of July holiday, and then we'll huddle." You could write a saga of the picture business around Joan's stay at Metro—which would incidentally include the loves, romances, marriages, and what-nots of a dancer who became a star.

This and That.

Mme. Chiang's story of Chinese children will be illustrated by Walt Disney, all profits going to Chinese orphans. . . . Guess Gen. Arnold didn't know when he gave Moss Hart a bomber to visit air bases and write a play around the air forces, in the pattern of "This Is the Army," that Moss gets violently air sick. . . . Ben Hecht is bringing his navy pageant to the Hollywood bowl. . . . George Givot still wants to be a chaplain in the army, but was pleased as punch when Dudley Nichols gave him a good part in "Government Girl." . . . John Charles Thomas sang for the Ontario ferry command men at the Masquers dinner given by Edward Arnold. Immediately after Jack Benny acted there as host, he made out a check for another dinner. The Masquers are doing a sweet job of public relations. Take 250 men every Saturday night who get dinner [best food], a show, are put up for the night, and are sent back to camp next day.

Real—Not Reel.

Not all heroes are before cameras these days. Many are behind, acting as technical men. At Warners I met Lt. Comdr. "Mush" Morton, commander of a submarine, who, since Jan. 1, 1943, has sent 19 Jap ships to the bottom. Marvelous personality. When I met him, he said, "We have something in common. My wife loves screwy hats, too." . . . His biggest raid came when an officer with listening devices on his ears heard a symphony of propellers overhead. Morton took a listen and said, "the only thing to do is find out where we are." They did, and discovered they were slap-dash in the middle of a Japanese convoy to New Guinea. They got five Jap transports and one destroyer. "And how many men?" I asked. "Well," said he, "we figured about 6,000 were struggling in the water." "Couldn't they swim ashore?" "If they were good swimmers, I suppose they could. Distance was only 512 miles."

Another time they put into a bay and lay 19 hours on the bottom. The air was getting sour, so they came up for some fresh ozone, and there they were with three Jap destroyers riding at anchor. "That really was shooting ducks in a barrel," said Morton. "We got two, while one pulled up its anchor and came right at us. We were lucky to hit that one smack on the nose and watch it break in the middle. We got out of there fast. When they made for us, I really knew what a rabbit felt like. To keep the crew satisfied, you let them take shots with deck guns, 'cause when they work below, they can't see the fun." His flag is blue, with a red Indianhead, and from that protruded 19 white feathers with a red star in the center of each. I got a thrill just touching it. The navy assigned him job of technical director on "Destination, Tokio."

Speed, Brother.

David Butler tells me Bob Hope flew to London in just 14 hours. With him are Frances Langford, Pvt. Jack Pepper [Ginger Rogers' first husband], and Tony Romano, banjo player. . . . You'll hear Adolph Menjou from London on Sunday in the Stars and Stripes in Britain show. Menjou's become a one man blitz. . . . After Al Jolson sings "Swanee" for "Rhapsody in Blue" he is free to hike out for another overseas tour of camps, with Jinx Falkenburg tagging along. . . . Paramount needs three Teresa Wrights. Well, how about Teresa for one part, Jennifer Jones for another, and Susan Hayward the third? . . . Ann Corio has only to say yes to become Mrs. Hayden Rorke. . . . Vaughn Paul is on leave visiting Deanna Durbin. . . . The Joe Cawthornes celebrated their 42d wedding anniversary. Remember Joe's famous song—"I Can Dance with Everybody but My Wife"?

Ration Budget Menus to Feed Two for Week

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

These ration-budget menus have been planned for a week for two persons, one or both of whom takes lunch away from home. Stuffed veal shoulder is used as the Sunday meat, with leftovers served in a creamed dish one night and later in the week in chop suey, supplemented by a little fresh pork. This is typical of the entire week's menus which are planned with an eye to simplifying the marketing for a small family.

SUNDAY.
BREAKFAST.
Sugared Fresh Pineapple [1]
Scrambled Eggs Cinnamon Toast
Coffee or Milk
DINNER.
Stuffed Veal Shoulder with Gravy [2]
Mashed Potatoes Harvard Beets [3]
Cucumber and Radish Salad Rye Bread
Sunshine Cake and Fresh Berries
Tea or Milk

1. Store sugared pineapple in refrigerator and use part in Monday's salad and the balance for breakfast on Tuesday.

2. Save part of roast to be creamed for dinner on Tuesday and part to be used in chop suey on Thursday.

3. Harvard Beets: 6 small cooked beets, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, ¼ cup mild vinegar, 1 tablespoon butter. Mix salt, sugar, cornstarch, and add vinegar. Heat in the top of a double boiler over direct heat, stirring constantly. When mixture boils, place it over hot water and cook, stirring frequently for 5 minutes longer. Add beets, stir, and cover. Let heat over hot water for at least half an hour. Add butter and serve.

MONDAY.
BREAKFAST.
Orange Juice Cooked Wheat Cereal
Rye Toast Coffee or Milk

DINNER.
Chop Suey and Rice [1]
Tossed Green Salad French Bread
Lemon Chiffon Pie [2] Tea or Milk

1. Chop Suey: ¾ pound pork shoulder, 1 cup diced leftover veal, 1 stalk celery, 1 large onion, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ cup warm water, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Cut meat, onions, and celery into small pieces. Saute meat in fat. Then add vegetables and cook slowly half an hour. Add water that has been blended with cornstarch, sugar, and salt. Cook briskly until vegetables are tender. Then add Worcestershire sauce. Serve with steamed rice.

2. Keep pie in refrigerator and save half for Friday's dinner.

FRIDAY.
BREAKFAST.

DINNER.
Lazy Daisy Pork Chop Dinner [1]
Green Beans Waldorf Salad
Rolls Cup Cakes Tea or Milk

1. Lazy Daisy Pork Chop Dinner: ½ pound pork chops, 1 medium onion sliced, ½ green pepper diced, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup uncooked rice, well washed, ½ number 2 can of tomatoes, 1 cup water. Fry pork chops in a skillet large enough to hold one quart of liquid. When chops are well browned on both sides, add other ingredients in order given. Bring to a boil rapidly, then cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes, or until rice is tender.

[One quart.]
1 pound prunes [large size]
1 cup vinegar, mild
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 teaspoon cloves, ground
1 teaspoon cinnamon, ground

Wash prunes well. Combine remaining ingredients. Add prunes and bring to a boil. Remove from heat at once and allow to cool thoroly. Return to heat and bring to a boil again. Pour into sterilized jars immediately and seal.

Care of Child's Nails Remedies Biting Habit

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Nail biting in teen age boys and girls is a habit which appears every so often in our correspondence. Usually the letters are from the young persons themselves. When parents write in to us it is usually in regard to their younger children who bite their finger nails.

Generally speaking, the approach to a cure is about the same for a nearly adult person as for a little boy or girl. There is a beauty establishment in England where absolutely nothing is treated and beautified except the finger nails. The thing that interested me so much was that the cure used in this establishment for society women was the same as the one I suggest.

To this English expert came women who had the habit of biting their nails and had not been able to stop it. The means she resorted to was simple enough: The gentle, softening, beautifying manicure. Rough skin, broken and scratchy edges of nails, and the hardened cuticle that accompany nail biting all were carefully treated. And, with an improved feeling in the finger ends and the definite arousing of pride, the habit was usually cured. This combination of actual care of the nails—and some "mental therapy" is what we, too, recommend.

Here is a typical letter from a young girl: "Please tell me your nail biting suggestions. I am 15 years old and don't ever remember having nice nails. Sometimes I am so ashamed of them that I would like to bury my hands. Sometimes I turn away many engagements for that reason. I have tried to break myself of that habit, but to no avail. I don't know what the cause may be. I surely hope you can help me."

To this young girl I wrote some suggestions in line with the early part of today's article. I also suggested that she sleep with some sort of "beauty gloves" on, first having thoroly oiled her finger tips. I further advised her to find some occupation for her hands when she is doing nothing except, perhaps, sitting talking at home.

General nervousness can be overcome by "revamping" one's day, whether it is for a child or an older young person. Underlying causes of nervousness can be dealt with by finding out what they are and trying to remove them. But it is interesting to note that the child responds to the manicuring care of her nails just as well as the grown-up does.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

In the early days of contract, no trump bids [except opening no trumps] were widely used as sign-offs. Thus, when the bidding proceeded: one spade by South, two clubs by North, the weakest rebid South could make [according to this school of thought] was two no trump.

For reasons too numerous for present mention, this system was abandoned by every expert many years ago. Nowadays, the two no trump rebid is properly reserved for hands well above minimum strength, and this facilitates the partnership bidding to a great degree. For example:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ 7 6 3
♦ J 6 2

WEST
♠ J 4 3
♥ Q 9 2
♦ A 9 8 5 3

EAST
♠ Q 10 6 2
♥ K J 5 4
♦ Q 4

SOUTH
♠ A K 7 5
♥ A 10 8
♦ K 10 7
♣ 8 6 4

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 clubs	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

Attention is called to North's last bid. Many players, with hands of precisely the North type, pass to two no trump on the not-unreasonable ground that they have "already announced their full strength and therefore have no right to bid again." It is quite true that the same values should not be bid twice, but unfortunately this precept is in direct conflict with an even more important bit of logic—namely, that at rubber bridge, in distinction to match-point duplicate, it is usually foolish to stop just one trick short of game.

In this hand, North cannot possibly foresee whether or not nine tricks can be developed. He must realize, however, that he already is at an eight-trick contract, from which there will be little to gain. Surely, it is worthwhile to incur some additional risk for the chance of great additional profit.

It will be seen that the luck of the opening lead favors declarer at his three no trump contract. A heart lead by West would be fatal, but, as it happens, West leads his fourth best diamond, which assures declarer of two diamond tricks and stoppers.

The club suit is immediately cleared by ducking one round, and even if East shifts to a heart, declarer can hold up his ace for two rounds and, by establishing a second diamond trick, eventually take nine tricks against the best defense.

Additional Donations Are Made to Camp and Free Ice Funds

New contributions arrived yesterday at the offices of The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., for the Camp Algonquin fund and for the Ice fund. The camp fund, which now totals $498.09, is used to defray expenses for sending underprivileged children and their mothers from the heat of the city to the cool countryside of Camp Algonquin, on the Fox river. The Ice fund, which totals $520.50, provides ice to keep the food and milk of undernourished children fresh and healthful.

Among those who contributed to the camp fund yesterday were: Arlington C. Harvey, $25; O. B., Cary, Ill., $10; Bessie M. Page, $2; Mayme L. Anderson, $1, and Swan H. Olson, $1.

Contributors to the Ice fund included Joy Carlson, $25; O. B., Cary, Ill., $10; J. M. S., $10; "The Midget," $10; E. C. H., $5; Anonymous, $2; Mary A. Eckert, $1.50, and Bessie M. Page, $1. All contributions will be acknowledged.

Tribune Adopts Simplified Plan on Ration News

milk is to sell at 15½ cents a quart in all places except the Indiana county, where different prices prevail in different townships.

Chickens—Unrationed.

Live and dressed chickens, capons, ducks, and geese are unchanged in price. Fresh dressed and frozen broilers, fryers, and roasting chickens sell at 42½ and 43 cents, with hens at 38 and 38½ cents, roosters at 33 cents, capons at 43 to 47 cents, ducks 39 and 39½ cents and geese at 36½ and 37 cents. Prices in large chain stores are ½ cent less than in smaller stores. Prices for quick frozen eviscerated fowl run 12 to 22 cents higher than for fresh dressed and frozen kinds.

Vegetables.

BEANS—Reduction from 14 to 11 points per No. 2 can for all wax and green varieties.

CORN—Increase of 2 points to 16 points per No. 2 can for all cream-style and whole kernel packs.

PEAS—Up 2 points per No. 2 can for all kinds.

TOMATOES—Increase of 2 points to 14 on all No. 2 cans, no change in No. 2½ size cans. Tomato juice and vegetable juices containing tomato juice unchanged in points and price.

Fruits.

[All prices of all varieties virtually unchanged.]

APRICOTS AND MIXED FRUITS—Increased 4 points per No. 2 can to 23 points.

PEACHES AND PEARS—Up 3 points per No. 2 can to 19 and 13 points, respectively.

APPLES—Up 2 points per No. 2 can to 7 points.

FRUIT JUICES—Unchanged in point value.

Frozen Foods.

All frozen fruits, berries, juices, and vegetables unchanged in point value and in price.

The new OPA price lists show no changes in a long number of processed foods, including bread, dry cereals, coffee, flour, and flour mixes, macaroni and spaghetti, noodles, dried prunes and raisins, peanut butter and sugar, as well as bananas, all of which need no coupons for their purchase.

It was noted, however, that in those instances where prices in the suburban areas have been either higher or lower than in the city, the new prices over the entire area will be the same as the current prices in Chicago proper.

Mr. Mulcahy said that the new lists had omitted eggs, turkeys, jams, jellies and preserves, as well as some minor canned fruits and vegetables, from area flat ceiling prices, because "they are less important in terms of sales volume and the cost of living, are subject to seasonal changes or are less stable in terms of both prices and sales volume." Prices on these items remain subject to existing price ceilings, he said.

"Extending the Chicago prices to the entire metropolitan area was decided upon when it was shown that concentration of a large number of persons in a small area curtailed or eliminated significant price differentials for a given commodity," Mr. Mulcahy said. "Marked uniformity of prices was found thruout the area."

Retailers under the new regulations no longer need post ceiling prices of any classes of store other than their own, but all point values and selling prices must be plainly marked, Mr. Mulcahy warned. He asked buyers to check prices and point values carefully before purchasing as a protection against price violations and black market operations.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

War for Independence.

White collar girls gaze on their married sisters
And never see burns, or bruises, or blisters,
Or guess that raising a familee
Involves such things as house maid's knee,
Or dream of the chore of daily accounting
[Now that the prices of foods are mounting]
Or figure that Junior, the little sinner,
Needs to be coaxed to his 18 point dinner.
White collar girls think: "How nice to be One's very own boss—and time clock free!"

The married sister casts envious glances
She fancies each morning she'd hop out of bed
For the joy of typing on letterhead
Important letters to potentates
Of industry . . . she over-rates
The fun of scrambling o'er dozens of feet
On crowded buses to grab a seat;
She's sure in white collars she'd be resplendent
And [vice versa] . . . independent!

Thru the Looking Glass

The latest invention mothered by the necessity of the stocking shortage is a little weird but also rather wonderful. It's designed to give us the illusion of a seam when we wear the hose that are also an illusion, and once we stop being wide-eyed at the novelty of the gadget and the idea, we can see that it will do its little war time duty very well indeed.

A synthetic seam makes the synthetic hosiery more realistic than ever in effect. To you it might seem a pretty trivial matter, this business of strengthening the illusion of full fashioned hose to the last degree, but a couple of hundred thousand women who have bought the gadget wouldn't agree. And if it's a seam you want to complete your happiness, this will enable you to have it—straight.

It's a long, narrow strip of fabric with two sets of cords, one at each end. Inset right down the middle of the strip is a narrow groove impregnated with a substance that operates on the carbon paper principle.

You tie the gadget on, using one set of cords to hold it firmly in place at the ankle, the upper set to hold it at the knee. Make sure it's straight up the back of your leg. When it's adjusted—and it takes less time to do than to tell about—you run a wooden marker along the inset groove. When you take off the fabric strip the marker drawn thru the brown substance will have left on your skin the imprint of a perfect seam.

It's a seam that won't smudge, either. It is removed, like most of the cosmetic stockings, with soap and water. On a good leg makeup job it's the finishing, slimming touch, worth what little time and trouble it takes.

Amnesia Case Gives Plot to Worthy Movie

"CRIME DOCTOR."
Directed by Michael Gordon.
Presented at the Oriental.
THE CAST.

Robert Ordway	Warner Baxter

Dr. Carey	Ray Collins
Joe	Harold Huber
Nick	Don Costello
Captain Wheeler	Leon Ames
Betty	Constance Worth
Pearl	Dorothy Tree
Myrtle	Vi Athens

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Of maladies them, those, and these-ia
One I hope I escape is amnesia!

I understand there is a radio serial, "Crime Doctor." Well, now the doc's in the movies.

No urging will be needed to persuade folks who follow the serial to see the cinema. And those who for years have enjoyed the work of Margaret Lindsay and Warner Baxter will be delighted over the opportunity of seeing them again.

First scenes show a man, apparently dead, being hurled from a car tearing along a country road. . . . . You learn later the man isn't dead, but loses all recollection of his identity, occupation, and place of residence and that he had an unsavory past. . . . He adopts a new name—Robert Ordway—and, assisted by a hospital physician who has become interested in his case, starts to carve a new life. . . . He takes up the study of medicine and in due time is a famous psychiatrist, deeply interested in the problems and welfare of the underdog. . . .

His work in prisons and insane asylums brings about his meeting with the charming social worker who is to be his wife, and eventually he is instrumental in clearing the cobwebs from his past. . . .

Undoubtedly what happens COULD happen. That is, it could in the case of a man with the brain, grit, and personality of Dr. Ordway—as portrayed by Warner Baxter. He sure does stand up under the flagellation of time!

Margaret Lindsay is—as always—charming, sympathetic, and gay. . . . Other roles are capably played and direction was all the story deserved.

PAUL MITCHELL, GOPHER TACKLE, JOINS ALL-STARS

WINS VARSITY BERTH IN LINE AS SOPHOMORE

Dubuque Player to Face Redskins.

All-Star Roster

THE following college football players have accepted invitations to join the All-Star squad which will meet the Washington Redskins in Dyche stadium Aug. 25 in the 10th game sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.:

When a sophomore can break into a Minnesota starting lineup he's good. That's what Paul Mitchell, 210 pound sophomore tackle, did in 1941 when Minnesota was undefeated and won the Western conference football championship.

Mitchell has accepted an invitation to join the college All-Star squad which will face the Washington Redskins in Dyche stadium Aug. 25. He has the power, speed, and experience to give the college team, along with such other linemen as Al Wistert, Garrard Ramsey, and Les Kalchik, a defense which the Redskins cannot overwhelm by their ground attack.

Started Five Games.

During the regime of Coach Bernie Bierman, and even before that, the word Minnesota has been synonymous with power in Western conference football. There has been a parade of giant linemen and sturdy backs on which Minnesota founded imposing offenses. In the main the sophomore season was a year of preparation but now and then one of these youngsters crashed the varsity eleven.

Such a player was Mitchell, who was chosen to start five of Minnesota's eight games in 1941 and who followed up his contribution to the Gophers' undefeated record that year by playing even better football last season.

Minnesota wor only five of its nine games last fall and divided its six games with conference opponents, but this unusual record was not particularly the fault of the line.

Mitchell was a stalwart on defense. His 210 pounds, on a 6 foot 3 inch frame, were in the thick of each scrimmage. Minneapolis writers, who had watched Mitchell from his high school days in that city, applied such adjectives as "enthusiastic" and "indefatigable" to his performance.

May Be Starters.

Pair Mitchell with Al Wistert of Michigan, who already has accepted an invitation to play for the college men against the professional champions, and the 1943 All-Stars are assured of as fine a pair of tackles as the Western conference ever has produced. These men easily may win the starting positions for the night of Aug. 25 when Head Coach Harry Stuhldreher and his assistants sort the candidates.

Sixteen players now have accepted invitations to play in the 10th annual All-Star game sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The 16th player to accept a berth on the All-Star squad is Eldon Werkheiser, one of the best players in the gridiron history of the University of Dubuque. Werkheiser is 21 years of age, weighs 200 pounds, and is 6 feet 2 inches tall. He played full back and tackle during his three years of competition at Dubuque. He is a member of the marine reserves, in which he enlisted last December, and will be called to active duty in September.

God's Presence.

The bloom upon a flower,
The songs of birds at eventide,
The calm of summer shower,

A smile upon a mother's face,
A rainbow in the sky—
Each blade of grass is in its place
To show that God is nigh.

The stars that shine in heaven,
The trees that bend below,
The laughter of a little child,
The breath of winds that blow.

The dance of silvery moonbeams,
The mist of clouds on high,
The magic of an early dawn
All tell that God is nigh.

I Wonder.

If at the hour of dawn our hearts could see
Just how the sun should sink into the west;
If we could know just what our lives would be
And ponder all our actions—worst and best;
I wonder if we still should choose to climb
Life's stony way on bruised and bleeding feet,
Keeping one thought before us all the time:
The thorns are sharp but, O, the rose is sweet!

I wonder if our hearts would not grow faint
Seeing the hate and misery and sin,
And knowing that their deep infectious taint
Would touch the very nearest of our kin;
Or should we, like the warriors of old,
Go into battle with faith's flag unfurled,
Knowing that we are fashioned in the mould

HAGG WINS IN TWO MILE RACE BY 20 YARDS

Warmerdam Soars 15 Feet 4 Inches.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Gunder Hagg, Sweden's middle distance record holder, showed Chicago last night in Soldiers' field how he runs nearly 15 miles an hour for two miles. In the most thrilling race in Chicago since the post-Olympic meet on this same track 11 years ago, Hagg whipped Gil Dodds of Boston by 20 yards in the third fastest outdoor 2 mile race ever run in this country.

The event headed the program sponsored by the Central A. A. U. Proceeds went to the Army Air Forces Relief society.

Twelve thousand came to see the Swedish champion, who last year in Stockholm set the world mark of 8:47.8. Hagg's time last night was 9:02.8, remarkably fast considering the soft track.

Regardless of the stop watches, the duel between Hagg and Dodds lived up to its publicity. The Boston divinity student challenged from the start of the second lap and wasn't whipped until the middle of the back stretch on the final lap.

Hagg Leads at Quarter.

Roy Phillips of Tufts college led the field of five men near the end of the first quarter mile which was run in 69 seconds, but Hagg got credit for this fractional measurement when he took the lead as the well bunched group swept past the judges. Dodds moved immediately into second place a step behind the Swede, and was ahead briefly on the first turn of the second lap. Hagg immediately took over, however, and led the remainder of the way.

Phillips, Forrest Efaw of Oklahoma A. and M., and Jerry Thompson, University of Texas National Collegiate champion, rapidly fell behind and trailed by 100 yards at the half mile mark.

Dodds tried four times to pass Hagg. He made his first move on the back stretch of the second lap but the tall, smooth striding champion held him off and, after running side by side with Gunder for 20 paces, Dodds dropped back. Hagg held a three yard lead at the conclusion of the third and again at the end of the fourth lap. The mile time was 4 minutes and 30 seconds.

Dodds Again Fails to Pass.

On the back stretch of the fifth lap Dodds made his second attempt to pass. Again he failed. Now he was content to run a stride behind Hagg until the seventh lap. In front of the east stands Dodds sprinted, pulled up even and fell back. Just before the turn he made his last try but again he could not muster the speed to pass his taller opponent.

At the end of the seventh lap Hagg was two steps in front. The result had been decided. Hagg increased the tempo and was five yards in front at the turn from the east straightaway, eight yards at the turn into the stretch, and won by 20 yards.

The fractional quarter mile times were 69 seconds, 2:14, 3:20, 4:30, 5:41, 6:51, 7:56 and 9:02.8.

Warmerdam Short of Mark.

Cornelius Warmerdam failed in his attempt to break his own outdoor pole vault mark of 15 feet 7¾ inches. The navy ensign, who arrived in Chicago less than 24 hours before the meet by plane from California, cleared 15 feet 4 inches but failed three times at 15 feet 9 inches. He required two trials to get over 15 feet, but easily cleared four inches higher. Jack DeField, Minnesota's national collegiate champion, dropped out after vaulting 14 feet.

Team scoring:

Douglas Park, 130; Navy Pier, 121; Champaign, 61; Olde Tymers, 56; Notre Dame Navy, 52; Macomb, 34; DeKalb, 18; Ogden Park, 16; Lawrence College, 14; Morton A. $35,000 Lassie Tops Program at Arlington

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Arlington Park will go into its Fourth of July week-end today with two feature events on the schedule—the Lassie Stakes, which will gross in the neighborhood of $35,000, and the Glencoe handicap, a $5,000 race for 3 year olds at the sprinting distance of 7 furlongs. Today's program will be followed up on Monday with the $50,000 Stars and Stripes Handicap, all proceeds of that afternoon being devoted to war relief and local charities. A capacity crowd is expected on both days.

Draws Field of 15.

The Lassie Stakes, which is a dash of 6 furlongs for 2 year old fillies, has drawn a field of 15 in the overnight entries. It is the richest event of its type in the country. Calumet Farm has brought out two likely fillies this season, both of which are scheduled to go to the post. These are Miss Keeneland and Twilight Tear. Inasmuch as both displayed considerable speed in winning races earlier in the meeting, the Calumet entry is expected to be the favorite.

One of the leading challengers will be the Lazy F ranch's Cocopet, which distinguished herself during an early season eastern campaign.

If all 15 start, the Lassie will gross $35,520. If it is won by any filly but Cocopet the net value to the winner, after the deduction of all fees, will be $26,300. If Cocopet should win the value to her owner will be $25,420.

Occupation vs. Slide Rule.

John Marsch's Occupation and W. E. Boeing's Slide Rule will renew their duel in the Glencoe handicap. In a previous meeting at 7 furlongs Occupation was the winner by a head, his rival gradually wearing him down toward the finish.

The field for the Glencoe follows:

Horse.	Wt.	Jockey.	Probable Odds.
Ogma	112	W. Balzaretti	20-1
Suncap	108	No boy	15-1
†Askmenow	113	C. Bierman	8-1

ARLINGTON PARK'S Lassie stakes, which will head today's program at Washington Park, drew 15 juvenile fillies in the overnight entries. The field in order of post position follows:

FOOTBALL IS WAR CASUALTY AT TENNESSEE

Knoxville, Tenn., July 2 (AP).—The University of Tennessee, football power of the Southeastern conference and winner of four bids to major bowl games in five years, today dropped the sport until the war ends.

With varsity man power nearly 100 per cent depleted by military calls, the coaching staff reduced to a skeleton organization, and four of the biggest games on the 1943 schedule already canceled, the university athletic council voted unanimously to discontinue competition.

Senators Beat White Sox, 3-2, in 11th Inning

Claude Passeau's four hit pitching and his mates' 14 hit attack gave the Cubs a 7 to 1 victory over the Boston Braves in Boston yesterday. The triumph was Chicago's fourth straight. (Story on page 15.)

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox had a choice decision in their hands until the ninth inning yesterday but permitted their edge to dissolve into a tie and then succumbed in the 11th to the Washington Senators, 3 to 2, in a series final which shattered the 26 consecutive game hitting streak of Guy Curtright.

And by letting their one run lead escape after two were down in the ninth, the James Dykes' ensemble tossed off the pleasure of being the first to slip a trimming to Milo Candini, the Senators' freshman, who has a collection of seven straight big league successes.

However, Candini was not around at the finish. He was dismissed after the seventh, an inning in which his own mental blunder, along with an error by Jerry Priddy, enabled the Sox to take a 2 to 1 lead on one hit. That was exactly half the safeties allowed by the Italian lad in his seven inning stretch.

Curtright's Error Costly.

Along with the loss of his streak, Curtright inadvertently got himself tangled in other incidents helpful to the enemy. His lone contributions to the Sox cause were a pass in five trips to the plate and a catch in the eighth which delayed by one inning Johnny Humphries' decline into a 2 to 2 tie. But in the ninth Curtright erred to put the knotting run in scoring position and in the 11th lost his footing to furnish the enemy with an extra base which a few moments later proved sufficient to whip Gordon Maltzberger, the usually able rescuer.

Humphries started the 11th by walking Bob Johnson, so was hastily

Files for Marines

AFTER winning the women's Western Open golf championship yesterday at Glen Oak Country club, Patty Berg filed an application with the marines, women's reserve.

"I'll take my physical examination in Minneapolis next Wednesday," she said.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Patty Berg, the little Miss Business of golf, yesterday had to live up to her name on every count to win the 14th annual Open championship of the Women's Western Golf association at the Glen Oak Country club. In as stirring an uphill match play battle as any national tournament could have produced, the 25 year old Minneapolis redhead captured her second Western Open in three years by rallying to defeat slender Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., 1 up, in the 36 hole final.

Never up after the fourth green and down three holes at the 12th, 14th, 19th, and 30th, Patty then showed the competitive tenacity and skill that have established her as the country's No. 1 woman golfer. After dubbing a shot out of a bunker which cost her the 30th and left her 3 down, Miss Business went to work in earnest. A par at the 31st regained a hole and a birdie on No. 32 cut Miss Kirby's lead to one. Patty canceled that out on the 33d with a superb No. 5 iron shot that spent itself only four feet from the center of the cup. They shared the 34th in bogey fours.

Patty Drops 30 Foot Putt.

Came the 495 yard 35th. It was on this green in the morning that she had dropped an eight foot birdie try that left her only 2 down at the noonday intermission. In the afternoon she found her third shot past the pin with a downhill 30 foot putt awaiting her. She stroked it into the hole for the birdie that gave her her ultimate margin, for she made no mistake about getting that important half on the 36th, after Miss Kirby's 15 foot try for a birdie had slid by the right side of the cup.

Patty, who was making her first competitive appearance since an automobile accident in December, 1941, threatened to end her golf career, had won the Western Open in Cincinnati in 1941, and so joins a list of double Western winners that includes June Beebe, Mrs. O. S. Hill, and Betty Jameson. The Chicago locale for yesterday's triumph was fitting, for it was in Chicago, in 1938, that she scored a triple in the Women's National at Westmoreland, the Western Amateur at Olympia Fields, and the Western Derby at Butterfield.

Shoots 36 Hole Total of 157.

Miss Berg finished the 36 holes with a medal score of 79—78—157, five over par for the distance, and including a final nine of 37, 2 under par. Miss Kirby had a 77—82—159. In the morning round Dorothy continued to display the magnificent putting with which she had reached the final, registering eight one-putt greens. It played her false in the afternoon, however, notably at the 21st and 24th, where she missed putts of a yard, costing her those holes.

The cards for the match:

ANNUAL POLICE BASEBALL FEUD TO BEGIN TODAY

North, South Meet in Wrigley Field.

The annual series between the north and south teams of the Police department will open this afternoon at Wrigley field with the south seeking revenge for the defeats received from their north side foes in the series last year. Today's contest starts at 2 p. m. Fungo, throwing, and base running contests will be held prior to the game.

Proceeds of the games go toward swelling the Police Benevolent association fund, out of which comes monies to aid the families of officers slain in the line of duty. The second game of the series will be played tomorrow at 3 p. m.

Miklos on Mound.

Whether the south side can even matters up for last year's humiliation lies in the ability of its players to swing bats effectively against the offerings of Southpaw Johnny Miklos, north side hurler, who was in spring training with the Cubs at French Lick this year. Tony Simms, veteran semipro righthander, will oppose Miklos on the mound.

Last year's north side lineup which beat the south side club three straight, is nearly intact, even to Catcher Dick Stahlman. Dick is a former Cleveland Indian and probably is better known hereabout because of his ability as a tackle for the Green Bay Packers.

Two Managerial Debuts.

Captains George Homer of the 28th district and Mark Boyle of the 9th, will be making their managerial debuts piloting the north and south side clubs, respectively. The lineups are as follows.

Patty Berg Wins Western Open, 1 Up on the 20th, however, and yielded the 21st to Patty's par. Dorothy's tee shot here was headed for the left hand sand, but a trap rake detained it on the slope. When the implement was lifted the ball remained in the grass, and she hit a sharp recovery within a yard of the cup, then missed the putt for a half. Both took bogey fives on the 22d, Miss Berg hooking her drive to the rim of a trap and Dorothy falling short with her second.

Dorothy went 2 up after the 525 yard 23d, where she planted a neat pitch shot 12 feet from the pin, while Patty's third was dropping in the sand back of the carpet. The Atlantan failed to hit the green at the water 24th. She chipped up to a yard, and again the putter failed her, leaving her only 1 up. They shared the 25th in bogey sixes, Patty hitting Miss Kirby's ball on her try for a par. Miss Kirby holed a six footer for a winning par at the 27th, Patty missing a 9 footer after having failed to connect with the green.

Misses on 20 Foot Putt.

Miss Kirby was short in reaching the 28th and couldn't down the 20 foot putt for a half. She rifled an iron to the 116 yard 29th that landed six feet from the flag and she holed it for a deuce. The Atlantan was three up after the 30th, where Miss Berg missed her recovery from the sand. Then came Patty's rally, which began with a par on No. 31, where Dorothy drove the rough and missed the green with her second. Followed the No. 5 iron for the match squaring birdie on the 33d, a half in bogeys at the 210 yard 34th, where both conceded putts of three feet, and then the long downhill Berg thrust on the 35th green. Other results:

sidetracked. Maltzberger induced Mickey Vernon to ground into a force play, and Vernon was out trying to steal second. Jake Early hit to left, the stumble of Curtright stretching it into a double, and a subsequent single by John Sullivan sent him home.

Humphries' first inning of work was perfect enough to keep the Senators off base but they made it slightly different in the second by scoring. Johnson, always a tough fellow for the Sox pitchers, led off with a liner which Luke Appling stabbed at several times before completing the capture, and Vernon followed with a two bagger behind third base, scoring quickly on Early's single to center. A double play on Priddy's hopper to Don Kolloway hurried completion of the inning.

Curtright Scores Tying Run.

One was deposed in the Sox seventh when Candini, trying to avoid giving Curtright a hittable ball, walked the fellow on five pitches. Appling responded with a single which sneaked past Vernon close to the first base line, Curtright galloping to third. Grant clapped a possible double play grounder to Priddy but the ex-Yankee fumbled the opportunity, Curtright scoring the tying run and Appling going to third. He counted from there on Kolloway's tap to Candini, who threw to first instead of accepting an easy chance to nail the run at the plate.

Humphries slipped a pass to Sullivan at the start of the eighth and Candini was yanked for a pinch hitter, George Myatt, who bunted. Sullivan went to third on George Case's out and the only reason he didn't score was Curtright put on his somersault catch of Spence's low liner. But with one out in the ninth, Curtright fumbled to let Johnson reach second on a single. Had he been on first he could have been forced on Vernon's tap to Kuhel. Then Early singled him home with the tying run and the argument went on from there.

SOX PLAY TWO TODAY

The White Sox and Athletics will start work at 5:30 o'clock this evening, and just when they'll finish is anybody's guess. The program calls for a twilight game, followed by an electric light affair, the latter starting at 8:45. Lee Ross will pitch against his former Philadelphia mates in the twilight, and Eddie Smith will take over on the night shift. It will be Lum Harris and Roger Wolff for Connie's boys.

12-Run Fourth Gives Indians 12-0 Triumph

Cleveland, O., July 2 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians ran wild against the Yankees in the fourth inning today, scoring 12 runs on 10 hits, nine of them singles, and three walks, to wallop the league leaders, 12 to 0, behind the three hit twirling of Rookie Allie Reynolds.

Charley Keller, Yankee outfielder, was spiked trying to steal second in the first inning and had to retire. An examination in the locker room disclosed the left fielder received a deep spike cut above the left knee cap when he collided with the Indians' shortstop, Lou Boudreau.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 2.—Claude Passeau's 4 hit pitching and the 14 hit smacking by the Cub ensemble this afternoon gave the Chicagoans a 7 to 1 victory over their dear cousins, the Boston Braves. That made it a four game sweep of the series, an eight game sweep in the season series with Boston, and the year's longest winning streak for Jim Wilson's reformed gentry.

The main Cub bashers were Ival Goodman, with a single which drove in the first run in the first inning, a homer in the seventh [his second of the year], a run blooming walk, and a single which helped produce a run in the eighth; Lennie Merullo, with two doubles and a single, and Phil Cavarretta, who soared into the sparsely settled field of .300 hitters with three hits and a walk, his first four trips to the plate.

Cubs Start Early.

The victors got to Nate Andrews after the first two batsmen had been retired in the first inning. Cavarretta, Bill Nicholson, and Goodman knocked successive singles, which were good for a run.

The Cubs put the game on ice with three runs in the sixth and had the bases filled when the victory session ended. Goodman led off with a walk, Peanuts Lowrey sacrificed, and Clyde McCullough was given an intentional pass. Merullo singled, scoring Goodman. Passeau singled to left, scoring McCullough. Stan Hack walked, loading the bases, and Merullo scored on Eddie Stanky's tap to Bill Wietelmann.

Youngster Stops Victors.

Nicholson's second hit, a single, and Goodman's third hit, a single, plus an error by Manuel Salvo, gave the winners their final run in the eighth. Ray Martin, a 17 year old high school boy, retired the Cubs in order in the ninth, the only inning in which the fellows didn't make at least one hit.

Passeau pitched perfect ball until two were out in the fifth, when Johnny McCarthy got a single. Connie Ryan made the second Boston hit at the start of the seventh, went to third on Tommy Holmes' single to right, and scored on Charley Workman's long fly to Nicholson. With one down in the ninth Ryan singled off Hack's glove for the fourth and last Boston hit. Holmes drew Passeau's first pass in two games, then the game ended in a double play.

RHEINGOLDS AND PARICHYS SCORE EASY VICTORIES

Bernice Maxwell pitched the Rheingolds to an 8 to 0 victory over the league leading Gold Crowns in a Metropolitan Chicago Girls Major softball league game last night. The Rockolas lost a 6 to 3 decision to the Parichy Bloomer Girls. Peggy Rock's home run in the eighth inning with the bases loaded enabled the Tungsten Sparks to beat the Benda Coals Co-eds, 8 to 6. Tonight's schedule:

Parichy vs. Gold Crowns in Shewbridge field; Benda Coals Co-eds vs. Rockolas; Tungsten Sparks vs. Rheingolds in Rheingold stadium.

HINT SHOCKING CHARGES LOOM IN FCC INQUIRY

Chairman Clashes with Agency Counsel.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—A threat by Rep. E. E. Cox [D., Ga.] to call police to force general counsel for the federal communications commission [FCC] to remain in his seat enlivened the opening today of public hearings by a special house committee investigating the FCC.

Cox is chairman of the special committee. His stern order to Charles Denny, FCC counsel, to "sit down" climaxed a two hour session in which more than 50 charges were leveled at the FCC and its chairman, James L. Fly, by Committee Counsel Eugene L. Garey; an intimation was made by Denny that the committee was making public "secret" documents, and Garey charged that army and navy witnesses "have been silenced and gagged by high authority."

There were private hints from committee attaches of sensational developments when the hearings are resumed next Friday, including development of a charge by Garey that "improperly evaluated information furnished by the federal communications commission" caused "an incident" in Alaskan waters.

Details are Withheld.

Just what the "incident" was, committee attaches would not discuss in advance other than to say, "it will shock you."

Other charges into which the committee would inquire, members said, included complaints that Fly has sought to set up a censorship over radio speech and has used his office to try to influence the editorial columns of newspaper publishers operating radio stations.

Garey's charge that army and navy officers requested to testify later in the hearings had been "gagged" was elaborated upon by Cox, who said he had been informed from official sources that the officers would not be allowed to testify.

Denny's first run-in with Cox occurred when the youthful FCC attorney rose from his seat to question Garey after Garey had read into the record letters from Adm. William D. Leahy of the joint chiefs of staff to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, and from Knox and Stimson to President Roosevelt requesting that the President transfer the FCC military radio intelligence activities to the armed services. Dated last February, the requests were not acted on by the White house.

Denny Is Admonished.

Denny was admonished by Cox to remain in his seat and not to interrupt Garey.

Toward the end of the hearing, when Garey announced that the committee wanted to question Dr. Robert Leigh next Friday, Denny arose again and after he tried several times to get in some words, Cox said:

"The committee will not hear you at this time. Will you please take your seat. If not, I'll send for the police and have you seated."

BARBARA LUDDY STARS TONIGHT IN W-G-N DRAMA

An Independence day drama titled "A Century and Sixty-seven" will be broadcast by the Chicago Theater of the Air over W-G-N, W59C, and the Mutual system from 8 to 9 o'clock this evening. Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will speak on the army ordnance exhibition.

Barbara Luddy will be starred in the drama depicting a scene in the life of Thomas Jefferson. She will portray Mrs. Jefferson and John Barclay will have the role of Thomas Jefferson. Miss Luddy, who has just been named the best radio actress in America in the annual Movie-Radio Guide poll, will receive a trophy from a representative of the magazine during the broadcast in recognition of her talent as displayed during the last year in the W-G-N-Mutual First Nighter show.

Marion Claire and Thomas L. Thomas will be the singing stars of the program. Distinctly American melodies will be presented by the soloists and the W-G-N orchestra, directed by Henry Weber.

The musical portion of the program will open with the "Chicago Tribune March," by Chambers. The program will close with "The Pledge to the Flag," by Albert H. Malotte, and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Aurora and Kenosha Are Matches' Week-End Foes

Two strong opponents are on the Match Corporation of America's holiday week-end schedule. Aurora will visit Parichy stadium, Harlem and Harrison, tonight and Kenosha will appear at Park Ridge tomorrow night.

CHICAGO BANK DEPOSITS PASS 6 BILLION MARK

Decrease in Loans Nearly Halted.

BY LELAND FORRESTER.

Bank deposits in Chicago have crossed the 6 billion dollar mark for the first time, and the long downward sweep in loans and discounts was almost halted in the second quarter of this year. These developments were disclosed yesterday in bank statements as of June 30, issued in response to state and federal calls.

Balance sheet comparisons indicated that earnings of all except one of the six biggest downtown banks were larger in the first half of this year than in the first six months of 1942.

[New York bank statements disclose large increases in government security holdings. Story on page 18.]

Investment Funds Increase.

Larger government security holdings and more funds for investment as a result of the increased deposits, apparently more than offset the profit effects of the decline in 1943 first half loans from 1942 levels.

The new call figures disclosed that the total deposits of all the Chicago national and state banks combined were $6,012,539,000 on June 30, compared with $5,543,780,000 three months earlier. The former all-time high mark was $5,719,478,000, reported for Dec. 31, 1942.

The drop three months ago was attributed to the annual exodus of funds out of deposit accounts into other states or into tax exempt investments to avoid the Illinois April 1 personal property assessment. Except for that decline, deposits have been rising over a long period.

Loan Decline Is Small.

The virtual halting of the downturn in loans and discounts, a trend that had prevailed for more than a year, was indicated in the June 30 total of $898,232,000, which was only a shade less than the $900,045,000 reported three months earlier. In preceding quarters the total had fallen 30 to 60 millions each time.

National banks actually reversed the trend, reporting $738,722,000 of loans and discounts against $737,320,000 three months earlier, but the state bank total dipped to $159,510,000 from $162,725,000.

Lending and discounting had been declining over a long period as the result of government restrictions on consumer credit, rationing of some goods and shortages of many lines of merchandise. Small loan companies in particular had felt the pinch, and consequently their financing at banks has fallen. These factors have been offset to some extent by lending to war plants under government V loan guarantees.

Increase Nearly Half Billion.

The banks' holdings of government bonds continued to increase, the amount being $3,559,602,000 on June 30, compared with $3,075,556,000 on March 26, the call date preceding all.

Here is the way the indicated per share earnings of the large banks in the first half of this year compared with those in the corresponding 1942 period:

Meat Policies Just a Puzzle to Nebraskans

BY THOMAS FURLONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Weeping Water, Neb., July 2.—Cattle and hog producers of this district, one of the oldest settled communities in Nebraska, are unable to make head or tail of government meat polices.

They say that on the one hand the government, thru the office of price administration, is discouraging the production of beef. Price ceilings are so arranged that it is unprofitable to buy lean cattle from the range, fatten them on corn and other feed, and send them to market with 20 to 30 per cent more beef. Instead, the OPA encourages the shipment of range cattle direct to market and the opportunity to add to production of beef is lost, they say.

At the same time, stockmen assert, they are told there is not enough beef to go around. The army can't get enough beef and civilians in the larger cities must be content with more pork and mutton.

Seek to Produce More Food.

It doesn't make sense to the live stock men here, who put themselves wholeheartedly into the government's program for increased food production.

This area is devoted almost exclusively to production of live stock and the feed crops needed in that type of farming. The production of live stock here, notably hogs, has expanded greatly in the last year. But the cattle men concede it is unlikely they will maintain their production at the level of recent months. At present prices they cannot buy feeder cattle and expect to make a profit by the feeding practices they have followed in former years.

Urges Large Marketing.

M. L. Baker, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Nebraska school of agriculture, told a meeting of live stock men that one of the quickest methods of increasing the flow of meat into military and civilian channels would be the marketing over a short period of a substantial part of the live stock now on farms and on the range.

Admittedly this method would be only a temporary answer to the meat shortage and would be achieved at the expense of future production, Baker said.

Baker told the live stock men they have no alternative but to alter their feeding methods if they expect to make money under present regulations.

Lake Iron Ore Shipments 6 Pct. Below Year Earlier

Cleveland, O., July 2 (AP). — Lake Superior iron ore shipments were 11,864,401 gross tons in June, 6.03 per cent below the 12,625,102 tons of a year earlier, the Lake Superior Iron Ore association reported today.

ALEXANDRIA HOTEL SOLD FOR $230,000; TO BE MODERNIZED

The seven story Alexandria hotel at the southwest corner of Rush and Ohio streets was sold yesterday by the Lehmann Estate, Inc., to David Zwick of the R. Zwick Co., plumbing supplies, for $230,000. It will be managed by Joseph Stein, operator of the Brevoort hotel in the loop and several outlying hotels.

A modernization program with an initial expenditure of $25,000 is contemplated, Stein said. This will include immediate steam cleaning of the exterior and redecorating the interior, with extensive structural changes after the war.

The former cafeteria probably will be reopened shortly, it was said, with post-war plans calling for remodeling the entire Ohio street first floor frontage into shops.

The hotel contains 237 rooms. Part of it was built 53 years ago, with an addition constructed 25 years later. It has been almost entirely a residential hotel. The new owner intends making it a commercial or transient hotel. It has been completely occupied for many months, it was said.

Prices Bound 25 to 40 Cents in Hog Market

The smallest Friday hog receipts in 11 weeks sent most prices 25 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher in the stock yards yesterday. Virtually all the losses of the last 18 days have been recovered in hogs of good quality above 190 pounds. Top loads sold at $14.25, up 25 cents to a peak since June 14 and 50 cents above the midweek low.

Not all hogs shared in the recovery. The dividing line between a strong and a weak market was in hogs from 170 to 190 pounds.

Light Hog Prices Are Weak.

Hogs below 170 pounds were weak to 25 cents lower. Some of the lightest that lacked finish declined more. The average rose 25 cents to $13.85, with the proportion of underweights not large enough to offset the rise in mature stock.

Altho $12 to $12.50 bought many of the medium to near good 140 to 160 pound lights, the stronger weight lights of good quality, 180 to 190 pounds, sold at $13.50 to $14. Good 200 to 270 pound hogs, including the "government weights," sold mostly at $14.10 to $14.25.

Meat Board Calls Meeting.

The war meat board called a meeting of its advisory committee in Chicago on Wednesday. The committee, composed of cattle feeders, meat packers, nonslaughtering processors and retailers, will discuss marketing, processing, prices, and rationing with the board.

Stock Market Turns Uneven in Slow Trade

New York, July 2 (AP).—The stock market was confronted by the usual pre-holiday indecision today and prices were irregular, with gains slightly outweighing declines. Dealings were relatively slow.

The war news again was favorable toward a rise as were "inflation thinking" and the realization that idle funds remained plentiful. However, profit selling and lightening of commitments for the lengthy weekend—domestic exchanges will recess Monday for the observance of Independence day—retarded numerous pivotals after a fairly steady start.

Short covering, also for the holiday, helped balance offerings in the majority of cases. Specialized reinvestment demand was a factor and several utility preferreds and farm implements rose 1 to 3.

BOND LIST IS UNEVEN.

New York, July 2 (AP).—The bond market developed strong spots in most of the major groups today but the general market was uneven.

Measured by the Associated Press averages, rails and utilities declined, industrials and foreign issues advanced and the low-yields were unchanged.

The 1½ per cent government notes sold earlier in the week were fairly active in outside markets on a when issued basis. The notes sold around ½ point above the offering price of 100.

CHICAGO PRICES IRREGULAR.

Chicago Stock exchange prices yesterday were irregular on turnover of 65,000 shares. Volume leaders included Chicago corporation which reached a new high of 5¼, closing at 5½, up ¼; on trade of 26,250 shares. Armour & Co., set a new peak of 6, and closed up ¼ on trade of 10,250 shares. New highs also were set by Commonwealth Edison, Lincoln Printing, La Salle Extension, and 14 other issues.

MORE FURNACES RESUME DESPITE MINE WALKOUT

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 2 (AP).—The United States Steel corporation, the steel industry's largest producer, announced today that it had restored six more blast furnaces to operation in view of increasing supplies of coal dug by miners back at work after their third recent strike.

On the 12th day of the prolonged walkout about 97,000 of the nation's 521,000 miners were idle.

Reopening of the six furnaces left only five still inactive of the 37 that United States Steel has in the Pittsburgh area.

Regional directors of the government operated mines received instructions today from Carl E. Newton, deputy coal mine administrator, to "afford work" to the miners on Monday, the Independence day holiday, on the basis of time and one-half or rate and one-half.

Notice of Strike Filed.

Springfield, Ill., July 2 (AP).—In one of the first such moves under terms of the recently enacted anti-strike law, the United Mine Workers, district 50, served notice today that the 1,200 members it claimed would strike in two Allis Chalmers war plants in Springfield in 30 days if a collective bargaining dispute is not settled by then.

GAMBLE NAMED TO ORGANIZE 3D WAR LOAN DRIVE

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—Ted R. Gamble, assistant to Henry Morgenthau Jr., secretary of the treasury, will organize and direct the third war loan drive scheduled to start Sept. 9.

Morgenthau, in announcing Gamble's appointment as national director of the treasury department's war finance division, today said the Portland, Ore., theater owner had been affiliated with the bond sales organization here since December, 1941, when he became consultant to the treasury secretary.

STEEL SHARING FOR MIDWEST BEGUN BY WPB

Shortage Prospect Termed Serious.

The seriousness of a prospective steel shortage was emphasized yesterday at a meeting of 350 executives of the larger Chicago area steel using war plants and business firms in the Hotel La Salle. The conference with war production board, army, navy, and maritime commission representatives opened the midwestern section of a nation-wide WPB "share the steel" program to aid in averting a critical situation.

Charles Halcomb, assistant director of the distribution bureau of the WPB iron and steel division, said the seriousness of the problem was not generally realized, and many had the erroneous impression that steel is plentiful.

Priorities Termed Not Enough.

Halcomb said it was important to get the steel sharing program under way immediately because production usually declines in the third quarter of the year. He said WPB authorities decided on an appeal to steel users because the problem could not be solved solely by the priorities system.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, chief of the Chicago ordnance district, said the primary consideration in the war program is to provide more equipment and more men for the fighting fronts. Indicating the importance of steel to the war, he said 62 cents of every dollar spent by the district is for steel.

Under the sharing plan, steel users will be asked to draw upon their inventories to the lowest practical working level before ordering supplies from mills. A. T. Kearney, Chicago regional WPB director, said mills can divert steel to other users now facing serious shortages if this is done. He emphasized that users need not give up present inventories, but will be requested to cancel unnecessary orders.

Goal Is 2 Million Tons.

The program will seek to provide 2 million tons of steel in the next six months for various claimant agencies, including the army, navy, air forces, lend-lease, and essential industries. The Chicago WPB district, including nine counties in Illinois and five in Indiana, will be asked to provide 290,000 tons.

Kearney said claimant agencies were faced with a 7 million ton shortage, because they had asked for 23½ million tons of carbon and alloy steels, against a present supply of 16¼ million tons.

Among those attending the meeting were Fowler McCormick, president of the International Harvester company; C. A. Liddle, president of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company; George T. Horton, president of the Chicago Bridge and Iron company; Homer D. Sayre, commissioner of the National Metal Trades association; Sterling Morton, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, and Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Senators Demand Solution of Nation's Corn Problem

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—Middle western members in the senate today demanded action toward solving the price impasse which has kept a major part of the nation's corn on the farms and forced the closing of a number of commercial products plants for lack of grain.

Sen. Robert M. La Follette [Prog., Wis.] said the only solution appeared to be to let the price of corn rise.

"I can't understand why this thing is allowed to drag on for weeks," La Follette said. "Everybody talks about it but nobody does anything and, in my judgment, that is symptomatic of the entire confusion in the conduct of this war on the domestic front."

Lucas Opposes Seizure.

Sen. Scott Lucas [D., Ill.] said he "heartily agreed" with La Follette's assertion that "nothing more unfortunate could happen" than for the government to attempt to seize corn held on the farms as it has requisitioned some grain held in elevators.

"If the administration has any thought of attempting to requisition this corn on the farm I hope they will forget about it," Lucas said.

Lucas thought there would have to be an adjustment between corn and hog prices, by some means, to start the flow of the grain out of farmers' bins.

"It is a tragic error to say that to raise the price of corn would be inflationary," he said.

Sen. Hugh A. Butler [R., Neb.] said farmers could not be censured for holding their grain and feeding it to hogs, since they would obtain the equivalent to $1.32 a bushel that way and could get only $1.07 under the ceiling price on corn.

Lucas said if means could be found to release from 160 to 200 million of the more than 800 million bushels of corn reportedly held by farmers the plight of the processors would be alleviated.

"No argument can be made to show that raising the price of commercial corn would be inflationary at this time," he said.

Case in Missouri Described.

Sen. Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.] interrupted to describe a case in Missouri where he said a plant manufacturing corn meal was being forced to close down for lack of corn and asserted similar cases were in prospect as a result of "idiotic mismanagement" by the government.

"This corn situation is in an unpardonable mess," Clark said.

Rye Reaches Peak as Oats, Wheat Decline

Moderate selling of wheat and oats futures developed yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade in anticipation of the Presidential veto of the Commodity Credit corporation bill in which congress had voted to kill the subsidy program. Prices were slightly higher at the opening, but wheat closed off ¾ to 1¼ cents a bushel, and oats lost ⅛ to ⅛ cent.

July rye advanced 2½ cents to close at $1.05½, a new peak which was ¾ cent above the September future in contrast with a 1⅛ cent discount recently. Other rye futures were ⅝ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower.

Deliver 2½ Million Bushels.

Buying of July rye was attributed to cash interests and to purchases against sales of deferred deliveries. Deliveries of cash rye on July contracts have amounted to 2½ million bushels in the last three days.

Mills were aggressive buyers of wheat futures, but this was offset by an increase in hedging pressure. Brokers said cash wheat prices were 5 to 7 cents above the government loan figure, but that was said to be unsatisfactory to farmers and much grain was reported going into storage.

Distillers Purchase Wheat.

Distillers were reported to have purchased 2 million bushels or more of cash wheat in the southwest, and to be seeking more. The government was said to have notified distillers that they can pay up to parity price for wheat, about 15 cents above the market price.

Trading in grain futures on the board of trade during June was the heaviest in 12 months, commodity exchange administration figures disclosed. Turnover totaled 433,120,000 bushels against 323,704,000 bushels in May and 437,314,000 in June, 1942.

ENGEL REPORTS VAST PROFITS ON WAR ORDERS

Range Up to 53 Pct. After Tax, He Says.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—A one man war cost investigating committee, Rep. Albert J. Engel [R., Mich.], in his second public report to the house, charged today that corporate profits on war contracts ranged as high as 53 per cent after payment of taxes.

Rep. A. J. Engel.

Earlier this week the fast traveling and inquisitive Engel, a member of the appropriations committee, lambasted the administration for what he called encouragement of exorbitant wages in war factories.

Based on His Own Study.

His latest report was based, Engel said, on a personal study of the corporate earnings of 48 companies. It showed the net percentage earned, after taxes, per dollar market value of the stock, ranged from 5 to 53.88 per cent in 1942.

He charged that corporations figure their taxes as a part of the cost of production.

Even greater profits than those of the 48 corporations are made by others, whose principal capital is furnished by the government, either direct or thru the Defense Plant corporation, he declared.

"We find," Engel said, "these corporations earning a profit on a large government capital but distributing that profit to a small group of stockholders who have very little capital invested.

Refers to Jack & Heintz.

"This company was organized in November, 1940, with a capital stock structure consisting of 100 share no par stock for which four stockholders paid in $5 per share. They also paid in $99,500 in surplus. Thus we have four individual stockholders who have paid in $100,000 in capital and surplus.

"In 1942, after setting aside $173,680 for depreciation and obsolescence; after paying the three top officers $116,645 each; after giving a Christmas bonus of $944,300; after paying wages that, according to their statement, averaged an annual rate of $5,172 per employe, and after paying 6 million dollars in income and excess profits taxes, this company showed total 1942 earnings of $1,740,839 on an invested capital and paid in surplus of $100,000."

10 Millions Refunded.

Cleveland, O., July 2 (AP).—President William S. Jack of Jack & Heintz, Inc., producer of airplane parts, today said:

"In a spirit of coöperation we have refunded to the government, voluntarily and without renegotiation, in excess of 10 million dollars since last January.

"Further, we have reduced prices by from 30 to 40 per cent, thus saving the government about 36 millions annually.

NEW YORK BANK HOLDINGS OF U. S. SECURITIES RISE

More Peaks in Deposits and Resources Set.

New York, July 2 (AP).—Heavy increases in bank holdings of government securities were shown today in condition statements of many big New York City banks as of June 30.

Records were set by some in deposits and in total resources, and second quarter earnings generally were larger than a year ago.

Against the increase in government holdings was a decline in other investments, reflecting a decrease in new private financing.

Chase National bank reported deposits of $4,193,352,000 to maintain its position as the world's largest commercial bank. This compared with $4,203,291,000 on March 31 and $3,595,451,000 in mid-1942.

Total Resources Increase.

Chase's total resources were $4,482,606,000 against $3,869,464,000 a year ago. Net earnings during the second quarter were 77 cents a share, against 40 cents in the corresponding 1942 period. The bank showed an investment in government securities of $2,548,664,000 compared with $1,573,405,000 a year earlier.

National City bank, second largest, planned to issue its mid-year statement next week.

Guaranty Trust company of New York reported resources, deposits, and holdings of United States government obligations were the largest on record. Resources were $3,073,489,040 on June 30, compared with $3,015,473,615 on March 31. Deposits of $2,758,836,791 compared with $2,666,261,390, and holdings of federal obligations were $1,841,302,186 against $1,827,681,573.

Chemical Bank Reports.

Chemical Bank and Trust company, reported deposits of $1,108,817,308 and total assets of $1,203,538,173 on June 30, compared with $1,041,405,430 and $1,133,964,753, respectively, on March 31. Indicated net earnings were 69 cents a share during the second quarter, compared with 60 cents a year ago.

The Manufacturers Trust company said its resources on June 30 were $1,517,315,839, having passed the 1½ billion mark for the first time. On March 31 resources were reported at $1,443,510,368. Deposits of $1,416,802,430 compared with $1,344,604,197 at the end of the first quarter. Earnings for the quarter were $1.25 a share against 95 cents a year earlier.

Assets Show Gain.

Bank of the Manhattan company reported deposits of $927,757,070 against $862,797,079 at the end of the first quarter. Total assets of $992,917,208 compared with $917,464,330 March 31. Earnings were 35 cents a share for the quarter against 33 cents in the 1942 period.

J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc., had assets of $780,853,643 compared with $681,825,785 a year ago. Deposits totaled $730,258,725 against $633,335,602 a year earlier. Holdings of United States government securities of $518,857,917 compared with $356,217,254 at the end of June last year.

Investors' Guide

EMPLOYER.

Will the employers' return and remittance for victory tax withheld for the second quarter of 1943 include the amount withheld for a pay roll period extending into July? Should employers provide employes with form V-2, stating the amount of victory tax withheld, in July or should they wait until the end of the year as originally provided? —M. F.

Answer: The employer may include with his second quarter remittance any victory tax withheld for a pay roll period running over from June into July. The statement showing the amount of victory tax withheld need not be given to individual employes until Jan. 31, 1944, unless the employment is terminated earlier.

NO DIFFERENCE.

Not long ago the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing company declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on both the common and the class B stock. Please explain what this class B stock is.—J. A.

Answer: The class B and common stocks are now identical, altho some years ago the class B had preference over the common. General Motors corporation owns all of the common, and it is the class B that is listed on the New York Stock exchange.

ATTENTION MEN
WE NEED SKILLED MACHINE OPERATORS
Motiograph, the company that makes the equipment that puts movies on theater screens all over the world, needs some experienced men on day and night shifts to run drill presses, bench, engine, and turret lathes, hand and automatic screw machines, profiling and milling machines. Skilled mechanical assemblers too can be used.
Right now Uncle Sam is taking all our output, but when the war is over we will still be going full blast so the jobs we offer today will be good for a long time to come.
In our company an employe is a name and not a number, and supervisors—most of them up from the ranks—are friendly, helpful people.
The wages are good and go up as skill increases. The work week is 48 hours, 8 of them at time and one-half.
Come in and talk to Mr. C. Lade.

FOOTWEAR

STYLE AND DESIGN MAN

Leading Mid-west Mfr.

If you would like to get started in a permanent position with an excellent chance to go places now and after the war, this may be your opportunity. Our organization is one of the leaders in the footwear field—large enough to offer practically unlimited opportunities for advancement, but not so large that you'll lose your identity. Located in the middle west [not Chicago].

The man we are looking for is bet. 25-35, draft deferred, because this is a key position. He has good taste, ingenuity, and an eye to practical style trend. He is familiar with manufacturing procedure and has an art and designing background. He may have had some supervisory experience altho this is not absolutely necessary.

1. AGE.
2. DRAFT STATUS.
3. EXPERIENCE—SAMPLES OF YOUR WORK [NOT RETURNABLE].
4. OUTSIDE INTERESTS AND HOBBIES, AND EVERYTHING ELSE YOU FEEL IS PERTINENT.

This position offers out-of-the-ordinary opportunities to make a name for yourself in our organization. However if you can't meet these qualifications, please don't waste our time and yours by replying. If you can meet these requirements, better write at once, as the position will not be held open long. All replies in strict confidence.

Birth certificate and availability statement required.

BRENDA SENSES A FEELING OF PANIC AS SHE IS UNABLE TO GET ANY RESPONSE FROM THE EMINENT PLAYWRIGHT, TED JULIAN.
WHAT WILL I DO? I CAN'T JUMP OUT OF THE CAR. IT'S GOING TOO FAST!

WE HAVEN'T ANY PROOF YET THAT TED JULIAN HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH THE ATTEMPTED MURDER OF BRENDA.
NO, BUT A DRIVE IN THE PARK DOESN'T LAST THIS LONG!

MRS. JAMES H. RADFORD
7257 CONSTANCE AVE.

"I like to recommend Dean's to my friends and acquaintances"

said Mrs. James H. Radford. "I used another brand of milk for about four years," she continued, "and then, one day, I chanced to buy a quart of Dean's at a nearby grocer's. The difference was so marked that our family has been enthusiastically loyal to Dean's ever since. My daughter, for example, insists upon Dean's—and no other milk but Dean's.

"Unquestionably Dean's possesses a richer character and fresher flavor. No one can exactly describe it in words, but the sense of taste makes the comparison in a most unforgettable manner. Dean's is so pleasant to drink and so satisfying—it's a refreshing experience to discover it and enjoy its wholesome country delight."

Won't you, Tribune reader, try Dean's today? Trial is the only way you'll ever find out the healthful pleasure of milk that's bottled in the country with all the cream left in. And Dean's is homogenized, too, bringing your family this great benefit of modern dairy science.
